No Hint Given What Unexpected Session Is About; Truman Leaving Key West Vacation By Plane Today For Washington

By Ernest B. Vaccaro

Key West, Fla., Dec. 8.—(AP)—President Truman suddenly decided today to cut short his Florida vacation and fly back to Washington tomorrow for an important meeting with state department representatives and the joint chiefs of staff Monday.

Politicians in Washington noted that the president is hurrying back at a time when a house investigating committee is hammering away at widespread scandals in the nation's tax collection system.

With critics laying down a drumfire of denunciation, there has been talk that Mr. Truman may take some sweeping new action soon in an effort to prevent the charges of corruption from becoming a big issue in next year's campaign.

Perlmeter was asked the purpose of the sudden return.

"That's the purpose," he said, referring to his oral announcement.

"Are the Korean truce negotiations involved in the conference?"

Truce Delegates Still Deadlocked On Issues

By Sam Summerlin

Munsan, Korea, Sunday, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Allied and Red negotiators remained deadlocked Saturday on the issue of policing a Korean armistice, but the hard-bargaining stage seemed near.

There wasn't the slightest hint from Irving Perlmeter, assistant presidential press secretary, for the unexpected decision to leave here at 2 p.m. (E. S. T.) aboard the presidential plane, the "Independence."

Reporters covering Mr. Truman's activites here were notified shortly before 6 p.m., E. S. T., to report to the press room at the naval base for a news conference at 6:30.

Perlmeter walked into the conference room and announced:

"The president has decided to depart at 2 p.m. tomorrow in order to be in Washington for a meeting he has called for 10:30 Monday morning in the White House of the

VICTORY IS NEAR FOR RED FEATHER

Leaders Hope To Reach Goal Before End Of This Week

Full steam ahead will be the order of the day at Red Feather campaign headquarters Monday morning when drive leaders hope to write Victory in capital letters before the week is out.

Every indication is that the $67,100 goal can be reached this coming week if everyone will put his shoulder to the wheel and bring in his or her reports, drive leaders emphasized.

Campaign receipts are nearing the $50,000 mark and there are still many large firms with employe solicitation out as well as several hundred smaller units that represent in volume a good many thousands of dollars.

"We would like to close up our Virginia Hotel campaign headquarters within the next ten days," Co-Chairmen A. B. Clarkson and Evans Ethridge announced Saturday night in a joint statement appealing to all volunteer workers to bring in their accounts.

"We dislike to prolong the campaign any nearer the Christmas holidays than we can help and we hope for that reason that everyone concerned will respond to this call

Boggs Gains Support Of N. O. Item

New Orleans, Dec. 3. —(AP)— The New Orleans Item today announced its endorsement of U. S. Rep. Hale Boggs in the Louisiana Democratic gubernatorial primary Jan. 15.

The Item said: "We are supporting Boggs with enthusiasm and confidence. We are supporting Boggs with the absolute conviction that he is the best man to be our next governor."

The newspaper in an editorial said:

"Hale Boggs has been tested in public office. He has shown that the standards of a public official can be as high as those of the

F. B. I. MEETING HERE TUESDAY

Annual Law Enforcement Conference To Be In Post Office Building

The FBI will hold its annual law enforcement conference for Louisiana peace officers here Tuesday in the federal courtroom in the post-office building, it was announced yesterday by J. M. Lopez, special agent in charge.

Conducted annually by the FBI, the conference has been scheduled from 2 until 4 p.m.

More than 100 peace officers from all sections of the state and particularly in north Louisiana are expected to attend the conference.

Mr. Lopez stated that a film on identification and the prevalance of evidence will be shown in addition to discussions of the recent federal statute dealing with the inter-transportation of gambling devices.

It was pointed out by Mr. Lopez, that this will be the only FBI conference to be conducted in north Louisiana this year.

Peace officers throughout north Louisiana are urged to attend the conference, declared Mr. Lopez.

AGED WANDERER KILLED BY TRAIN

Robert Swindell Of Mississippi Is Completely Decapitated

The body of an aged wandered was found on the railroad tracks about 100 yards west of the Jewell street crossing in West Monroe Saturday morning, reported deputies of the Ouachita parish sheriff's department.

Deputies identified the man as Robert Swindell, between 60 and 70 years old, of Potts Camp, Miss. The identification was made by a social security card found on the dead man.

Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, attributed death to complete decapitation of the head from the body, fractured right arm and shoulder, left thigh and knee, and crushed chest. The head was found several feet from the body.

Deputies placed the time of death at around 1 a. m. when an east bound Missouri Pacific train crossed the tracks where Swindell was found. Crew men on a west bound train around 7 a. m. Saturday saw the body and notified authorities.

A knap sack was found near the body. Officers stated that the man was either attempting to board a train or leave it when the accident occurred.

The body was taken to Hall Funeral home. Services have not been arranged due to deputies conducting a search for relatives.

ST. FRANCIS BEGINS BUILDING PROGRAM

The first contract on the new additions to St. Francis Sanitarium was awarded this week and others are expected to be awarded in the near future. The architectural rendering above shows the Jackson street view of the hospital when it is completed. Plans for the structure are being prepared by Smith and Padgett, local architects.

St. Francis Gives $107,480 Contract

A $107,480 contract for the first new addition to be built at the St. Francis Sanitarium was awarded to Contractor W. C. Salley.

The St. Francis Sanitarium's building program was inaugurated Friday with the awarding of the first contract to the low bidder.

Other bids submitted on the project are as follows: Jesse F. Heard and Son, West Monroe, $114,362; J. A. Harper, Crowville, $125,659; Tudor Construction Company, Alexandria, $112,223.

The electrical work contract was awarded to McElroy-Moore Electric Company in West Monroe.

Unit No. 1, on which the contract was awarded, contains the kitchen, storage space, walk-in refrigerators, dish washing facilities, diet kitchen and dietitian's office and is

"Desk and Derrick," a sure enough unique club, that had its origin in New Orleans in 1949, comprising a group of working girls employed by oil and gas companies has grown so that now there are 13 units in the United States and two in Canada. A nation wide organization has resulted and the company officials are today almost as much interested as are the feminine club members themselves and there is complete cooperation between employer and employe.

All this is to form a prelude to what concerns Monroe. A club of this name and nature is to be formed here and the organization meeting is set for Hotel Virginia Tuesday at 8 p. m. when all girls employed by oil and gas companies are eligible and are quite urgently invited to be present and take part in the organization meeting. John Crump, with Southwest Gas in Monroe, will be the speaker. Nellie W. Walke is publicity chairman and a well - attended and enthusiastic meeting is anticipated.

Not every owner and operator of a super grocer business is equally interested in church affairs nor are there too many in this classification who incline to leadership in church work but Howard E. Butt, Jr., 24, and eager to achieve results is such an unusual young man, who will come to Monroe from his home city, Corpus Christi, Tex., where he is a big businessman and dynamic lay preacher in the Baptist Church and will address members of the Ouachita parish Training Union at the First Baptist Church Monday at 7:30 p. m.

Despite the demands upon him consequent upon his conducting of a large business enterprise, he finds time to participate in far-flung evangelistic campaigns in cities of a half dozen or more states. He has appeared thus in Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Chattanooga, Nashville, New Orleans, Birmingham, Atlanta and Roanoke, not to mention Hawaii

McLemore In Local Rally

PARISH MEDICAL SOCIETY TO MEET

Banquet And Election Of Officers Set For Tuesday Night

Dr. R. B. Robins, president-elect of the Academy of General Practice, will address the Ouachita Parish Medical Society at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at their annual banquet at the Rendezvous.

In addition to the address by Dr. Robins the society will elect its officers for the coming year.

"Medicine in this Changing World" will be discussed by Dr. Robins. It was pointed out by the Ouachita Parish Medical Society, that Dr. Robins should prove an interesting speaker since he has not limited himself to the field of medicine but has been an active participant in politics and civic affairs.

Dr. Robins is now serving his second term as Democratic national committee man from Arkansas, and is the only doctor on the committee. He has held a number of offices in local, state and national organizations, including the Lions Internatiional.

He received his B. S. degree from Hendrix College, his master's and M. D. from the University of Chicago, the latter in 1925. After an internship at the Norwegian-American Hospital, Chicago, he entered medical practice at Camden, Ark. He now heads the Robins Clinic which he founded. He is also professor of medical economics at the University of Arkansas school of medicine.

Among his professional honors are Fellow of American College of Surgeons, past vice - president of the American Medical Association, and past president of the Arkansas Medical Society. In 1950 he was elected vice-president of the American Academy of General Practice and is now speaker of the Congress of Delegates of the American Academy of General Practice.

BARING RELIEF ROLLS BANNED

Shreveport Times Seeks Permission To Inspect Welfare Lists

Shreveport, Dec. 8.—(Special)—Although congress recently removed the federal ban on publication of state welfare rolls, Louisiana law still bans publicity in any form, W. H. Kilpatrick of Jonesboro, chairman of the welfare board, has informed the Shreveport Times.

Mr. Kilpatrick's statement came in a letter in reply to a request from the Times for permission to assign a reporter to a study of welfare cases in selected parishes to determine to what extent — if any—chiselers may be on the rolls and whether genuinely needy cases are receiving maximum possible aid from the $116,000,000 available annually for Louisiana welfare work, of which approximately $100,000,000 per year is being spent. The Times volunteered to keep secret the identity of persons whose cases were investigated.

Originally, federal law barred states from federal welfare funds unless state secrecy on the welfare rolls was established. The recent session of congress provided that states may permit publication — inspection — of welfare rolls provided information thus obtained is not used for political or commer-

Three Hurt In Bonita, La. Tornado

Bastrop, La., Dec. 8. — (Special) —A small tornado twisted an ugly path through Bonita today, leaving a number of homes damaged, trees uprooted and display windows in the business district shattered.

Three Negro children were injured slightly.

The storm struck at about 3 p.m. from the southwest.

A witness said extensive damaged was inflicted on several homes in the path of the tornado and power and communication service was out for more than three hours.

Windows in the business section were smashed, but an estimate on the damage was not given.

Bonita, a small town of about 400 residents, is 20 miles northeast of Bastrop.

MANY WRITE TO GOOD FELLOWS

Letters Received From Children Whom Santa Might Miss

Letters from children, who will not be visited by Santa Claus without the aid of the Good Fellows fund, are arriving daily.

Good Fellows donations:

Balance forwarded:	$938.65
Michael Leverne Arnold	2.50
Sherron Dee Riddick	2.50
Dr. and Mrs. Bert Heinberg	5.00
Ouachita Valley Camp No. 10 Building Corporation	10.00
John and Mayme Bailey	20.00
H. E. Conn, Sicily Island	5.00
Total	$983.65

One young fellow, who has visions of a Merry Christmas, wrote Santa Claus saying that he had been a good boy this year and would Santa please bring him a pistol. Another young lad from Logtown writes that he loves Santa Claus and that if any skates are left after all the other children have received their gifts he would like to have a pair.

A letter comes from a mother who has a family of ten to support on $99 a month. She states that she would appreciate anything which the Good Fellows could do in helping she and her family have a happy Christmas.

The letters are ones of want from the children who have hopes of Santa arriving at their homes on Christmas morning. The Good Fellows fund is getting higher every day, but a larger amount is necessary in order to give many needy children a Merry Christmas.

Seek Extradition Of Two Tallulah Men

Vicksburg, Miss., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Two Dallas men who gave their professions as gamblers are being held under $4,000 bond in the burglary of Marshall Smith's apartment at his tourist court here. Also extradition proceedings have been launched for two other men at Tallulah, La., in connection with another theft at the establishment, Sheriff J. H. Henderson said today.

Charles R. Archer, 42 and Robert E. Braggin, 29, entered not guilty pleas at a habeas corpus proceeding before County Judge Ben Guider yesterday. A preliminary hearing was set for Dec. 22.

They were arrested at Tallulah and waived extradition to answer the charges here, Sheriff Henderson said.

They are being held in connection with the theft of an undisclosed amount of money from the apartment of Smith, owner of the Plaza Tourists Courts. While Smith was away from home on Nov. 23 his apartment was entered, the safe pried open and the money taken.

Sheriff Henderson said he had issued a warrant for James (Houdie) Edwards and "Blondie" Walker of Tallulah in connection with the theft of $700 from a woman guest at the establishment on Nov. 28. Extradition proceedings will be instigated against them, he said.

Reports Are Received On United Evangelistic Meets

Climax Will Come This Afternoon At Neville Auditorium

The nine districts of the Methodist Church participating in the Arkansas - Louisiana United Evangelistic Mission have made final reports on the results of six days of preaching and lay evangelistic visitation. A total of 5,550 people were received into the Methodist churches, 2,446 of this number on profession of faith and 3,104 by transfer.

Eleven thousand, eight hundred, forty-one visitors made 16,892 visits, and an aggregate church attendance of 156,342 was recorded.

The Monroe district, under the leadership of District Superintendent Rev. W. H. Giles reports 683 accessions to the church with 249 on profession of faith and 434 by transfer. The compiled church attendance was 20,512.

Highly significant is the fact that the United Evangelistic Mission obtained the desired result of getting people to go to church plus the accomplishment of taking Christ and His church to thousands of people who did not go to church. The many men and women and young people who made up the "teams" testify to the great good they experienced as they went out to the people.

The climax of this great week comes this afternoon at Neville High School auditorium when several thousand people from all over the Monroe district will converge on Monroe at 3 p.m. to hear the results of the campaign and to listen to Dr. W. B. Selah, pastor of Galloway Memorial Methodist Church, Jackson, Miss.

A hymn service, featuring Mr. Homer Cook, of the Gordon Avenue Methodist Church of Monroe, will precede the special music which will be furnished by the choirs of First Methodist Church and the Gordon Avenue Methodist Church of Monroe. Pianist for the service is Miss Dorothy Zeagler, First Methodist Church, Monroe.

Ushering will be in the charge of Mr. Norman Rushing, Monroe, who will direct the lay-leaders of the various churches of this district. Mr. Rushing is the Monroe district lay leader.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Big Tanks Protect Army Engineers

British Troops, Engineers Defying Egyptians; Bridge Almost Finished

By Fred Zusy

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Tough British troops, supported by five big army tanks, demolished an Arab village at Suez today to make way for a new road and bridge. An expected battle with the Egyptians failed to materialize.

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Tough British troops, backed by five big Centurion tanks bulldozed htrough an Arab village at Suez today for a new road and bridge despite Egyptian orders to police to resist by force.

Fully expecting a battle, parachute troops backed up army engineers assigned to knock down the village of mud huts. But they fund the place deserted except for two or three donkeys, some chickens and a stray dog, the British said.

Interior Minister Fuad Serag El Din issued a communique soon after 1 p. m., saying Egyptian police had "advanced to execute Egyptian government orders to stop by force" the demolition. The communique said the advance began at noon.

But a British spokesman in Cairo said there had been no contact between British troops and Egyptian police up to 5:30 p. m., when work stopped for the night. He said the greater part of the construction job was done and would be finished Sunday.

Gen. Sir George Erskine, commander of British troops in the canal zone, ordered the village razed so a bridge and 500 - yard stretch of road could be built to by-pass a dangerous spot where clashes four days ago resulted in 61 reported dead. The new road links the British garrison area with the rear of a water filtration plant, and involves construction of a bridge across the narrow Sweetwater canal.

Gen. Erskine said he ordered the road constructed because he wanted to avoid any unnecessary friction with the Egyptians. He said the Egyptians would be paid for destroyed houses.

Estimates of the number of houses to be demolished and Egyptians displaced varied. The Egyptians said 75 houses and 2,000 persons were involved. The British said about 50 huts and 200 persons.

Last night, after an emergency cabinet meeting, Serag El Din announced the local authorities had been ordered to resist the destruction.

"Instructions have been given to Egyptian police in Suez to resist by force if necessary any attack or aggression against the population," he said.

He said Foreign Minister Ibrahim Farag Pasha informed British Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson of the order. U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffrey also was summoned to the foreign office and told of the situation.

A British spokesman said the Editorials and Comment

Dr. Jekyll And Mr. Hyde

In the trial of the first of five newspapermen accused at Lake Charles of defaming the characters of public officials and gamblers, the "injured" feelings of District Attorney Griffin Hawkins plainly were sticking out a mile when he testified that Kenneth L. Dixon, managing editor of the Lake Charles American Press had "needled" him in a newspaper column for nearly a year.

Among Hawkins' statements were the following:

"I used to gamble but I haven't for years. I drink when I want to but that is my personal life.

"I have been continuously needled about my official actions.

"My personal life is one thing and my official life is another."

As anyone who will give the matter close attention knows, it is exceedingly difficult for one to disassociate his personal life from his official or business life. There are many employers who give their employes wide freedom in their personal life, but within our long experience we have never known an individual employer or an employing firm which gave its employes absolute permission to commit any crime or malfeasance they might desire so long as these offenses did not occur on working time. It is well known that an employe may injure his firm's reputation and may hurt its business by acts he commits while off duty.

Actually no one can completely separate his personal life from his official or business life and he must carry some responsibility for his personal life into the firm for which he works, into the business he may conduct or into the public office he may hold. This is true even for an employe who works assigned hours and who has the remainder of the time he may call his own.

Vastly more is it true of a public official who has no assigned hours. President Truman is not president eight hours a day and then free to do as his personal whims and passions might dictate for the next 16 hours. Governor Earl K. Long is not governor for any restricted number of hours daily but for every hour and every minute of the day. District Attorney Griffin Hawkins is not district attorney eight hours a day and an irresponsible man the other 16 hours, even though he might like to be.

In the story of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, one was able to be all good when he was Dr. Jekyll and all bad when he was Mr. Hyde but no real human being has ever been able to accomplish that. If a man is dishonorable during the time he calls his own he will carry that dishonor into his office, business or position, and if he is honorable during working hours he will carry his honor with him into his job.

In Calcasieu parish, the newspaper and its officials and a number of other groups were attempting to stamp out gambling and wanted the cooperation of the district attorney and other parish officials. They stated they did not get this cooperation. As a result of persistent efforts by the newspaper workers and officials to induce the parish officials to stop gambling, the district attorney, Mr. Hawkins, felt that he was being "needled," when actually he may merely have been reminded frequently that he was not enforcing the laws he had sworn he would enforce. He felt he was outraged but he may have been merely enraged at being reminded he was not doing his duty.

In the Bible there is a story of a man who went, late at night, to the home of a neighbor and asked to borrow a loaf of bread. The neighbor was in bed with his children and did not want to be disturbed. Finally, after much insisting, he did get up and let the man have the bread, not because he wanted to but because of "much asking." It is probably true that the Lake Charles newspapermen did "much asking" that gambling conditions be stopped, but that does not necessarily mean that those who were often asked were defamed.

There is one thing that puts the newspapermen at a disadvantage in the Lake Charles trial. They are being tried by officials whose positions correspond to those of the parish officials allegedly offended. One is naturally more inclined to see the side of fellow workers than those in other fields. However, if the newspapermen should be convicted, it is entirely likely that the United States supreme court will make the final decision.

Next Six Months Will Tell

European defense may fairly be said to be entering the critical 200 days. Up to now the story has been organization and planning. But the creation of a really effective fighting force cannot be longer delayed if the program is to serve its prime purpose of deterring Russian aggression.

At Rome the North Atlantic Treaty nations took further decisions on their objectives, including the establishment of a unified European army as part of the larger N. A. T. O. force.

This ought to mark the end of the heavy paper work. There are clear signs that the N. A. T. O. powers themselves realize that the need now is for action. The six countries which would participate in the European army—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—have set April 1, 1952, as a target date when plans should begin to be spelled out as well-equipped combat units in the field or in reserve.

Before that can happen, several major obstacles must be hurdled:

1. The proposals for the six-nation European army must be approved by each member government and then ratified by their respective parliaments.

2. Since this army will in effect be responsible to a supranational authority which will pay and arm it from a common budget, national constitutions of the participating countries will probably have to be changed to allow this yielding of sovereignity.

3. A new "peace contract" will have to supersede the occupation statute in West Germany if that nation is to enter the defense organization on a relatively equal footing. That contract, of course, will have to win approval in the German legislature.

4. The N. A. T. O. council's temporary committee must weigh the respective contributions envisioned for each member against that country's economic capabilities. Where the economy cannot support the projected contribution, a scaling down may follow. Then adjustments would be needed to bring the whole force once more in balance on a somewhat lower level.

Until all of these steps are taken, the defense of Europe of necessity will remain in the hands of a relatively small number of N. A. T. O. divisions including half a dozen U. S. units. Fortunately, they are backed by the combined power of Allied sea and air arms, and by the incalculable force of our atomic weapons. The ground units alone are plainly insufficient to dissuade a determined aggressor. General Eisenhower stressed this at Rome.

So the next few months will tell us and our prospective enemies a great deal about the earnestness of the N. A. T. O. defense effort. If by April or May it is still snarled in constitutional red tape, if the members are still arguing about their various contributions and their ability to bear them, then any impartial onlooker may be forgiven for doubting that they mean business.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

CHARITY

During this month of December, the mailman — one delivery a day —brings bags of appeals for funds for a vast variety of charities. Obviously in these days of high taxes, one unfortunately must give much less than the heart dictates.

Once upon a time, it was said that chairty was going to be rationed in such a manner that it would be possible to give only once a year to a big fund that would parcel out all the gifts on an efficient and rational basis.

That scheme has failed. For not only have the big funds multiplied in number and variety but there are still many institutions, and their numbers increase, which make their annual appeals independently of Community Chests and federations of welfare organizations.

My wife and I long ago decided that we would refuse to be pressured by drives. Except in matters of personal emergencies, we give to organized charity only at the end of the month of December. By then, we can know what high taxes and inflation have left us for the pleasure of good works.

We look over our lists of past contributions and we screen all the circulars and fine printing we have received during the year and we divide our charity fund according to our judgment and our conscience. Maybe by this process, we avoid the professional collectors.

It is difficult for me to contribute to the big funds because within them are hidden many institutions, organizations and social workers whom I dislike or even oppose. I refuse to contribute to any organization which has even remote connections with Communists or on whose paid staff is a person with a Communist record.

The appeal for big funds holds that it all averages out. But virtue cannot be average; it is absolute. It is governed by the natural law revealed to man by God. At any rate, that is what, in our family, we believe. Therefore we prefer to give directly without the intermediary of the big fund.

Charity is a free - will offering at the altar of God. Maybe the giving of charity is an atonement for glutonny, excesses, fallibilities, shame. Or maybe it is an acknowledgment of our blessings, life, liberty, health, even happiness. Such acts call for no thanks, no applause, no recognition.

And so we give our mite to such institutions and causes as we love or respect. Recently, I had a sad experience. I made an appeal for funds for a favored charity — a Roman Catholic but non - sectarian institution for men who had slipped off the road of life. Many wrote me asking how I, a Jew, could beg for a Catholic institution. That saddened me. For begging should know no such distinctions. Begging is, of itself, an act of humility, which we all need so much in this life.

My son recounted a tale at lunch which brought the worth of humility close to me. He had taken his lunch to school, only to discover that he again had been given peanut butter sandwiches of which he had tired. Opening his package, he threw the sandwiches into the waste-paper basket.

His Latin teacher, apparently a man of character, upbraided the boy, told him of the hungry who would regard such sandwiches as manna from heaven. He asked the boy to reclaim those sandwiches and to eat them.

The boy refused. He said that the sandwiches were dirty, having been in the waste - paper basket.

Then the teacher took the "dirty" sandwiches from the waste-paper basket and ate them.

Such acts of humility remain with a child for life. They represent education by example. They open the child's mind to the virtues of charity and humility. No man is too great to beg for good causes or too poor to give to them.

Each man and woman must give as he can and thinks right. Our method is for our family; it is neither the wisest nor the most acceptable pattern. So, others will find patterns of givng which are more suitable to their ideas and their way of living.

But each one should give, even the smallest child. There is no substitute for charity. The other day in Washington, I saw people with badges representing some kind of public welfare. I could not help feeling how weak that phrase is compared with that noble, age-old word, charity — which is derived from love.

CHILEAN CHRISTMAS

Santiago, Chile —(AP)— A white Christmas is going to have tough competition from the local type of Yuletide this year in Santiago.

Plans are under way for a festive celebration in a local park. Stalls sponsored by the Embassies of different countries will bring the traditional Old World touch to an occasion which will take place in mid-summer heat.

Cotton snow and paper mache reindeer is the best that can be produced.

The traffic through several of the main streets in the downtown area is diverted, and colored lights are strung across the streets from the buildings. Crowds stroll along in the evenings, enjoying a breath of air and perhaps feeling cooler for having seen the shop displays with cotton wool powered with boracid, and the warm-clad Santa Claus.

FLOODGATES OF SPENDING

There are those who think that the reason Russia is not inclined to go to war with the United States now is that she believes we shall spend ourselves into destruction in the course of time and her ends will be gained without the necessity of fighting.

There is plenty of reason for believing that such a theory is valid. It is a well-known fact — well-known at least to students of economics and political science — that one of the surest ways to destroy a nation is to destroy its economy. And one of the surest ways of destroying its economy is for a nation to indulge in extravagant spending, living beyond its income and ignoring its debts.

We had a candidate running for the office of president of the United States in 1932 who said this, "Any nation, like any family, can for a year or so spend more than it earns, but you and I know that a continuance of that habit means the poor house." Those were as true words as were ever spoken — yet we have ignored them ever since. In fact, we have ignored them so long without apparent disaster that there are those who now believe we can ignore them forever. Such is not the case. We had accumulated vast resources of wealth in this country by the time we started on this spending spree twenty years ago, wealth that would last quite a while even at the rate we have been spending it. Our capacity to produce and replace destroyed material goods is also enormous, and that has helped to delay the final reckoning.

But there is a limit to all things —and there is a limit to our own resources. For twenty years we have been living to a large extent off accumulated wealth, we have been living on borrowed money, we have been "eating our seed corn." Now this spending orgy is reaching a climatic furore that makes many thoughtful people wonder if our economy is not near the breaking point. And well they might give pause — because we can be quite sure if our economy is destroyed, our way of life will go along with it.

Our present administration, in the six and one-half years of its existence, has taken a total of approximately $280,000 million in federal taxes from the people. This compares with a total of $248,000 million in taxes taken by the federal government in all the 156 years of our national existence from 1789 to 1945.

In 1939 our federal taxes amounted to $5,103 million. It is estimated that federal taxes for the next fiscal year will amount to approximately $70,000 million.

Even at our current high rate of taxation, it is now estimated that the federal deficit for the next fiscal year will be about $10,000 million; in other words, that our expenditures will amount to not less than $80,000 million. That's roughly eight times the amount spent in 1939; it's about $2,050 for every family in the land, compared with $265 in 1939. It's about $500 for every person in America, compared with only $68 per person in 1939.

To balance the budget next year would require additional taxes totaling $10,000 to $12,000 million. Yet taxes are so high now that there is considerable apprehension that we are "killing the goose that lays the golden egg." Taxes are so high that they are killing the incentive to produce — the one main factor that has brought this nation to its present position of power and that has brought the American people the highest standard of living the world has ever known.

Yet our national debt, which we have made no effort to pay and which we apparently expect to bequeath to our children, now stands at better than $259,000 million, compared with $255,000 million last June 30th. There is every prospect it will continue to climb and climb.

We desperately need a return to economic sanity in this country before it is too late. The flood gates of spending must be closed.

Notebook

New York —(AP)— Why didn't someone blow a bugle at Pearl Harbor ten years ago and wake up America?

One of the sidelights on that catastrophe is the odd fact that at least one soldier blew four bugle calls on that historic day.

What was the call he blew just before the Japanese struck in the greatest surprise American arms ever suffered? It was a summons to a religious service.

"I had just finished blowing church call that morning when it happened," said Bill O'Brien, 32, now a bartender at Moriarty's Chop House on West 51st street.

Bill, who later became a sergeant and a machine gun man in the fight-back Pacific days, was only a private then. He recalls his bugle blowing as only an episode that was personally less dangerous than later frontline service.

He got the job only because, as he says, some years before a retired army colonel passed around some free bugles among the kids in his neighborhood and he tested one until he could blow the calls well.

"As a bugler of the guard there in Hawaii I had a 24-hour duty trick," he recalled. "I blew taps the night before, then napped with friends running the guardhouse."

He said he had become a bugler after he volunteered for it because there were too many men there without enough equipment and "I got tired of knocking off the top of hills because there was nothing else to do."

So, as Bill puts it, he warmed up his lips again on the bugle.

On this December morning of international destiny it was the end half of his second day on bugle guard. (Woke from his nap and was lucky to breakfast on two fried eggs.

"They were gold then," he said. "Some guys got up and ate them and went back to bed. I blew the four - note call for attention, the gun boomed, the flag went up.

"It was a beautiful sight. If there ever was a fort run right — that was it. It was a wonderful morning, fair and clear, and in Hawaii it is usually raining. It is fantastic now — when I think of that morning."

After blowing reveille, his second lip job, O'Brien had nothing to do until 7 a. m. Then he blew church call, and the silver notes said to the soldiers:

"Go to church if you care,
"Do the right if you dare.
"Some folks go to church to sing and pray.
"Others to hear the preacher's say,
"Many for they were raised that way,
"Go, all are welcome there."

Then O'Brien, waiting to sound a second church call, went into a building of his own coast artillery outfit, whose weapons were 50 caliber machine guns. He was writing a letter to a schoolmate and the building started to vibrate. He Sigmund Romberg, one of America's greatest composers, passed the other day. The Paper Mill Playhouse ad in last Sabbath's N. Y. Times, announcing his famed operetta, "The Desert Song," mentioned everyone connected with it except Romberg. . .Doris Day is top banana in "I'll See You in My Dreams," but Danny Thomas' exploiters never mention her. . .Ann Sothern, the star of "Faithfully Yours" refused to take a cut to keep the show going. So it may not. . .Not all the London critics were disappointed in "South Pacific." Variety's London agent reported that Rodgers & Hammerstein "make them feel like amateurs" in the musical comedy dep't . . .Mary Pickford's deal (ending her 19-year retirement) involves her getting a percentage of the gross — in return for supplying a chunk of the investment. . .B'way's biggest sign will be on the Rialto roof for "Jungle Headquarters." 230 ft. long, 58 ft. tall. . .Joyce Mathews, a colored thrush, will cash in on her namesake's page 1 publicity.

William Saroyan's relative (Ross Bagdasarian, composer of "C'Mona My House"), who quit the playwright after a tiff, has since written a bored - husband song tagged: "He Says Mm-Hmm". . .C. Mills, who wrote "It Was Wonderful Then and It's Wonderful Now" (recorded by Lombardo and Glenn Miller over 10 years ago), has attorneys after the writers of "Sin." He alleges it's too close to his tune. . . Morey Amsterdam's latest record is "Sue Me." His last click ("Rum and Coca-Cola") got him into the courts where he lost. . .Publicity is wonderful. Every member of NBC's "Your Show of Shows" has his own p. a., including the orchestra leader. . .A large lawsuit is due. Two comedy writers versus Martin & Lewis and their teevy network. They will allege they were hired by the comics' writers to ghost material used without giving them biiling. . .Ghosts hiring ghosts!

Long runs on Broadway help increase the population. Of the 21 men in "South Pacific" (which plays its 1000th perf on the 15th) 20 are married and most have families. The lone bachelor is Sidney Armus. He plays the "Professor". Armus. He plays the "Professor'.. He is desperately looking for The Right Girl. Of the dozen in the show eleven are brides. . .Billy Rose threatened to chop down the locked docr of his Beekman Place mansion — but this is why he didn't Eleanor had hung his favorite Rembrandt on its back. . .From the Dec. Screen Guide: "Zsa Zsa Gabor, lovely wife of George Sanders, lightly tosses off rumors of trouble between them." Oooppsss!. . .But we had one too. Local police do take fingerprints of petty larcenists, which was listed as a flaw in the flim, "Detective Story". . . You Figger It Out: During the past two seasons 4 shows received almost unanimous raves and were quick flops. The longest running straight play in town attracted only so-so notices. "Affairs of State."

All top night spots in town are being checked for racial discrimination. The checkers work in teams of two mixed couples, with a Negro duo trying to get in first, followed by a white pair with no reservation. Negro reporters from other cities have been brought into the survey. They have been given as much as $300 "for tips, bribes and expenses." . . . Lawyers are advising big bookies to avoid the horns of the gambling tax dilemma, which hits them with a federal rap if they do not apply for a license and gets them on a local count if they do. Their only out is to establish legal residence in Nevada where gambling is legal. Then apply for the federal license in that state. They can then operate in their home territory without fear of a federal case, taking their risks on escaping local entanglements.

Tennessee Williams' new two playbill, "Camino Real," is budgeted at $110,000. Elia Kazan will direct, Jerome Robbins may do the incidental dances, Jo Mielziner will design the sets, and Lucinda Ballard will create the frocks. It is all such a top-drawer production that prospective investors are told they cannot read the scripts and cannot see a breakdown of the costs. Some fun for the investor. . . . Bob Kennedy, who sang the lead in "Oklahoma," has a straight role in "A Month of Sundays." Richard Kiley, who will thrush the lead, was a dramatic thesp. . . . Youthful Robert Webber (an obscure player) almost won the lead opposite Paulette Goddard in a film overseas. He lost it to Richard Ney, once wed to Greer Garson. Paulette turned Webber down. Too youthful, she said. Oddly enough, he looks older than Ney, who appeared opposite Ruth Hussey and Madeleine Carroll in "Goodbye, My Fancy," and both gals are "more seasoned" than La Goddard.

Witnesses to early rehearsals of "Pal Joey" report that the dance routines will be greattt. Robert Alton is doing them. He says he has girls "using muscles Agnes De Mille never dreamed of." The producer of it (J. Styne) is said to be frantically trying to complete financing the show. Stylne, a hit songwriter, recently borrowed $20,000 from his music publisher to invest in it. . . . Doris Ruby is Cafe Society's current dancing star —the first they've hired in ages. . . . The chap who does the cough drop commercials on "Cavalcade of Stars" is Walter Woolf King. He starred in a great Broadway hit, "Maytime," and many pictures. . . . Then the:• Harry Belafonte, a new song star at Village Vanguard, who was a waiter in a hamburger spot only four months ago.

"Quo Vadis," set in ancient Rome, has a cast of British accents — except Robert Taylor, American. . . . Shelley Winters an Oscar for her frankness. Of the publicity - romance with F. Granger, she admitted: "It's better publicity if we don't marry." . . . NBC is trying to ignore what must be the record all-time protest mail on the shaving to 15 mintes of "Kukla, Fran & Ollie." Every radio historian has complained, too. . . . 20th Century-Fox argues that the Rommel film "was produced with full authority of the state dept." Their approval is hardly a recommendation. They approved loans to the Fascists—appeased Communists and ok'd the release of Nazi war criminals. . . . Talented Dave Garroway's new program will be telecast between 7 and 9 a.m. It should attract a large audience of roosters . . . . Quotation Marksmanship from a Greer Garson film: "She used to be incredibly pure. Now she's purely incredible."

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, December 8. — I was mildly amused the other day by an editorial in one of the Hollywood trade papers. The writer, analyzing the reasons for the poor business being done by far too many pictures, came up with the conviction that American movie - makers have been forgetting the "special interests of women." He said that the studios have been shocking the "gentler sex" by concentrating on "masterpieces of terror and violence, which undoubtedly have thrills for men, but only shudders for women."

I'd like to introduce the man who wrote that line to the publishers of our goriest detective magazines. Those publishers would tell him that women are their best customers and the most avid readers of blood and thunder "literature."

I'd also like to take the man who wrote the editorial to a few wrestling matches. There, he would quickly discover that it is precisely the women who shout the loudest for blood and mayhem.

Finally, I'd like to have him read, with an eye to the emotional reactions of the aforesaid gentler sex, a few passages from history. He'd discover that, down through the ages, terror and violence have had considerable attraction for the femmes. All of the contemporary Roman writers depict the gals of ancient Latium as the most enthusiastic fans at gladiatorial conflicts, and the most vociferous rooters when the wild beasts were loosed on victims in the coliseum. The man who was captured by American Indians worried less about the cruelty of the warriors than he did about the fiendish behavior of the squaws, who were rated as the real experts at torture. When heads were falling like October leaves during the Reign of Terror in France, the most furious of the revolutionaries were women. Nor did the scenes of bloodshed seem to appal the ladies who took their knitting to the Place de la Revolution and exchanged gossip as heads fell in the basket.

Please, ladies, don't write me nasty letters about it, but I have a suspicion that Kipling, who opined that "the female of the species is deadlier than the male," was shrewder than the writer of that trade paper editorial.

BASCOM TIMMONS

No team looks very good when it's losing and perhaps that can be applied politically to the Truman administration at the moment. But the analogy can be carried a bit further. Comparing the administration difficulties to the heat now being turned on college football, there's shocking evidence of poor coaching, illegal recruiting, subsidizing, inattention to signals, faulty quarterbacking and almost a total lack of good ball carrying.

Of course it is much more serious than a game — so serious that the fix in which the president finds himself will inevitably get worse instead of better, and the house cleaning of demonstrated pipsqueaks and chiselers will have to be extended to include some persons of real consequence.

Actually the administration looks pretty helpless from this close range, but those who hope for better things in government can always dream, and this might be the time that President Truman could demonstrate the qualities of selflessness that a number of his predecessors have unexpectedly shown.

To bring that down to earth, he would have to get rid of some of his closer associates, who have proved to be weak reeds, and pull up to the first team, or to the ball carrying spots, men who will not only carry the housecleaning to completion, but by that action enable the president to take credit for being fearless and forthright. And most of those who think along those lines are convinced that after that, he ought to announce that he will not run again.

That housecleaning program could be turned over to an advisory committee of some Democrats who, working more or less in the background, have handled big jobs as men of ability and integrity should. They are such men as Lindsay Warren of North Carolina, comptroller general of the U. S., one of the biggest jobs in government; Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman of Colorado, who has never had an administrative or political assignment which he did not handle ably; Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, speaker of the house of representatives; and Vincent Dailey, former Democratic state chairman of New York, not widely known but highly thought of in party circles.

That would be a gesture which few men in the president's position would be big enough to make, but if made with a strong and firm hand, it could regain him a considerable measure of popular esteem, and put the Democratic party in a much better position for the 1952 campaign. And it would spare him the humiliation of turning to this opponents in the Democratic party for help, which it is doubted here that he would ever do.

Stern and unorthodox moves now seem in order to save the Truman administration from a degree of disintegration which would presage defeat for the Democratic party. Even if the Truman opposition were to seize control of the Democratic convention — which seems very possible at this time, — enough damage could be done between now and next July to make a comeback impossible. Right now the administration, according to every report received here, is taking on water so fast that some of its adherents are crying "man the lifeboats". It's a sad awakening from the bliss of three months ago, when the president was happily defiant of his enemies, and the bets were odds on that he would run again.

Unfortunately fumbling instead of a calm estimate of the damage seems to be the order of the day. Frank McKinney, the political unknown who took over the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee with a call for a housecleaning and the discharge of several efficient employes of the committee who did not have the right political backing, immediately ordered 15,000 engraved personal Christmas cards — not the cheapest grade — which the committee will pay for, and hired both radio and television time for his own speech at a fund raising dinner of the Democratic national committee in New York City. Between them these outlays probably wiped out any economy from reduction of the committee staff.

There is a growing murmur from alarmed Democrats here that the president, after really revamping his administration personnel, should step aside without any attempt to nominate his successor. That is the only way, veteran political observers reason, that possibilities like Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, or any of half a dozen others could be brought forth to put the Jeffersonian party on the road again.

What Others Say

EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

BRITAIN AND EUROPE

Most editors are greatly disturbed by western Europe's lack of progress toward economic and political cooperation and creation of a European army. A very large minority of editors fears that no effective progress will be made in these plans without direct British participation in them. But the majority view is that the continental nations of western Europe can, and should, proceed, as originally planned, on the basis of close British "association" with European unity moves. The hope of most editors is that, in time, such British association will amount, in practice if not in name, to direct participation.

San Francisco (Calif.) Chronicle (Ind.-Rep.): "The Rome conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ended without having made any significant progress toward the vital objective of bringing into being a European army. As in the case of the Schuman plan for economic cooperation, the main stumbling block in the path of this plan for military integration was Britain. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden indicated that, while Britain will cooperate closely with the proposed supranational army, it will not provide troops to participate in it."

New York Times (Ind. - Dem.): "It has long since become clear that Britain. . .will not go much beyond helpful 'association' with the rest of Europe. . .This was the basis on which both the European army and the Schuman plan have been projected. It has also been the basis to which discussions of European federation have had to be limited. . .Britain consideres herself to be a separate member of the Atlantic community, rather than the European community, and to suggest, as M. Reynaud did. . . that British participation in the European army may become a condition for its realization would be to doom the whole project."

Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal (Ind. - Dem.): "General Eisenhower is convinced that western Germany should contribute manpower to any force which might be called on to defend Germany. The French, fearful of German resurgence, will agree only if the German troops are worked into a European defense force. . .Now Belgium and the Netherlands are holding out for keeping control over their own armies. The whole plan is threatened. . .It is not yet too late for Britain to contribute some troops, for Belgium and the Netherlands to change their position. . ."

Washington (D. C.) Star (Ind.): "The British have not in any way modified their commitments under the Atlantic Pact. . .The aloofness policy applies primarily to the still-distant goal of continental federation. As for the Schuman plan and the European army, Britain has expressed its readiness to co-operate with both. . . .Such co - operation, though limited, could lead in time to full participation of the type that many statesmen regard as indispensable to the union of western Europe. Meanwhile Britain's attitude should not discourage the champions of that idea from doing their best to translate it into reality."

Dayton (O.) News (Ind.-Dem.): "With Britain out the French would lack confidence in the ability of a federation to avoid being dominated. . .by Germany. If there is no federation, it will be difficult to increase production and found an effective European army. . .Something here will have to yield. It will have to be (1) Britain's fear of losing her identity as center of the commonwealth, (2) France's fear of German domination, or (3) America's fear of . . . maintaining abroad a mass army that would strain the country's economy to the limit. The most yielding with the least cost, it seems to us, could be done by Britain."

New York Herald Tribune (Ind.-Rep.): "The plans that have gone forward to date have not been built on the assumption that Britain would participate. . .Even a recalcitrant Britain should not, and need not, stand in the way of wholehearted efforts; and certainly an attitude of undue alarm or disappointment should not be allowed to reinforce the national jealousies which already make the work difficult enough. The defense of Europe is going forward, as it must; and the hope can still be kept that in the end even Britain will participate in the developing institutions which a new stage of history brings to life."

Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette (Dem.): "The British stand is not a change from that of the Labor government. . .But it is a discouraging development in view of Churchill's support for European federation while he was a member of the opposition in parliament. Now that he is prime minister and responsible for formulating policy which will keep his party in power, Mr. Churchill seems to feel that participation in a move toward federation such as the European army would make him politically vulnerable of would detract from Britain's glory. . . The willing participation of other European powers hinges largely on what Britain does."

Some of our frequently married and frequently divorced glamour girls are trying hard to match her record, but Arline Judge is still one chump ahead of the field. . . . Random observation at a Hollywood premiere: There's remarkably little fabric between some of our "best - dressed" ladies and that proverbial feminine complaint about having "nothing to wear." . . . Study pictures of Joel McCrea, taken a dozen years ago, then look at him today — and you'll have to agree that he's the man Father Time forgot.

The quest for "realism" struck an amusing snag at 20th Century-Fox the other day, when Director Henry King attempted a scene for "Gift of the Magi" (a picture with a 1905 background) in which a team of horses, drawing a brewery wagon, were to rear and plunge on encountering an automobile. It was no trick to get authentic cars of the stipulated period; half-a-dozen rental concerns can supply them and every major studio owns an assortment of antique gas buggies of its own. But finding a team of horses, today, that can be thrown into panic by a motor car is a bit more difficult. The nags working in the picture took a 1903 Ford, a 1902 Cadillac and a 1904 Maxwell in perfect stride. Finally they had to shoot the scene without sound and scare the horses by firing a gun.

Meet Red Skelton — Cupid. The other day on the "Lovely to Look At" set at MGM he heard Lillian Kassan, a young actress who is particularly lovely to look at, complaining because she and her husband, Robert Curland, would be apart for their wedding anniversary, December 23, and for Christmas. Red asked questions and discovered that Curland is on service with the American army in western Germany. Going to the set phone, he put through a few calls, returned, and announced that he had solved the situation. Miss Kassan, thanks to his intercession, will fly for Germany a few days hence as a member of a U. S. O. entertainment unit. She'll arrive on December 20, in ample time for an anniversary celebration.

On the "Cry of the Swamp" set they were kidding Jean Negulesco, born in Rumania, about directing a southern picture. "Why not?" he countered, "our family home was in the southern part of Rumania!"

wrote, "Something funny is happening here."

He remembers:

"I went outside. Guys came out with shaving cream on their faces, half - naked, mouths open. We were about a mile from the harbor.

"I saw the black smoke columns going up — the silver planes darting down. Now I know what it was. To tell you the truth then I didn't know. I even went back inside to finish my letter."

A lieutenant burst in, clad only in pajamas, and cried, "The Japs are bombing Pearl Harbor. Where is the colonel?"

O'Brien says that even then he thought the lieutenant was crazy. But soon after the colonel, who bossed the outfit, showed up in full uniform, and the first order he gave was "Bugler, sound the call to arms."

And for the first and last time in his life O'Brien stitched a brass alarm:

"To arms, to arms;
"Get your guns, get your guns,
"Get your guns, get your guns,
"Get them from the stacks
"Get them from the racks."

What happened after that is the sad story of Pearl Harbor. O'Brien's summary:

"It seemed no sooner than I blew the call that everyone was there. But mention my colonel — Harold Muller. I thought he was fine soldier. He was cool. He kept his head. He didn't get excited. He didn't have two fingers up his nose. And God knows I don't love colonels."

That was the last time Bill O'Brien blew a bugle call in war. He kept the bugle a long time . . . Even after the army promoted him from private to sergeant and made him a machine gunner he held on to the bugle because, "I just didn't want to give it back to the army — I felt it was mine."

He lost it at last during the flaming landing on Saipan.

"But," said Bill, "never mind my bugle. Please put in that my outfit finally knocked down seventeen enemy planes."

And the boy who blew the bugle at Pearl Harbor is now the man who mixes the martinis for Manhattans.

"It seems a long time ago" he says.

Ferriday Band In Natchez Parade

Ferriday, La., Dec. 8.—(Special)—The Ferriday High School band participated in the parade in Natchez Saturday afternoon to honor the Hollywood caravan headed by movie stars, Preston Foster, David Brian, and Adrian Booth and Directors Joe Louis and Maxwell Shane and Jimmy Brian from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The stars rode in convertibles and the parade was well attended. There was a reception at Stanton Hall in Natchez for the movie stars and their entourage and the entertainment was provided by the managers of the local theaters. Many from here went to Natchez to watch the stars and the local high school band in the parade.

QUITS BOARD

Jonesville, Dec. 8. — A. H. Garner of Foules resigned this week as chairman of the Catahoula parish draft board. In his letter of resignation, submitted to the state director of selective service, Garner said that his business involves much traveling and being out of the parish and makes it impossible for him to attend meetings regularly.

A Letter To Our NON-CATHOLIC Neighbors

Catholics and non-Catholics, as a rule, get along right well together.

Our families live amicably next door to each other and often become lifetime friends. Our sons fight side by side on every battlefield. We work together in the same shops and factories... root for the same baseball teams... do business with one another in a spirit of mutual trust every day.

In these and other phases of everyday life, there is a close association which promotes understanding and respect. But in religion... where this close association does not exist... there is often a regrettable lack of understanding and a corresponding absence of good-will.

Many people, for instance, have all sorts of false ideas about Catholics and the Catholic Church. They actually believe that Catholics worship statues... that many sordid things happen behind convent walls... that Catholics do not believe in the Bible... that Catholic teaching is pure superstition and the Mass nothing but mumbo-jumbo.

All non-Catholics, of course, do not believe such things. But enough of these false rumors are in circulation to cause some sincere and intelligent non-Catholics to look upon the Catholic Church with suspicion, and to reject Catholic truth without even troubling to investigate it.

It is for this reason that the Knights of Columbus, a society of Catholic laymen, publishes advertisements like this explaining what Catholics really believe. We want our non-Catholic friends and neighbors to understand us and our Faith, even if they do not wish to join us. We want them to know the Catholic Church as it really is... not as it is so often misrepresented to be.

It is also important to you personally, however, to inquire into the teaching of the Catholic Church. For unless you do, you cannot know whether the Catholic Church is or is not the Church established by Jesus Christ for your salvation. You cannot intelligently accept or reject Catholic teaching until you investigate it and know what it really is.

A distinguished Catholic author has written "A Letter to a Friend Not of My Faith." This letter has been published in the form of a pamphlet which can be read in a few minutes... and which gives a remarkably clear and beautiful explanation of Catholic beliefs, worship and history. More importantly, it gives a blue print of Christian living which will deeply move you whether you accept or reject the Catholic viewpoint.

This highly interesting pamphlet is well worth the few minutes it will take you to read it. We will be glad to send you a copy free, on request. Write today... ask for Pamphlet No. KC-23.

WHAT MAKES PLYMOUTH SO GOOD FOR SO MANY MILES ?

Chrome-plated top piston rings help get Plymouths off to a good start. They protect cylinder walls against "scuffing" during the break-in period, as well as reducing wear for the life of the engine. Also, Plymouth has four instead of three piston rings—which prolong new-car performance.

116446

Exhaust valves and valve seats take a terrific beating in any car. In Plymouth these seats are special super-hard inserts of finest quality alloy steel. Plymouth's special precision engine bearings also stand up longer than ordinary bearings.

279329

The cleaner the oil, the longer an engine lasts. Plymouth—and only Plymouth in the lowest-priced field—has a Floating Oil Intake. Floating just below the surface of oil in the crankcase, it draws in only the cleanest oil, avoiding any sediment that may be on the bottom.

482922

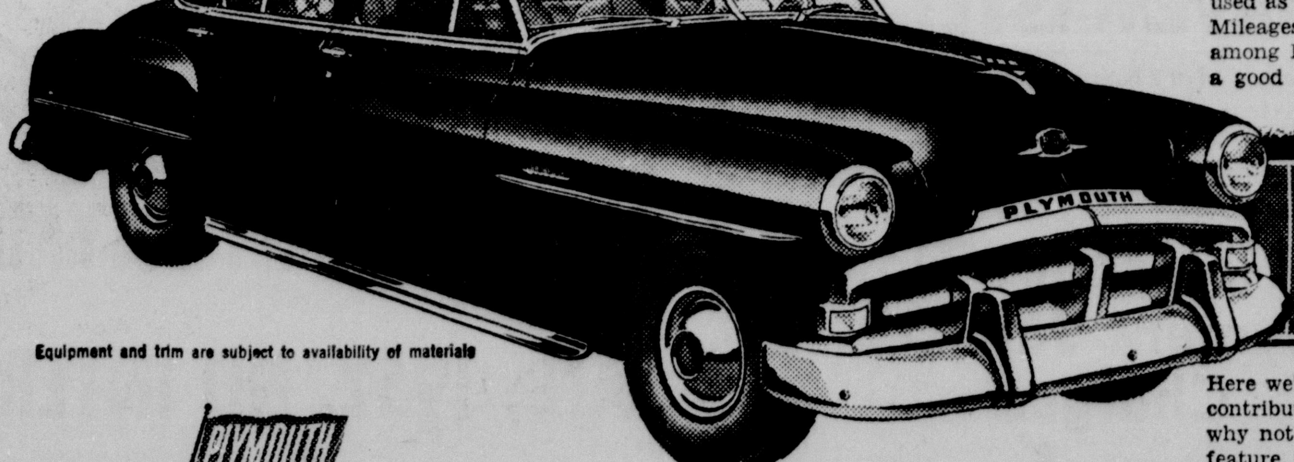
In hard-to-lubricate places, Plymouth uses Oilite bearings. These are porous and have a self-contained oil supply so they actually oil themselves! And lubrication in the engine is full-pressure to all vital parts—Plymouth doesn't depend on "splashing" of the oil.

690389

Plymouth body finish stays beautiful through the years. And no wonder. It starts with a coat of rustproofing. On top of that, two coats of primer, baked and then sanded. On top of that, a coat of sealer, baked and sanded. And on top of all that, two coats of baked enamel.

746212

More proof of "built-in value": Of all standard-built cars used as taxicabs, Plymouths outnumber all other makes combined! Mileages of 200,000 to 300,000 are not uncommon among Plymouth taxis. And the same durability that makes it a good cab makes it a good personal car for you.



Equipment and trim are subject to availability of materials

Here we've told you about only a few of the features that contribute to Plymouth's long life. There are many more; why not learn about them—and compare Plymouth, feature by feature, with other cars in the lowest-priced field? Your Plymouth dealer will gladly arrange a demonstration.

DEPT. STORE SALES HIGHER

Atlanta, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Department store sales in the Atlanta federal reserve bank district increased 13 per cent in October over the September level but were less than seasonal expectations.

The trend is reported in the bank's monthly review of business conditions throughout the district.

The review said preliminary figures for November reveal a continuation of the October trend.

In the first quarter of 1951 sales at district department, furniture and household appliance stores were higher generally than for the corresponding period of 1950. In the next two quarters they were below the 1950 level.

"The final three months may bring another shift," the review said.

"In most months this year, compared with last year, department store sales fluctuated less than the sales at furniture and household appliance stores. In six out of ten months in 1951, sales more nearly approached 1950 levels at department stores than at either furniture or household appliance stores.

"Department store sales ranged from plus 24 per cent in January to minus 16 per cent in June. This 40-per cent range compares with 41 per cent for furniture and 88 per cent for household appliance stores."

The review said "The relative stability of the department store buying in this ten-month period is attributable to fairly high and steady non-durable goods purchases, which offset wide fluctuations within durable goods lines."

Consumer buying through the first three quarters of 1951 at department stores in states of the district "deviated little from 1950," the review declared.

"Florida sales topped the six states with a 7 per cent year-to-October gain, compared with the like period of 1950. Georgia's 4-per cent increase came second, followed by gains of 3 per cent in Alabama and one per cent in Tennessee, and 2-per cent declines in Louisiana and Mississippi.

"Most gains were accounted for in first-quarter increases. In the second and third quarters, consumer purchases hovered close to the 1950 mark."

Independents To Meet Here Monday

Nichols Motor Company and Bastrop Paper Mill, two independent basketball teams, will clash here Monday night at the Northeast College gymnasium.

Both have several ex - college stars and the names of most of the Nichols' players are known to Monroe fans, Curtis Nichols, who is sponsoring the team, said.

The Nichols team has Bob Meadow, coach at Neville High School and one of the leading scorers at L. S. U. during the last four years, and Charlie McCullen, an Oak Ridge Baptist minister, who got his training in four years with Louisiana College.

Lennie Fant, Cecil Johnson, and Gene Hardin, are three more basketball coaches playing for Nichols this year who have plenty of experience on the hardwoods.

Three former Ouachita Parish High School former stars are on the roster for the Nichols' team, while the Bastrop players are mostly former stars on Arkansas teams. The Nichols' players are Kirby, Fontana, Dave McKenzie, and Varando, who has played independent ball for the last few years.

Nichols stated that no admission will be charged at the game and invites all basketball fans to attend.

LORENZO M. SMITH

LORENZO SMITH AIDING KENNON

Appointed Campaign Chairman For Candidate In Ouachita Parish

Lorenzo M. Smith has been appointed campaign chairman for Judge Robert F. Kennon in Ouachita parish. Announcement was made yesterday at the opening of a Kennon headquarters in the Frances Hotel.

Mr. Smith is a native of West Monroe and Monroe, having graduated from high school and junior college here before going to Chicago where he received a master's degree from Columbia College.

In 1940 Mr. Smith returned to Monroe as director of the Monroe little Theatre and continued through several successful seasons until enlisting in the air force. Mr. Smith served three and a half years with the armed forces.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Smith of Old Trenton in West Monroe. He and his wife, the former Elroy Scruggs, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Elroy Scruggs of Paris, Tenn., and their two children Barrie Beth, 8, and Roy Lorenzo, 6, reside at 1002 North Seventh street in Monroe.

Mr. Smith is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Masonic Lodge, the Monroe Kiwanis Club, and active in other civic organizations.

Upon his appointment as campaign chairman for Judge Kennon, Mr. Smith said, "I consider it a privilege and an honor to be selected to help represent so fine a man as Judge Robert F. Kennon in his candidacy for governor of the state of Louisiana. I know that every effort I put forth will be for a man recognized for his honesty, fairness, and capability. In Judge Kennon we have a candidate who is backed by a long record of experience that reflects a great desire on his part to be of service to the people of Louisiana by serving them.

It is gratifying, indeed, to see and meet so many people day by day who express themselves in a most positive manner as being for the high principles of good government that Judge Kennon stands for and follows. It strengthens one's confidence in the future of our state to see the great respect and admiration so many have for Judge Kennon in his steadfastness to those principles."

Campaign headquarters are open on the second floor of the Hotel Frances and all of Judge Kennon's many friends and supporters are invited to meet there at any time.

The Protestant Episcopal Church was brought to America in 1607 with the Jamestown Colonists.

Sodalists Celebrate Most Important Date

Sodalists at St. Matthew's on Saturday celebrated a most important date in their year's calendar. On that day at the 8 o'clock mass, celebrated in St. Matthew's Church, members of the organization received holy communion in a body honoring their Mother and Patroness, Mary, the immaculate conception.

After the mass, fifteen new candidates approached the altar and were received into the Sodality. Their pledges of personal sanctity, charity and defense of the church were sealed with the usual formula and the act of consecration to God and his holy mother.

New members received were: Wanda Factor, Sue Turner, Rita Snider, Louis Giurlando, Ida Lee Anzelmo, Jimmy Peterson, Sylvia Danna, Charles Greene, Salvador Pitarro, Sam Jungina, Frank Gungina, J. A. LaCara, Donald Saucier, Rose Marie Maxey and Dorothy Chaplin. The director of the Sodality, the Reverend Harlow Sheldon pronounced the words of reception and blessed the new members. Following the ceremony in church, a communion breakfast was served Sodalists and guests in the school cafetera.

United Gas Wants To Increase Rate

Washington, Dec. 8.—(AP)—United Gas Pipe Lines of Shreveport, La., wants to increase wholesale rates on natural gas delivered to the Southern Natural Gas Company of Birmingham, Ala., by 89 per cent.

United filed a request yesterday with the Federal Power Commission, giving as a reason higher cost of obtaining gas, labor and material.

The increase would amount to $1,300,000 annually.

A WORD TO TEEN-AGERS

Youth is a heady wine. It is likely to intoxicate a young person by its power to excite him to feel brighter, smarter than any old fogy who ventures to caution him or offer a word of advice.

It is never good to be as smart as one can be. Never wise to say the most cutting thing that comes to the tip of the tongue. The word that wounds is the word that will be paid for later in terms of dislike, in closed doors, in help lost when help is most needed.

Leaving thought of self aside for a moment, consider what a word of disrespect of an older person costs the younger one, the feeling of cheapness that clouds his own self-respect, the lowering of his reputation among his own group for, make no mistake about it, group opinion is against bad manners, even while it seems to accept them. It is the good-mannered boy, the well-bred girl that the group bows to inwardly. They like to look up to a classmate. They may not talk that way but they will surely act that way.

Then there is the hard fact to face: grown people have great influence on the future of the young person. For example, a teacher has many opportunities for saying a good word for a good student. If that student has earned the dislike of the teacher he cannot be expected to say that word.

The neighbor who ventures to say a word of warning, even to make a criticism, will be friendly or antagonistic according to the reception the young person gives his word. If he is met politely, respectfully, he is going to remember it and in season will speak about the youthful person in kindly good will. Selfishness alone then demands proper respect for older people.

The feelings of classmates are quite important to the social success or failure of every member of the group. To make a bright remark that brings a laugh is tonic to the mind and a bolster to the ego of the brilliant one and is quite in order as long as it does not hurt the feelings of another. To twit a classmate about his family, his nationality, his peculiarities, is to wound him and create an enemy. What gain is there in that sort of thing? Even those who laugh remember it as an unworthy action.

Boys and girls in their teens should remember that kindness, good will, friendliness to old and young pay large dividends in friendship and friendship is about the finest asset any young person can posses. Never, never be as smart as you can be. It doesn't pay.

Bashfulness is a difficult childhood trait. Dr. Patri tells parents how to help their children overcome bashfulness in leaflet P-9, "The Bashful Child,". To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflow Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

Northeast Presents Annual 'Redskins On Parade' Show

BY LADY STAHL

Enthusiasm was as great as the size of Friday night's audience which saw "Redskins on Parade" in Brown Hall auditorium at Northeast State. Reception of the variety show scored a new record in exuberance and spontaneous reaction.

Spectators' response proved a thrilling chapter in the history of the annual production. Evidence of this was reflected by numerous persons whose interest never flagged though they were forced to resort to standing room throughout the show.

Directors Joe Monroe and Wilma Joyce White offered an evening of entertainment, generous in its medley of attractions for various ages.

The production was under sponsorship of the student council, headed by Gene Clark. James W. Parkerson, assistant professor of speech, was faculty adviser of "Redskins" and Miss Gertrude Sandrock of the music department was music consultant.

Master of Ceremonies Joe Milner opened the show with a fancy stepping chorus line of coeds. They brought back the gay nineties with their cancan routine done in dramatic black satin costumes lined with yellow satin ruffles trimmed in gold braid. Black satin hats with yellow plumes and black lace hose completed the ensembles of Mary Lou Johnston and Betty Jane Pettit, dance directors, Mary Elizabeth Meredith, Alice Montgomery, Charlotte Ruff, Joe Marie Scalia and Dorothy Works.

There was much of the theatrical in the presentation of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," scored for band, chorus and piano soloist. As misty blue lights cast their rays across the stage, the pianist, Joe Monroe, took his place at the concert grand to begin the performance along with the band and chorus already assembled for the number.

The combination of more than a hundred performers provided surprisingly creditable interpretation. This production was the first of its kind ever to be presented in the Twin Cities. The college chorus, prepared by Miss Gertrude Sandrock, and the Neville band, under direction of John Davis, blended into a highly effective tableau of sound. Soloist Monroe left nothing to be desired in his brilliant version of the piano score.

Claiming a big share of the spotlight were the Barber Shop Boys comprising the male quartet. "The Old Song" and "Ain't It a Shame" captured the audience who called for more and more. In spirited fashion the boys came back to give "Swing Down Chariot" and other titles equally as well received. The four are Billy Joe Milstead, Johnny Goodwin, Tommy Spurlock and Danny Sullivan.

The mood was changed in a dance presented by Gamma Zeta Sorority. Originality marked the scene laid on the bottom of the ocean Through green gauze encrusted with fish and coral, were seen mermaids with continuous, graceful arm movements. As Mrs. Irvie Lee Temple sang "Sea Shells," Mary Lou Johnston emerged from a large clam shell to offer an artistic ballet to complete the effectiveness of the scene.

Swtiching tempo in the realm of the dance was a Latin American number. In appropriate costume, three couples danced the Spanish tango to "Jealousie." Rising from under an enormous vividly colored hat, Mary Lou Johnston, in a gay striking costume, danced down a series of steps to the center of the stage to complete an intricate tap number. The couples with her were Joe Marie Scalia and C. V. Dopson; Pat Ross and Robert Furr; Charlotte Ruff and Bennie Fryar.

One of the most captivating attractions was the adgio in which Mary Rita Smith of Ouachita Parish High School and Roy Aston of Northeast State danced their way into the hearts of the audience. The couple executed the number with fine appreciation of movement and timing. The difficult dance made high demands on strength, coordination and skill in balance. Theirs was a professional performance that was beautiful and enchanting.

Solo and duo vocalists gave interesting diversity to the program. Mrs. Nelda Monroe Frey, a guest artist, made a hit with her listeners, and she finally closed her encores by singing "White Christmas." Homer Cook's splendid interpretation of "Tomasso Rotundo" brought him back for more deep bass titles. Soloist Joan Bandy sang "It's No Sin," and Jane Evans and Jane Wallace did a black face song and dance number. Offering contrast, Sally Ann Taylor and Alma Joyce White sang "Winter Wonderland" while they were wrapped in fur coats during a snow scene.

The show was not limited to students. Winning a generous show of plaudits was Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton, who gave an excellent melodramatic selection in a burlesque feature titied "Practice Roomitis," and presented by the campus chapter of MENC.

Portraying another phase of campus life was the skit, "General Parky Carcass Returns." Preparation for an ROTC inspection and the arrival of the general himself proved laugh-filled scenes in the comedy given by the Provost Corps and directed by Quinn Becker.

The Rhythm Harmoniers offered a fitting close to the entertainment fest. Spectators continued calling for encores by Thomas E. Bearden, guitar, Bryan Ritter, steel guitar, and Harry Liner, bass fiddle. Their hillbilly melodies filled the auditorium with color and rhythm.

Practically stealing the show were two stunt men, Bobby Joe Jackson and Don Easterling. They were everywhere with bountiful pranks, jokes and colorful acts. Their capers measured up to their regalia, which was gay enough to make any cynic laugh. "Redskins" could not have gone on without the pair.

Passman Sees Spaht Election

First primary victory for Judge Carlos Spaht was predicted by Congressman Otto E. Passman and Governor Earl K. Long in addresses in North Louisiana. Joined by Congressman A. Leonard Allen in calling for honesty and morality in government, Passman charged again that "Bill Dodd is supported by the gamblers and racketeers in his race for governor".

Spaht pledged his efforts and those of his ticket to continue the program of the present administration and to improve it." We are going to continue to work to bring new business to Louisiana, to balance industry with a well-rounded agricultural program," Spaht said. He mentioned specifically a new $20,000,000 paper mill for North Louisiana, on which negotiations are now under way with Frost Industries. Cameron C. Minard, district attorney for LaSalle and Caldwell parishes, told a new-capacity crowd in Monroe's central school that Angola State Penitentiary is "better managed today than ever in the history of that institution."

U. S. Jets Engage Red Planes In Air Fight

By John Randolph

Seoul, Korea, Sunday, Dec. 9.—(AP)—U. S. Sabres outnumbered four to one, clashed with swept-wing Communist jets nearly eight miles above northwest Korea Saturday in one of the highest dogfights in history.

The air force reported two of the 60 red-nosed MIG-15s were damaged and that all 15 American jets returned to base safely.

The flashing battle raged at 40,000 feet in a cold, brilliant blue sky. It was one of five fights which followed a one-day layoff because of bad weather Friday.

The high altitude fight was regarded as exceptional. Hitherto the highest dogfights reported were at around 6,000 feet. The 40,000-foot level is in the sub-stratosphere.

Damage reports to the two Red jets were made by Lt. Robert H. Moore, 1122 Voight St., Houston, Tex., and Lt. Charles Rinehart, Brooklyn, Iowa.

The air force reported one U. S. F-84 Thunderjet was shot down by Communist anti-aircraft guns, but that the pilot was rescued from the ocean off the west coast.

Other Thunderjets seared a big Communist supply area south of Wonsan on the east coast with rockets and fire bombs. Pilots reported the entire area was left in flames.

On the ground, small but sharp Chinese Red patrol jabs were repulsed in the central and west-central sectors.

In the Korangpo and Pyonggang areas Allied forces retook positions from which they had withdrawn Friday night. The Eighth army communique reported there was little or no opposition.

The Communist communique broadcast by the Pyongyang radio reported only "small skirmishes" but said "heavy losses" were inflicted on the Allies. In the southern provinces, the Republic of Korea (ROK) army appeared nearing the end of its anti-guerrilla campaign in the Chiri mountains.

Rox army headquarters reported nearly 500 Communist guerrillas have been killed and 800 captured.

The ROK defense ministry announced two suspected Communists were arrested in connection with the explosion of the Pusan arsenal Nov. 30. The blast killed six, injured 50 and left 2,000 homeless.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

Tonight "All My Sons", Little Theatre's second production of its twentieth year, will go into its fifth night with three more to go. It seems that there has been some confusion or rather misunderstanding and a few of the members were under the impression that it would not run Sunday night. . . Yes, it will, and reservations secretary June Pilgram will be taking 'em as usual from 2 p.m. until 7 p.m. If you haven't as yet seen "All My Sono", Sunday night would be a good time to catch the show.

For something else new in Little Theatre. . it is really gratifying to report that some Little Theatre members used their season ticket to see "AMS" first and then returned to buy cash tickets to see it again.

Director Fontelieu tells me that the next production will be a comedy, Ferenc Molnar's "The Play's The Thing". It was done three seasons ago on Broadway, starring Faye Emerson and Louis Calhern. Stocker plans to call tryouts right after New Years for an early February production. That's just like us, with one play still four nights to go and we are already looking forward to the next.

Random Notes. . . .A surprise visit was paid Margaret Gardner this week by her sister Jeanette Beteler of Laurel, Mississippi. . . . Speaking of Margaret, how did you like the beautiful pond arrangement that she and Mary Ellison did for the current show?. . . . The cast and crew of "Abie's Irish Rose" the smash comedy that started this season off to a bang, are getting ready for their trip to entertain the veterans at Veterans Hospital, Alexandria, on Sunday Dec. 16 . . . . . . Speaking of Monroe Day at Veterans Hospital, the committee in charge of plans have placed gift boxes in the Toggery, Palace, D. Masur & Sons, Sig Haas, Gay Clothing, Krauss & Cahn, Forsythe Pharmacy and the City Drug in West Monroe. These boxes will be staffed by the Gray Ladies group of the American Red Cross. . . .Frank Breese tells me that there are 510 gifts to be solicited by Saturday December 15. They are also marking appeal for 00 lbs. of pecans and lots of those good homemade cakes, cookies and candy that the veterans appreciate so much.

. . . . .Members of The American Legion and the V. F. W. of West Monroe are helping on the plans for Monroe Day. . . .thanks to the West Monroe V. F. W. who are lending 2 trucks to haul the gifts and goodies that will gladden the hearts of these hospitalized men. . . . . .Anyone who is going to the big party at Veterans hospital and who will have room for one or more passengers, please contact Tony Veazy at the Red Cross. . . . We hear tell that Pete Linton's bridge playing friends will be glad when he turns in his last grand performance in "All My Sons". They have been much 'ole missing him at the bridge table.

WOOD SCULPTOR

Hunts Point, N. S.,—(AP)—A newsman who turned from copy cutting in the United States to whittling in Nova Scotia has become one of Canada's ablest sculptors in wood.

He is John Greenleaf Whittier Bradford and from his hands have come such exquisitely carved and finished objects of art that his creations have been shown in museums from New York to Vancouver, and in such way points as Toronto, Montreal and Quebec.

In World War I, John Bradford was a flier in France. Then he became a newspaper man. He returned to his native Nova Scotia with his wife, Lexie, and at Hunts Point set up a combined home, studio and shop 12 years ago.

Two Injured In Accident Near Monroe

Two men were hospitalized yesterday morning after the automobile in which they were riding hit an oncoming car, went out of control and struck two more approximately five miles west of West Monroe on Highway 80.

Two other men were reported to have been taken to a Ruston hospital, but investigation revealed neither was admitted.

Taken to St. Francis Sanitarium by a Hall ambulance were James Everett Otwell, 18, Route 1, Calhoun, and Herbert Sims, 19, West Monroe. An attending physician said that Sims was considered in serious condition, suffering a fracture of both legs and lacerations of the scalp and body. Otwell suffered only lacerations and contusions of the body.

Reportedly taken to a Ruston hospital were Clarence Young of Hodge, La., and W. L. Mitchell, 415 Mississippi street, Ruston. However, neither the Ruston Hospital nor the Thomas Clinic had any record of either being admitted.

(The W. L. Mitchell reported in the accident was not the Dean of Men at Louisiana Tech.)

Otwell stated that he was driving west in a 1947 Chevrolet. He approached a 1947 Dodge pick-up truck driven by W. H. Holmes, 60, West Monroe, which had slowed down apparently to make a left turn, and, in passing the truck, the front fender hit, causing him to lose control of his car. The car then sideswiped two other automobiles behind Holmes.

The impact threw both Otwell and Sims clear of the cars.

Young was reported to have been driving the automobile immediately behind Holmes and Mitchell the fourth car. Holmes escaped injury. Otwell's car was demolished.

WEST STANDS FIRM ON ATOM

Paris, Dec. 8. —(AP)— The United States, Britain and France told U. N. Assembly Pres. Luis Padilla Nervo today they are standing firm for effective control of atomic energy before agreeing to a ban on the atomic bomb.

That reply, couched in diplomatic but unmistakeable phrases, was given in a closed session of the big four disarmament sub-committee to a memorandum by Padilla, the chairman, proposing to report that the east and west were in agreement on banning atomic bombs now — which is what the Russians want.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky endorsed the Padilla memorandum yesterday. The western delegates asked for delay until today to hand in comments.

There was no official announcement of the western reply, but sources familiar with the big four talks made it clear the west has not reversed its field and has so told Padilla.

Padilla later issued a statement saying the report his memorandum said east and west had agreed on immediate and unconditional prohibitions of atomic weapons was false and ridiculous. However, westerners who saw the original memorandum insisted the statement was continued in the memorandum as presented to the suncommittee late yesterday. They said they were positive about the contents.

The statement of the Mexican presiding officer, as issued by U. N. press officers, said:

"I have been asked whether it is true, as reported in some newspaper stories, that the memorandum I submitted yesterday as a working paper to the sub-committee stated that the three western powers and the Soviet Union agree on the question of the immediate and unconditional prohibition of the atomic bomb.

The U. N. press officers said the statement was issued at their suggestion.

SCHOOLGIRL COMING TO AMERICA

Singapore,—(AP)—Miss Alice Tay, 17, of Raffles Girls School has been named to represent school children of Singapore at the New York Herald Tribune Youth Forum in New York in March, 1952. She was chosen from among competitors from eight schools who wrote esays on "The World We Want."

College Head Dies Suddenly

Hammond, La., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Dr. Gladney J. Tinsley, 55, president of Southeastern Louisiana College, died suddenly of a heart attack here tonight.

He was a graduate of Louisiana State University and attained his degree of Doctor of Education at Stanford University.

Dr. Tinsley came to Southeastern in July 1945, after being on the faculty of Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

During his administration at the college, Southeastern expanded greatiy, adding two new dormitories for girls, a new student center, and a science annex.

It also became affiliated with a number of national accrediting organizations, including the American Association of Colleges and the Ammerican Association for Teacher Education.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete tonight, pending the arrival of Mrs. Tinsley's brother, R. N. Hood, of Shreveport.

Former Mayor Of Oak Grove Dies

Oak Grove, La., Dec. 8.—(Special)—Jerry Thomas Williams, 73, former mayor of Oak Grove and West Carroll parish deputy sheriff, died in a local clinic this morning. He had been a resident of this parish for the past 40 years.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. today at the Methodist Church with the Rev. R. L. Clayton, officiating. Interment will follow in the Oak Grove Cemetery under the direction of the Catron-Gay Funeral Home of Oak Grove.

Regarded as one of the most active men in both civic and religious work in the parish, Mr. Williams was for eight years deputy sheriff, justice of the peace for 30 years, managed the West Carroll Hardware Company approximately 26 years, and was one of the founders of the Oak Grove Lions Club. He had been active in the Methodist Church, serving as steward and superintendent of the church and was a member of the Blue Lodge and Royal Arch Masons.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dea Williams; one son, Thomas, of Oakland, Calif.; three daughters, Miss Sue Williams, Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. G. M. Soniag, New Orleans, and Miss Sallie Beth Williams, Oak Grove; one brother, Vincent Williams Aberdeen, Miss.; two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Lloyd, of West Point, Miss., and Mrs. J. W. Bradley, of Aberdeen, Miss.; and four grandchildren.

Active pallbearers will be Mack McIntosh, W. C. Hudson, H. G. Monroe, Wade Lee, L. B. Moseley, John T. Lee, Ronnie James and Marvin Lipp.

COTTON

New York

New York, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures turned irregular in late trading today.

Dealers reported further covering, prior to issurance of the government December cotton crop estimate on Monday. In addition, there was also a fair amount of trade price fixing, presumably against export sales. Hedging and profit-taking for over the week-end supplied contracts.

Futures closed 50 cents a bale lower to 15 cents higher than the previous close.

New Orleans

New Orleans, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Cotton futures advanced here early today but reacted downward in the late dealings under weekend long realizing and hedge selling. Closing prices were steady 25 cents to 55 cents a bale lower.

Trading was fairly active. Much of the late selling was attributed to evening up operations in advance of the government's final estimate of the 1951 crop to be issued Monday. Trade buying to fix prices caused the early rise.

Middling 15-16 inchspot cotton remained unchanged at 43.30 cents a pound. Local spot sales amounted to 2,123 bales.

private citizen. He is an honest man.

"Hale Boggs has outstanding ability. He is a clear thinker, a decisive leader.

"Hale Boggs has a magnificent record of service to his state and nation. His performance for eight years in congress speaks eloquently.

"Hale Boggs keeps good company. We mean Chep Morrison (New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison, Russell Long (U. S. Senator) and all the other independent men and women who are tired of 'feuding over the dead past' and are uniting to bring good government to Louisiana.

"Our state is fortunate that three of its finest young men are devoting their futures to public service."

The editorial pointed out that Boggs, Morrison, and Long are all in their 30's.

"Individually they (the three) spell character and progress. Together they spell the brightest futures in Louisiana's history.

"The item, an independent paper, has sometimes disagreed with Chep Morrison. No doubt we will again.

"But over - all we believe Chep Morrison is the best mayor New Orleans has ever had. We believe he has only one interest in the governor's race — to help send the best man to Baton Rouge."

The Item said Senator Long has already established himself as an outstanding lawmaker and that his hard work has won him the respect of the U. S. Senate.

"Russell Long has clearly broken with his uncle, (Governor) Earl Long. Those who would make it appear otherwise are desperate for ammunition to use against Hale Boggs," the Item added.

It added "we believe Senator Long has only one interest in the governor's race — to help send the best man to Baton Rouge."

New Orleans' two other daily newspapers — The Times Picayune and the New Orleans States — have endorsed James McLemore, Alexandria cattleman and business man.

Last Sunday, The Shreveport Times, The Monroe Morning World and The Monroe News-Star endorsed Boggs' candidacy.

STEALS BRIBE

Ipoh, Malaya, — (AP) — A former president of a branch of the Malayan Chinese Association was convicted in court on charges of dishonestly converting to his own use $70 which he allegedly received for the purpose of bribing police officers. He was fined $167 and sentenced to nine months imprisonment.

PRESIDENT CALLS

he was asked.

Perlmeter said he couldn't go "beyond the statement" he had made.

Then he added:

"I can't answer any further questions."

The announcement caught White House reporters by surprise. They had been given to understand the president would not return to Washington for another week, although there has never been an announcement of when Mr. Truman would fly back.

A sudden call went out to all White House personnel shortly before the news conference announcement. The decision apparently caught most of them by surprise.

Eastern Air Lines, from which members of the press chartered a plane to bring them here and return them to Washington, was notified to rush a plane here for the trip back with the president.

Reporters puzzled over what, if any, international development might be behind the president's decision.

"Would you give the usual answer that this is not an emergency?" they pressed Perlmeter.

"I've said all I can," he replied tersely. Then he hurried out of the room.

The suddeness of the president's decision was apparent. Presidential Secretary Joseph Short flew back to Washington last Thursday. He was due to return here Monday for the remanider of the trip.

Col. Francis T. Williams, pilot of the presidential plane, the "Independence", summoned members of his crew to get the big DC-6 into readiness for the flight.

The president had talked this morning with James S. Lay, Jr., executive secretary of the national security council, but later went to the beach for a swim and a sunbath.

for complete reports on their units," the leaders added.

The number of 100 per cent firms on the Employe Honor Roll was expected to soar well over the hundred mark this week and there were good prospects for this total reaching even higher, leaders indicated.

Plans are being made to award still more "Oscars," "Oscarettes," and Employe Honor Roll awards to both individual workers, firms and employe groups during the coming week. Additional recognition is being planned for more firms whose employes are doing such outstanding jobs in employe solicitation on the payroll deduction plan.

Two more big report meetings are set for the Virginia Hotel headquarters this next week with the first session slated for 10 a. m., Tuesday December 11 and the second set for Thursday, December 13 at 10 a. m.

joint chiefs of staff and represent atives of the state department."

At Washington, responsible officials speculated that the president is returning to get a complete, first - hand report on the Korean truce negotiations. He also wants, it was believed to canvass any problems which may come up in connection with the negotiations or moves which may be made by the U. N. side concerning the issues of armistice enforcement and return of prisoners of war.

Responsible authorities in Washington declared emphatically that there is no crisis which has compelled the president's action and that there are no momentous new decisions to be made.

It was learned that the principal state department officer who will be present at the White House meeting Monday will be Undersecretary James E. Webb, who is acting secretary in the absence of Secretary Acheson, now on his way home from Europe.

Possibly one problem on which the president may make an early decision is the extent to which the United Nations command should compromise with the Communists in Korea on arrangements for a truce inspection system.

The U. N. went into that phase of the negotiations insisting on virtually unlimited inspection rights for international policing teams throughout Korea but the Communists have objected and stalled on this point.

It has seemed apparent that the original U. N. position might have to be heavily compromised if the Communists were to agree to enforcement procedures. In the ultimate sense, this raises the question of how great a risk of truce violations the U. N. is willing to take in order to get an agreed cease-fire settlement.

Subcommittees return to Panmunjom for another meeting today at 11 a. m., (9 p. m., E. S. T., Saturday.)

Five hours of warm debate Saturday yielded nothing concrete on the question of behind-the-lines inspections—a debate that led into the separate issues of troop rotation and Allied - held islands off North Korea. Distrust and suspicion marked the talks.

However, Allied observers expressed belief that some compromise might be hammered out soon. Saturday's session was the 12th on the armistice inspection question. More than four months were required to reach provisional agreement on a buffer zone across Korea. If it is to become effective, all other armistice questions must be settled by Dec. 27—only 18 days hence.

The Peiping radio quoted Alan Winnington, correspondent for the Communist London Daily Worker, as reporting prospects for an armistice by Christmas are "dimming." He added:

"The Americans are going through their old routine of bargaining for the impossible until their Allies and the public get angered and demand action, as they did on the cease-fire line."

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner, senior Allied subcommitteeman, said much of Saturday's session was spent in discussing the status of the U. N.-held islands off North Korea.

The Reds were told the U. N. command would not relinquish control of the islands unless proper "adjustments" are made.

"The Communists insist that we give them up without adjustment," Turner said.

The Reds insisted also that Allied warships withdraw from North Korean waters during an armistice.

"We made it clear to them that our naval forces will withdraw from their coast to the distance required by international law," (three miles), Turner explained. "But we do not intend to surrender our rights to sail the high seas, as they insist."

The Reds again rejected all key Allied proposals for enforcing the truce. The Allies are pressing for:

(1) A single armistice inspection commission, rather than two groups as proposed by the Reds. (The Communists want a joint Allied - Communist commission, plus a separate inspection team of representatives from neutral nations.)

(2) Rear - area inspection of communications centers as well as ports of entry into Korea and unlimited aerial observation.

(3) Rotation of troops and replenishment of unserviceable equipment during an armistice; and

(4) A ban on construction of new airfields and rebuilding of old ones in North Korea.

These Allied demands were rejected by North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho in a 30-minute harangue.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, Allied briefing officer, told correspondents that although serious differences exist, he would be reluctant to say that the truce delegates had adopted a stand of "nc retreat.".

located on the south side of the present 1929 annex. It will be 101 feet long and 46 feet wide.

The kitchen is modern in every respect with all culinary work departmentalized, Mother Gertrude explained. The floors and walls are ceramic tile and all ceilings are cork acousti. In addition, the kitchen will contain adequate sinks, work counters and a large cooking island in the center.

Mother Gertrude asserted that it was necessary to build the kitchen unit first and have it in operation before demolishing the old structure in which it is now located. In this manner the preparation of food for patients during construction of the new hospital will not be interrupted.

It was pointed out that funds donated by the public will not be used in this construction but will be held in trust to be used on the main hospital building.

The architectural firm of Smith and Padgett are preparing plans and specifications for the main hospital building. Mother Gertrude said she expects to award this contract in about six months, contingent upon the availability of materials.

Upon completion, Mother Gertrude pointed out, Monroe and the surrounding area will have available a modern hospital that will easily care for 240 patients. The present facilities, by utilizing all available space, will care for 140 patients.

In addition to the increased number of patients, the hospital will be fire proof, air conditioned and have three minor and four major operating rooms with the latest in surgical equipment and laboratories.

Of special interest, Mother Gertrude explained, will be an entirely new twenty-one bed pediatric department with large play rooms and special treatment rooms.

At least ten beds will be set aside for psychiatric patients on the sixth floor.

An X-ray, unsurpassed by any, Mother Gertrude declared, will be provided on the second floor near the operating rooms. At present, three floors separate the x-ray and laboratory rooms from the operating room and both of these departments at present are badly congested, Mother Gertrude said.

Mother Gertrude stated that she wanted to thank the people of this community for their patience, their generous contributions and support of better hospital facilities for Monroe and the adjoining territory.

Deaths

MRS. ELIZABETH HARRELL

Tallulah, La., Dec. 8. — (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Harrell, 61, who died Friday in a Monroe hospital, will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. in Crothers Funeral Home chapel with the Reverand Rhodes, pastor of Sondheimer Baptist church, officiating.

Intermen will be at Silver Cross cemetery.

Mrs. Harrell is survived by four sons, Lee Harrell, Jackson, Miss., William H. Harrell, Homer Harrell and Rozell Harrell, all of Sondheimer; three daughters, Mrs. Pearl Eldridge, Mrs. Frances People and Mrs. Mary Bdown of Sondheimer; three brothers, Amon Kuhn and Tom Kuhn of Benton. road construction began on schedule, however, shortly after dawn and was expected to be completed by sundown.

Serag El Din's communique said: "Six thousand parachute troops, later supported by 4,000 soldiers, occupied roofs of all buildings in the area, raised white flags on structures to be demolished and encircled the region with tanks and field guns. A British force sealed off the city from the rest of Egypt and cut off all telephone and road communications."

The newspaper Al Zaman, said 250 tanks and 500 armored cars also were used in the operation.

But British spokesmen said only normal precautions were taken to guard men doing the actual work and only five tanks were stationed at the scene. A number of Egyptian spectators watched quietly from a distance of about 300 yards, he said.

About noon, the Egyptian governor at Ismailia explained that Egyptian police had not resisted because the British had not yet actually begun the demolition of houses and the government's orders were to resist attempts to destroy the huts.

But the British at the same time said the engineers already had cleared the approaches to the canal and were bringing up a bridge to throw across the waterway.

Local Baptists are quite enthused over his appearance here and he will have a message of more than ordinary interest, it is assured.

Dance numbers were particularly spectacula and executed with skill that bordered on the professional. From the rising of the curtain to the close of the program, the audience was held almost spellbound and as participants filed from the house, they felt that they had received their money's worth many times over in the entertainment that had been offered.

The Fine Arts Club will hold its annual Christmas party at the Rendezvous, Monday at 7 p. m.

A highly unique program has been arranged which is not to be revealed in advance but those who know declare it is to be unusually unique and a real thriller.

Sponsors are Mrs. Joyce Scogin Burkhalter and Mrs. Edna Blaine Riley.

Neville High School students are feeling quite honored since some days ago they became the foster parents of a boy and girl, displaced and in desperate need because of the inroads of war. The boy is Grecian and the girl Polish.

The children are wards seeking adoption through the Foster Parents Plan for Dependent War Children, Inc., a New York corporation.

The Neville students will be responsible for fifteen dollars monthly for each child, the money to be used for shelter, food, clothing and education. This is a heart - warming project and one that cannot fail to reflect a new relation of international kinship for all concerned. The idea is excellent and still others should assume similar responsibilities.

In the 1860's, wasteage from wells and leakage from tanks and barges covered Oil Creek, in Pennsylvania, with floating oil. People stood along the banks with buckets, skimmed the oil off the top of the water, poured in into barrels and sold it, thus getting a start in the oil business.

The Shreveport Times
Shreveport 94, Louisiana

Dear Mr. Ewing;

We have today in our regular meeting, which was previously set for Nov. 2, 1951, but later postponed until today, considered the request made to Mr. A. A. Fredericks, commissioner of welfare on October 11, 1951. Mr. Fredericks referred this request to us for our consideration.

We note that you are asking the privilege of one of your reporters to study a cross section of welfare client case records in one or more parishes for the purpose of writing one or more articles for your paper and that you suggest that these cases be given only a code identification. We have thoroughly considered this request discussed it with Senator Fredericks and with his staff and have questioned the department's attorney concerning the legality of this matter. We are indeed sorry to say that we think it would be beyond our authority to authorize the examination of client case records as suggested in your letter.

Section 21 of Act 344 of 1938 as amended by Act 212 of 1940, the first paragraph of which was reenacted in the revised statues of Louisiana of 1950, title 46 section 65 reads as follows:

"65. Applications and personnel records to be confidential; penalties for violations.

"All applications for assistance and all case records of clients of the state department shall be confidential; and it shall be unlawful, except for purposes directly connected with the administration of old age assistance, aid to the blind, or aid to dependent children, and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state department for any person to solicit, disclose, receive or make use or to authorize or knowingly permit, participate in or acquiesce in the use of any list or names of or any information concerning, persons applying for or receiving such assistance derived from the records, papers or files, or other records of the state, parish or acquired in the course of the performance of official duties.

"Any person who violates any of the foregoing provisions shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned not more than ninety days, or both."

Kindly note that the second paragraph of the above quoted provisions of the law contains a severe criminal penalty for its violations.

You can readily see from the above quoted statute that if a newspaper reporter is permitted to violate the law that we could not then prohibit the filling station operator, the loan companies, the insurance companies, the grocerman, the banker, and every Tom, Dick and Harry seeing these welfare client case records. As a sort of collateral observation, we believe that in any publication of an accurate description of the situation of clients that the clients themselves could be readily identified by the people who know them best. However, our reasons for not authorizing this examination of client case records is strictly upon the basis of the above statute. I believe that after a careful examination of it, you will reach the same conclusion that we have reached.

Sincerely yours,
W. H. Kilpatrick, Chairman
State Board of Public Welfare

MCLEMORE

who to vote for for governor." He cited a bill important to Louisiana farmers which came up in congress but which did not receive the attention of Louisiana's legislators because they were down here.

"They were not in the place they were sent to serve you," he told the approximately 500 people assembled.

McLemore received the loudest applause when he advocated a constructive road program — by that meaning that he would not wait until six months before the next election to "spread a little gravel, smear a little blacktop in order to perpetuate my administration."

He came out for taking the welfare program out of politics, setting it up on a business-like basis. He said when he was elected governor, those receiving the old age pension would know how much they would get each month, and not be uncertain as they are today.

McLemore advocated a program to help Future Farmers of America and 4-H clubs by allowing the state to underwrite part loans for youths to buy cattle. The program would be handled through the local banks.

"The program is a sound one," he said. "It's already been tried, and it works."

On taxes, McLemore again reaped applause when he said he was tired of "graft and corruption—not only in Louisiana, but in Washington."

"We're getting so little in return for our money," he stated, adding that the Scotch blood in him would aid him in reducing taxes.

Louisiana has the "highest per capital tax in the 48," he said, "and income per capita we're 39th."

He said he believed his agriculture program would increase the state income.

"I will fight with all the energy in my body to maintain our tideland oil," McLemore emphasized at one point.

He pledged to employ a "fully trained penologist for Angola to clean up that cess pool. I'll hold him personally responsible to me to see that the job is done."

McLemore was introduced by Tom Leigh, Monroe attorney. He will be in the 5th congressional district through Wednesday.

JACKSON JOINS COTTON STATES LEAGUE

CLARKSDALE SELLS LOOP FRANCHISE TO JACKSON CLUB

Jackson Rejoins Cotton States League After 15 Years

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 8. —(AP)— Jackson has returned to the Class C Cotton States baseball league by purchasing the Clarksdale, Miss., franchise.

Emmett Vaughey, president of the Jackson Civic Reception Association, announced the purchase today.

Jackson, formerly in the now defunct Southeastern League, was in the Cotton States loop from 1905 to 1908, from 1910 to 1921 and 1924-1936.

Vaughey also announced the appointment of Willis Hudlin as general manager of the club for the 1952 season. Hudlin was general manager as well as field manager of the Jackson Senators in the Southeastern League.

The purchase of the franchise from Clarksdale was made possible by donations from baseball fans here and in the surrounding area. The $5,000 necessary to buy the franchise was all contributed by fans and collections were complete his morning. Vaughey said that more than enough had been contributed.

Included with the franchise in the deal with Clarksdale were 10 players whose contracts were purchased by the local club.

Hudlin, whose Senators won the Southeastern pennant once and finished in first division in the four years he managed the team, resigned as assistant general manager of the Little Rock Travelers of the Class AA Southern association.

Hudlin will serve only as general manager of the new club. Vaughey said a field manager will be named later.

In addition players must be bought and other details of the operation of the club ironed out.

Hudlin said in Little Rock he was very glad to return to Jackson.

"I have always thought of Jackson as a good baseball town and the fans coming through in the contribution drive just proves that point," he said.

The purchase of the Clarksdale franchise and moving it to Jackson marks the return of a Jackson entry in the Cotton States loop after an absence of 15 years.

Jackson joined the Cotton States in 1905 and stayed until 1908. They returned to the league in 1910 and dropped out again in 1921. Under Pres. George Brannon of Jackson they returned to the Cotton States in 1924 and remained until 1936.

In 1937, Jackson joined the newly formed Class B Southeastern League and remained in that circuit until it folded after the 1950 season. The Southeastern did not operate in 1943-44-45 after disbanding in mid-1942 due to World War I.

Players purchased from Clarksdale, none of whom has signed a contract with Jackson yet, are:

William Avant, lefthanded pitcher with a 5-8 record; righthander Joseph Kopack with a 17-20 record; lefthander Pat Savaino, with a 4-8 record; and righthander Wayne D. Martin, who was a reliefer and had no won-lost record.

Centerfielder R. W. Bruce, with a .253 batting average; second baseman George Foster, with a .207 average; catcher William Oberschmidt, with a .243 average; shortstop Rudolph Regelsky, with a .282 average; and leftfielder John Sinnot, with a .240 average.

Hudlin was due to arrive here Monday to meet with local club officials and start the preparations for the 1952 season.

Monroe Sports Purchase Nease

Columbus, O., Dec. 8.—(Special)—Acquisition of Catcher Charlie Nease by the Monroe Sports was announced here today by Business Manager Paul Manasseh. Nease was obtained from Harlingen of the Class B Gulf Coast League in a straight trade for Outfielder Bob Hamric who was named in a simultaneous announcement to manage the Rio Grande Valley team.

Nease participated in 123 games for the Harlingen club last year, hitting .261. He had 112 hits and scored 59 runs. Included in his base hit output were 16 doubles, seven triples and three home runs and he drove in 63 runs.

Hamric played left field for the pennant winning Sports in 1951 and was a disappointment, hitting only .242.

Delhi-Logansport Clash Will Take Place In Delhi

Delhi, La., Dec. 8. —(AP)— Delhi High School's Black Bears will meet a team from Donaldsonville Friday at 8 p. m. in the championship finals of the Louisiana schoolboy class-B football conference.

Delhi, runner up to Clinton in last season's state title race, advanced to the finals by defeating Logansport, 32-26, last night in the semi-finals at Logansport.

Delhi was awarded the site for the final game after submitting a $3,500 bid to Donaldsonville.

Fair Park Advances To Double A Finals By Defeating Terrebonne

Indian's Take Tigers By A Score Of 26 To 13

Shreveport, La., Dec. 8. —(AP)— Fair Park High School's Indians defeated the Terrebonne Tigers, 26-13, here this afternoon and won the right to meet the winner of the Holy Cross - Istrouma game in the state's AA grid championship finals.

The Tribe - Tiger semi-final tilt was a rough affair played on a muddy gridiron as a result of a two-inch rain here this morning. Two players, End John Brocato of Shreveport's Fair Park and Back Charles Grasso of Houma's Terrebonne were ejected from the game by officials.

Fullback Tommy Davis scored twice and converted a pair of extra points for the Indians, before leaving the game with an injured leg in the fourth quarter.

Fair Park took a 7-0 lead in the initial minutes of the first quarter. Center Troy Summerlin scored after scooping a Terrebonne fumble by Quarterback Tom Strait who muffed reception of a Tribe kick on the 10. The 23-yard kick by Davis was dropped by Strait on the 10 and rolled to the five where Summerlin picked it up and carried it across. Davis converted his first of two extra points.

Halfback Carlo Fazio set up Terrebonne's first score in the initial minutes of the second quarter. He intercepted a Fair Park pass by Rogers Hampton on Terrebonne's 30 and carried to its 48. The Terrebonne drive, which included a 23-yard run by Halfback Bob Kimball, was climaxed by Fullback E. J. Chauvin who scored from the one. Strait's try for the extra point was wide.

Fair Park's second tally came on an 85-yard drive with Halfback Don Stinson and Davis reeling off 15 and 18-yard runs before Davis crossed from the one in the final 30 seconds of the first half. His kick for the extra point was blocked by Don Boudreaux.

Davis grabbed his second tally on a 19-yard run in the third quarter and added a point after touchdown for a Fair Park 0-6 lead.

Quarterback Joe May ran 10 yards early in the fourth period for the Tribe's final marker. Halfback Gordon King gave Terrebonne its second score late in the final period scoring from the 12 and Strait kicked the extra point.

Fiar Park scored 13 first downs compared to five for the Tigers. The Tribe gained 77 yards rushing and Terrebonne's ground attack picked up 118.

Score by quarters:

Fair Park	7	6	7	6—6
Terrebonne	0	6	0	7—13

Scoring summary — Fair Park touchdowns — Summerlin, Davis 2, May. Points after touchdown, Davis 2. Terrebone touchdowns — Chauvin, King. Point after touchdown, Strait.

St. Matthews Opens Season

St. Matthews High School's basketball squad open their 1951-52 season with the Louisiana Training Institute Pelicans at L. T. I. Tuesday night.

Coach Jay Broussard, St. Matthew's mentor, said last night that his team this year has only four returning players after losing eight from last year's squad.

The St. Matthew's team this year is composed of two freshmen, one sophomore, and seven juniors, which speaks highly for a good team next year—if they don't pay off even sooner.

Broussard's schedule includes two open dates in his 21 game schedule and he asks that any team desiring to compete with his squad contact him at the high school.

The complete schedule:

December 11——L. T. I. at L. T. I.
December 13—Holly Ridge at St. Matthews.
December 14—Clarks at Clarks.
December 15 — Neville Tournament.
December 18—Open.
December 20—Open.
January 4 and 5 — Calhoun Tournament.
January 10—Holly Ridge at Holly Ridge.
January 11 and 12 — Ouachita Tournament.
January 16—Mer Rouge at St. Matthews.
January 17—Clarks at St. Matthews.
January 25—Start at Start.
January 29 — Eros at St. Matthews.
February 1—Eros at Eros.
February 5—Calhoun at St. Matthews.
February 7—St. Paschals at St. Matthews.
February 8 and 9 — Northeast Tournament.
February 12—Start at St. Matthews.
February 15 — Ruston District Tournament.
February 19—St. Paschals at St. Paschals.
February 22 — Calhoun at Calhoun.

BIG TEN VOTES TO SUPPORT GRID TV

Refuse To Liberalized Financial Aid To Athletes

Chicago, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The Western Conference today refused to liberalize financial aid to athletes and disclosed a willingness to support a controlled national football television policy next year, even if its legality is threatened.

The grid Video sentiment of the conference was revealed in a roll-call in answer to a questionnaire on the subject by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The Big Ten is holding its winter sessions here.

Conference schools unanimously indicated they believe live football television should be controlled on a national basis in 1952. On the subject of supporting a contest of a possible legal test of such a program, the loop voted favorably, 8 to 2.

The N. C. A. A. which must decide what to do about 1952 television at its Cincinnati meeting next month has been harrassed by criticism of this season's 19-game football Video program conducted as a survey to determine the financial dent inflicted by television.

The federal anti-trust department has been curious over its legality.

The extent of 1952 control, however, was not indicated in the consensus of Big Ten opinion.

However, conference schools voted, 6 to 4, against support of a national ban on television, and only two schools favored a Video program more restricted than this year.

Taking cognizance of the national de-emphasis trend in athletics, the faculty representatives rejected a proposal made last spring by the athletics directors calling for more liberalized aid to athletes.

Instead, the faculty group named a four-man committee to shape stricter regulations to govern recruiting and subsidizing.

The liberalization project would have permitted grants - in-aid to cover tuition and allowed a board-and-room remuneration based on 15 hours weekly work outside the affected sports season and eight hours in season. No limit would have been placed on rate of pay.

The directors' proposal was defeated in a 5 to 5 standoff vote.

Under present regulations, an athlete can receive unearned tuition aid if he finishes in the upper half of his high school graduating class and maintains a C scholastic average. Work - aid payments are based on getting what an atalete earns at prevailing rates.

The four-man investigating committee is composed of faculty representatives Ralph Aigler of Michigan and Lloyd C. Emmons of Michigan State, and Athletics Directors Ted Payseur of Northwestern and Guy Sundt of Wisconsin.

The group will report back to the faculty group at the May meeting. Its survey also will touch upon recruiting, described by Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson as "the basic problem" in athletic ills.

Tom Nugent May Succeed Feathers As N. C. Coach

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Tom Nugent, head football coach at VMI, will be interviewed tomorrow for the job of head coach at North Carolina State College succeeding Beattie Feathers.

Dean Malcolm E. Campbell, head of a three - member committee named to recommend a successor to Feathers, said Nugent was invited to meet with the committee at 3 p.m. tomorrow to discuss the job. Nugent also is athletic director at VMI.

CHICAGO CARDS COACH LEAVES

Lambeau Relieved Of Duties Ahead Of Time

Chicago, Dec. 8. —(AP)— Resigned head coach Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau today was relieved of directing the Chicago Cardinals through their remaining two National football league games.

Walter Wolfner, club general manager who has been at odds with Lambeau for weeks announced that three assistant coaches would lead the Cardinals against the Washington Redskins tomorrow and the Chicago Bears the following Sunday.

Lambeau, who announced his resignation last night, had planned to work out his contract which expires Feb. 1, 1952.

The Cards, with a 2-8 League record, will be handled in their last two games by Cecil Isbell, Phil Handler and Buster Ramsey. Isbell had been a backfield star for Lambeau during Curly's long regime with the Green Bay Packers. The other two aides were Cardinal Products.

Wolfner today repeated his previous charge that Lambeau failed to take action to halt "a terrific lack of discipline on the team the past two years." Lambeau took over the Cardinals two seasons ago after 31 years with the Packers.

Wolfner added:

"All he (Lambeau) did was pass the buck, blaming his assistants and various players for the poor discipline."

Wolfner, who entered the Cardinal affairs this year after marrying the widow of the late Charley (Blue-Shirt) Bidwill, former club owner, was mum on the subject of a permanent successor.

However, the name of Joe Kuharich, former Notre Dame and Cardinal guard now coaching San Francisco University, has been projected high among the likely candidates.

Kentucky Denies Knowledge Of Fix

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 8. —(AP)— The University of Kentucky asserted today it had no information that any member of the 1951 - 52 basketball team is involved in the fix scandal.

The statement was released shortly before the opening game tonight against Washington and Lee.

It was given by Dr. A. D. Kirwan, University dean and faculty chairman of athletics. It said:

"As the basketball season opens some doubt may exist in the minds of some people as to the eligibility of members of the present team.

"The university wishes to assure the public that it has done and will continue to do everything in its powers to make certain that every student who participates on its teams is fully eligible.

"The university has no information from the New York district attorney's office nor from any of the boys whose guilt has been established that any member of the present team is involved in fix charges."

There have been indications for some time the university was pressing to clarify the situation before the season opened.

Three former Kentucky players —Dale Barnstable, Alex Groza and Ralph Beard — are among the 30 - odd collegiate cagers who have admitted to accepting money for controlling the point spread in games. The three are awaiting court appearance in New York.

Hyde Takes Lead In Field Of 100 In Senior Tourney

Pinehurst, N. C., Dec. 8. —(AP)— Paul H. Hyde, former New York state seniors champion from Buffalo, led the field of 100 veteran golfers at the end of the first round of the Southern Seniors Golf Association Annual Tournament here today.

Hyde playing in the 60 - 64 years-of - age group, turned in a 34-35-69, one under par for the No. 1 course.

Three strokes behind were Al Ulmer, Jacksonville, Fla., 1950 United States Seniors titleholder, and Parran C. Jarboe, Cochituate, Mass., former New England Seniors champion.

Former champion Richard S. Tufts with a 73, and defending titleholder B. F. Kraffert, Jr., of Titusville, Pa., with a 74, were close behind the leaders.

All of the top shotmakers played either the No. 1 or No. 3 courses, and tomorrow for the final round must play the tough No. 2 championship course.

Ruston Bearcats Meet Ponchatoula In Finals

Ruston, Las., Dec. 8. —(AP)—Ruston High school's Bearcats have won the right to meet Ponchatoula in the state Class A high school football championship game next Friday night.

The Bearcats won the right last night by scoring a safety midway the fourth quarter to defeat Lagrange of Lake Charles 2 - 0 for the North Louisiana Class A high school football title.

When the Bearcats were held for downs on the LaGrange 14, fullback Charley Barham punted to the LaGrange two. Vae Sweeney, who took it for LaGrange, was rushed by tacklers, dropped behind his goal line and was pulled down in the end zone by Billy Smith, Ruston end.

Lenoir Rhyne Hits California Tchrs.

Salisbury, N. C., Dec. 8.—(AP)—The Lenoir Rhyne Bears rolled up an early lead over California State Teachers College of Pennsylvania and then staved off a third - period bid to defeat the Vulcans 13-7 in the third annual Pythian Bowl football game here today.

A crowd of about 4,500 fans watched the charity battle under cloudy skies.

The north state conference champion Bears scored with one minute left in the first half when Steve Trudnak faked a lateral and galloped off left guard for 31 yards and a touchdown.

Lenoir Rhyne made it 13-0 early in the third period as a 27-yard punt runback by Gene Robinson to State's 48 set up the score. Gene's twin brother, Jerry, picked up nine on a reverse and on the next play streaked 39 yards for a touchdown.

Less than two minutes later, the Pennsylvanians got back in the game. Roy Mains took the kickoff on State's 15 and sped 65 yards up the middle before he was hauled down from behind by Gene Robinson on Lenoir Rhyne's 25. Don O'Hara bounced off right tackle for eight and Elmo Natali picked up 12 yards on a spinner to the Lenoir Rhyne five. O'Hara went wide around his own right end for the score.

Proceeds of the game went to Pythian orphan homes in Virginia and North Carolina.

Score by quarters:

California (Pa.)	0	0	7	0—7
Lenoir Rhyne	0	7	6	0—13

California scoring: Touchdowns—O'Hara. Conversion — Pilak. Lenoir Rhyne scoring: touchdowns —Truknak, J. Robinson. Conversions —Trudnak.

MAJOR LEAGUE WINTER MEETINGS START

MAJOR LEAGUES DISCUSS TRADES AT CONVENTION

Williams Off Trade List; Stanky Deal Hangs Fire

By Jack Hand

New York, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Ted Williams came off the market and the American League voted unlimited night baseball today as the Majors swung into their winter meetings.

Eddie Stanky's trade from New York to St. Louis to manage the Cardinals still was hanging in the air.

Williams was taken off the Red Sox trading list by Manager Lou Boudreau, who told a press conference, "Williams definitely will remain at Boston."

In voting unlimited night ball, the American junked the old rule that forced a visiting team to agree to only four night games in each city. They could consent to more but could be forced to play only four.

Under the new rule a visiting club must play at night whenever the home team wants—except on getaway day or Sunday. In addition the clubs will continue to respect an agreement with the players not to schedule night games before doubleheaders or doubleheaders the day before a night game.

This new rule probably will result in even more night action in St. Louis and Washington. The New York Yankees will stick with their old rule of playing only 14 night home games.

In an attempt to solve the confused situation resulting from Sunday curfews in Philadelphia, the American League adopted the National League rule for "suspended" games.

All games called by curfew, an agreement to catch a train or light failure before nine full innings are complted, will be ruled "suspended" and completed at a later date. If nine innings or more are played and an inning is not completed, the game reverts to a tie with a complete replay later.

Games stopped by rain—such as the controversial Chicago - New York game last July—would not be effected. As in the past, such games are governed by the old rules—legal if 4½ or 5 innings are played, completely replayed if washed out in the early innings.

The American League also rescinded a rule adopted last June that did not permit clubs to turn on the lights to complete Sunday games. Under the new law, lights may be used Sunday but no inning is to start after 7:00 p. m. (Local Time).

Each club must register with the league president before the season whether it plans to use Sunday lights. The Three New York clubs—Yanks, Giants and Dodgers—announced they would not use Sunday lights under any circumstances. There is no National League rule against it.

Tom Yawkey, president of the Boston Red Sox, and Walter O'Mailey, Brooklyn president, were reelected to the Major League executive council in separate league meetings.

The owners were so busy during the day, attending lengthy meetings, they had little time to talk trades.

The Stanky-to - the - Cards deal still awaited agreement between Horace Stoneham of the Giants and owner Fred Saigh of St. Louis. A trade appeared likely with New York getting Pitcher Max Lanier and Outfielder Churck Diering.

There was a flurry of excitement in mid-morning when the Red Sox called a hurried press conference. Rumors were flying that Williams had been traded in some Major deal. The announcement came as a letdown.

"I'm tired of taking this talk about clubs offering ordinary men for Williams," said Boudreau. "I want to stop it right now. We are definitely taking Williams off the market.

"I feel every day his importance has decreased because of stories in the papers about trades. It would have had to have been a phenomenal one—to our advantage. Nobody can give as much as I think he's worth.

"To me Williams is the best ball player in the American League and the best in either league.

"I definitely do not anticipate any personality clash with him."

Asked if any club discussed a trade for Williams, Boudreau said, "no names ever were mentioned."

Although he stated Williams was off the market and positively will be with Boston, Boudreau left a little loophole when he said, "of course, I'm not closing my mind to every possibility. But it would have to be a hell of an offer—twice as much as we would have asked at one time."

TULSA TROUNCES COWBOYS, 33-14

Tulsa Makes New National Offense Record In Game

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 8. — Tulsa ended its 11 - game football season today by trouncing the Hardin - Cimmons Cowboys on a snow-saddened field, 33 - 14, with an attack that gave it a new national offense record.

The Golden Hurricane rolled up 538 yards, 320 on passes, for a season's total of 5,282 yards on the ground and in the air.

Most of Tulsa's aerial gains were by quarterback Ronnie Morris who had one of his greatest days. Two of his heaves went for touchdowns—one a 63 - yard play with Jack Crocker and another for 79 with Billy Parsons.

Morris' long completions also figured in the Hurricane's other touchdowns. He and reserve quarterback Tommy Dickerson between them connected eight times in 15 tries.

Hardin - Simmons backed the Hurricane deep in its own territory throughout the snow - swept first quarter. At the start of the second period. Cowboy quarterback Bob Hart, whose short passes propelled a 58 - yard drive, went over from the one for the game's first score.

But in three plays, one a 44-yard Morris pass to Tom Miner, Tulsa also scored, Parsons going the final 36 yards.

The Hurricane immediately marched 72 more, 46 of which was another Morris aerial to End Willie Roberts. And it was only moments later that Morris threw his long one to Crocker for the third counter.

The teams traded third - period touchdowns, Tulsa traveled 72 yards for its tally, counted when Parsons later broke through the line for a 17 yard jaunt.

Hardin - Simmons' second tally came on a 35 - yard pass play from reserve quarterback Jim Riddle to end Chet Lyssy.

The scoring ended on the first play of the final quarter when Morris hit Parsons for 79 yards and a touchdown, the game's longest gain.

Score by quarters:

Hardin-Simmons	0	7	7	0—14
Tulsa	0	20	6	7—33

Hardin-Simmons scoring: touchdowns, Hart, Lyssy; conversions, Offield 2.

Tulsa scoring: touchdowns, Parsons 4, Crocker; Conversions, Miner .

Hayamaka Takes On Scott In Title Bout Here

Sugi Hayamaka, world's light heavyweight wrestling champion, will meet "Mighty" Scott in a championship bout at Gus Kallio's Arena here Tuesday night, and "Red" Lyons takes on Johnny Harmon in a semi-final event.

Kallio last Tuesday night told fans that Hayamaka had a previous championship bout with Jack Curtis in Shreveport scheduled for Monday, but since then he has learned that Hayamaka has decided to forego the Curtis bout and defend his title for the first time in Monroe.

A championship bout is what Kallio promised the customers last week and he had stipulated that if Curtis won the title in Shreveport he would defend his title here the next night. However, Hayamaka's decision not to wrestle Curtis put an end to the speculation on which champion would wrestle here.

Hayamaka won the championship from Henry Harrell, in Jackson, Miss., about three weeks ago and Tuesday night marks his first time to wrestle as a defending champion.

The little Japanese matman has met Scott here twice but both times in tag team matches. Tuesday night's event will be the first singles match of the two matmen and it promises to be a good one.

Scott, of Edinburgh, Scotland, made his first appearance here three weeks ago and has wrestled in tag team bouts here every Tuesday since then. Last week's match, in which he wrestled Hayamaka and Harmon while partnering with "Red" Lyons, was one of the outstanding matches of recent weeks.

The first fall went 65 minutes with Hayamaka finally pinning Lyons to take the match, and the second fall was still in progress when the 90-minute time limit was up. The match was awarded to Hayamaka and his partner since they had taken the first fall, but it was no indication that the match would not have ended differently had it gone the route.

Hayamaka's famous Japanese sleep hold has been used effectively here in both the champion's bouts and the hold goes a long way in deciding the outcome of any fall. Scott has watched the hold in two bouts now, however, and will guard against a repeat performance with himself as the straight man.

The semi - final event is also expected to be a good match as it pairs a strong, husky newcomer, Harmon, with a ringwise veteran, Lyons. Harmon's strength against Lyons skill will decide the outcome of the match.

Harmon appeared here along with Hayamaka in a tag team bout two weeks ago and made an instant hit with the fans. His never-give-up spirit was his main standby in the bout, but with a few more years experience he will be one of the toughest matmen in the ring.

Harmon's opponent, Lyons, is an old hand at the wrestling game. He began his wrestling career on a high school mat squad, went on through Baylor University on the wrestling team there, and was at one time fleet champ of the navy in both the light - heavy and heavy classes. After his enlistment in the navy was up, he turned to professional wrestling and was a judo instructor during the war, as were Hayamaka and Kallio.

The championship match will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win, while the semi-final will go one hour with two falls to win.

Wildlife Election Scheduled Monday

The Louisiana Wildlife Federation's monthly meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday—instead of Tuesday as is the custom—in the Virginia Hotel for the purpose of electing officers for next year.

Clyde Nash, president of the federation, asked that all those who could possibly attend the meeting be there as the success of the organization depends largely upon having responsible officers at it's head.

Also on the agenda at the meeting will be a report of the progress toward securing a game reserve for the Ouachita Parish branch of the federation. The game reserve program was proposed at an earlier meeting, Nash said.

An interesting motion picture of hunting will complete the program.

Osterman Will Play For North In Blue-Grey Tilt

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 8. —(AP)— Russell Osterman, 170 - pound Michigan end, today was added to the north roster for the Dec. 29 Blue - Gray football game.

Osterman will fill a vacancy caused by Jerry Hanifin, St. Bonaventure back, dropping out.

He'll team with Ends Chris Warringer, who starred in the Pittsburgh Panthers' 21-7 upset of the University of Miami last night, Columbia's Wesley Bomm, Pat O'Donahue of Wisconsin and Bill Carey, Michigan State.

HARPER IN LEAD AT MIAMI MEET

Holds One-Lead With Below Par 64

Miami, Fla., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Shifting into high gear with an eagle on the 500-yard fifth hole, Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., sped around the Miami Springs golf course in 64 today to snatch a one-stroke lead in the $10,000 Miami Open Tournament.

His six under par performance, matching the best so far in the meeting, gave the Virginian a total of 199 for 54 holes, 11 under par, and a good chance to win the $2,000 first prize in tomorrow's fourth and final round.

It lifted him out of a seventh-place tie and boosted him past Sam Snead, Tommy Bolt, Bob Hamilton and Toney Penna, the quartet that tied for the lead with 132 at the end of yesterday's second 18-hole trip.

Harper, who fired 69-66—135 in the first two rounds, started today's venture with four par holes. On the long fifth, his second shot with a spoon fell just three feet from the hole and he dropped his putt for an eagle three.

Thereafter, he hit four birdies to carve four more strokes off par for the 6,310-yard course and finished four strokes better for the day than any of yesterday's leaders.

Snead, from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Bolt, from Durham, N. C. shot 68S today to drop into a second-place tie at 200. Hamilton, from Evansville, Ind., took a 69 and fell to fourth place at 201.

Penna, the fourth and most unfortunate member of yesterday's leading quartet, went into a tailspin to take 73 and wind up the day in a three-place deadlock for fifth at 205. Others in the bracket with Penna were Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., and Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y.

Grouped in eighth place at 206 were Al Brosch of Garden City, N Y.; Al Besselinck Mt. Clemens, Mich., and Pete Cooper of White Plains, N. Y.

The only surviving foreign entry, Roberto de Vincenzo of Buenos Aires, Argentina, turned in a 69 today for a total of 209 and was in a five-way for 14th place.

The tournament, free to the public, again drew a large gallery, estimated at about 5,000.

Recreation League

Four basketball leagues, sponsored by the Monroe Recreation Center, take to the court this week to play a total of 14 games and open the season for 19 teams.

The leagues are the Junior "A" league, the Junior "B" league, the Midget league, and the City league. The Junior "A" League is made up of six teams — Red Shield, Key Club, Ouachita Cubs, Independents, Singer Sewing, and Calhoun.

The Junior "B" League has only five teams — L. T. I., Ridge Avenue, DeSiard Optical, St. Matthews, and DeMolay — with DeMolay drawing a bye in the opening round.

The Midget League is composed of the Independents, Red Shield, L. T. I., and St. Matthews; while the City League has Hunt and Whitaker, Red Shield, La. Business College, and West Monroe teams.

A Fifth league is still in the process of organization under Monroe Recreation Center sponsorship. The Church League has not yet enough teams to go into competition, but a meeting has been called for the league Tuesday night at 6:30 in the Selman Field gym.

The complete game schedule for this week follows:

JUNIOR "A"

Two In Running For Coach Post

Starkville, Miss., Dec. 8. —(AP)— Mississippi State College may have a new football coach soon to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Arthur (Slick) Morton.

Bob Hertley, athletic publicity director, said today his best guess was that a successor would be named "within a day or two."

Morton, 36 - year - old former Louisiana State University player, resigned yesterday, effective Jan. 1 to enter private business.

Carl Walters, sports editor of the Jackson Daily News, wrote today that Murray Warmath, assistant army coach, and Bowden Wyatt, Wyoming coach, are "two men in the running" for the Mississippi state job.

Warmath was reported to be "somewhere in the south."

At Laramie, Wyo., Wynatt declined to comment on whether he would be available. He said that he had not heard from C. R. (Doddy) Noble, Athletic Director of the Maroons.

"I have known him for years," Wyatt added. "In fact, he gave me my first coaching job. I imagine that's the only reason my name came up."

Southwest Conference Votes To Cut Down On Some Activities Of Sports

Find No Excessive Athletic Subsidization

By Harold V. Ratliff

Dallas, Dec. 8. —(AP)— The Southwest conference today found no evidence of excessive athletic subsidization among its member schools.

It did move to curtail some sports as to time involved by trimming the period for spring football training and setting a limit for spring basketball practice, which has been running as it pleased in the past.

The faculty committee, governing body of the conference, found that there was an average of 35.2 freshmen per school each year in football and 44.7 varsity players, practically all of them on athletic scholarships.

This was not deemed excessive but each December the picture will be reexamined and if any school is out of line with the others as to the number of athletes, an adjustment will be made.

This was decided upon in line with recommendations of the National Collegiate Athletic association that called for a limit as to the amount an athlete may receive and a limitation of the number of athletic scholarships a school may bestow.

The committee said it felt the conference already had a good rule to limit the amount — it allows tuition, fees, board and room and $10.00 per month laundry money.

The N. C. A. A. had called for either elimination of spring football and basketball training or a limitation to 20 sessions per year each. The committee approved this but went further as to its own rules. Football spring training was cut from 26 sessions in 35 days to 18 in 25 and basketball practice was limited to 18 sessions in a period of 21 days. It also was decided that basketball practice would not start until Nov. 10 each year and that the season would be limited to 20 games. It has been opening Oct. 15 and playing 24 games.

A definite rule governing one phase of excessive entertainment of an athlete was passed, this being a clarification of one on the books which did not expressly specify what constituted such excessive entertainment.

Last year Baylor University was penalized when a prospective athlete was taken by an alumnus of that school to a professional football game in Dallas. The athlete was deprived of a year of varsity eligibility at Baylor.

The committee today ruled that any prospective athlete could be taken by an alumnus or friend of the college on a trip to see an athletic contest in the home town or on the campus of the college in question but could not be taken to another city where that college was participating. The rule works like this:

It was voted that in the future no coach could contact a high school athlete playing in an All-Star game between the time the athlete leaves home to go to the site of the game and his return. It also was voted, contingent on other conferences of the nation taking the same action, that no coach could coach a team for such an all-star game and that college facilities for it could not be provided. However, an exception was made in the case of the Texas coaching schools all-star game which is approved by the Texas interscholastic league, and this would apply in any state where the high school governing body approved such a game.

The N. C. A. A. also had recommended a study of the bowl situation with an idea of eliminating or curtailing the bowl games. A committee of Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the conference; Dr. I. B. Boughton of Texas A&M, Dr. H. B. Hardt of Texas Christian, athletic Director Matty Bell of Southern Methodist and Athletic Director D. X. Bible of Texas was named to study the matter and report at the May meeting of the conference.

UNCLE JAY WINS MIAMI FEATURE

Hermes Comes In Second By Two Full Lengths

Miami, Fla., Dec. 8. —(AP)—Uncle Jay, son of Balladier out of Broomshot, set a swift pace today to win the feature race at Tropical Park before a crowd of 10,692.

Expertly ridden by Antonio J. Fernandez, Uncle Jay covered the six furlongs of the E. R. Bradley handicap in 1:10 4-5 and paid a whopping $60.40, $19.30 ad $5.80 in the $2 mutuels.

Hermes was second and Zagging third as Uncle Jay finished two lengths in front. Hermes was another length ahead of Zagging.

Uncle Jay is owned by the Jaclyn Stable and carried 114 pounds in the $2,500 race for three year olds.

The crowd wagered a record $726,612 on the nine-race program, largest handle of the eight-day meeting to date.

The Brown Hotel Stable's Old Fiddle won the $3,000 Bienville Purse at the Fair Grounds race track, nosing out Henry Forrest's Lonoke lash.

Old Fiddle, ridden by Willie Owen, made the six furlongs in 1:13 3-5. The horse paid $23.40 $8.40 and $5.20.

Lonoke Flash, with Charlie Burns up paid $5.80 and $5.20.

Third was Nobility, owned by Sam H. Wilson, Jr., and ridden by Howard Craig. The $2 ticket brought $5.20.

Ten thousand spectators wagered $394,980.

Haltafire, making a tremendous stretch run, won the $15,000 added San Franciscan Handicap for two-year-olds today at Golden Gate Fields.

Veteran Ralph Neves, in the saddle at 115 pounds, outraced Gordon Glisson, on Gold Land, to win by three and one-half length. Nurse O'War raced third, Aspiring was fourth.

Tiger Sir, with Johnny Longden aboard, went to the post as the favorite but never threatened after a poor start.

The time for the mile was 1:41 on a track labelled slow.

The victory was worth $12,250 to Haltafire's owner, Abraham Hirschberg of San Francisco.

Haltafire, by Haltal out of Fire Falls, was purchased in New York by Hirschberg for $21,500 last September.

The winner paid $12.90, $8.10 and $5.10. Gold Land returned $9.20 and $5.90. Nurse O'War was coupled with Pie Prince as an entry and paid $4.50.

Attendance was 14,289.

White To Take Over As Columbia Reds' Mentor

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 8. —(AP)— Ernie White, 35 - year - old former major league pitcher and a native of Pacolet, will manage the Columbia Reds of the South Atlantic baseball league next season.

This was announced here today by Pres. Bill McCarthy of the Reds. White will succeed Morris (Buddy) Hancken, who managed the club this year.

The new Reds manager, due here early next week, comes here from Charleston, W. Va., where he managed the Senators of the class A Central League this year. The Senators finished fourth.

STANKY ASKS FOR THREE YEAR DEAL

Wants Three Year Contract To Manage Cards

New York, Dec. 8. —(AP)— Eddie Stanky told Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants today he "would like very much" to manage the St. Louis Cardinals but only if he could get a three-year contract.

Durocher telephoned his scrappy second baseman at his home in Fair Hope, Ala., and asked him point blank whether he wanted the Cardinal job.

"I want it very much," answered Stanky promptly.

"We won't stand in your way," Leo assured him. "Mr. Stoneham (Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants) is anxious to do everything in his power to make you happy. However, he regards you as a valuable piece of property and feels he is justified in asking for a fair exchange.

"As far as I am concerned," added Leo, "you're still my regular second baseman. You're still the guy to beat for the job. If I let go, I think we ought to be compensated accordingly."

Stanky, who passed up his daily round of golf today to sit near the telephone, then told Durocher to speak to President Fred Saigh of the Cardinals in his behalf, asking for a three - year pact provided the two clubs agree on the trade which would make Stanky the Redbird manager.

"I am not interested in a lot of money," Stanky told Durocher. "In fact, I'll take very little. I think I could do something with the club but I'll need three years. I don't want a one - year contract, then maybe lose out before I had a real chance. Even a John McGraw couldn't prove himself in one year."

Stanky reportedly received $30,000 last season with the Giants. It's reported he'll ask from $35,000 to $37,000 from the Cards if he's named manager.

Stanky felt he was in a good position since he believes he still has three playing years left.

"I am convinced I can play regularly for two more years and part - time for a third. I think I can help the Cardinals more as a playing manager."

Stanky was assured by the Giants that he would have a lifetime job with the club in some capacity in case negotiations with the Cardinals fell through.

NEVILLS DROPS SEASON'S OPENER

Mississippi State Beats Arkansas State, 67 To 43

State College, Miss., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Mississippi State won its third consecutive basketball game here tonight, in a 67-43 conquest of previously unbeaten Arkansas State.

The Maroons built up an early lead with senior Coyt Vance getting six points before Arkansas State could score and the Maroons were in the lead throughout.

Mississippi State used its regular team only briefly. It was a young team composed of three freshmen and two sophomores that increased the margin of victory.

Pasadena Beats Tyler, 28 To 26

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 8. —(AP)— The Junior Rose Bowl got off to a rousing start with two touchdowns tallied in the first 10 seconds and Pasadena City College went on to stave off a major threat in the final 10 seconds to defeat Tyler, Tex., J. C. by 28-26 today.

Tyler, favored by one touchdown, made a belated splurge deep in Bulldog territory, but a field goal try in the last five seconds was blocked.

Each team scored four touchdowns, and the Texans lost their chance for a tie by missing two tries for point. Halfback Billy Andrews of Tyler ran the opening kickoff 94 yards before many of the 41,971 fans were seated for this sixth annual junior college battle.

On the first play from scrimmage after that, Halfback Al Napoleon, Pasadena's Hawaiian star, took a pitchout and raced 63 yards. Tyler missed its conversion try, but George Textor booted the first of his four placements.

Tyler's 222 - pound fullback, Tomie Ward, added two more touchdowns in the second quarter to give his team a 19-7 lead.

Napoleon, on another pitchout, scored from 19 yards out and Tyler led at the half, 19-14.

The local Bulldogs' other halfback hero, Addison Hawthorne, sank the Tyler hopes with two spectacular runs in the third quarter. The first went for 54 yards and a touchdown, the other 33 yards to pay dirt.

Tyler began a belated passing game in the final minutes and moved closer to Pasadena when Quarterback Bob Page, after completing a 44-yard pass to Ernest Winfrey, hit Guy Thompson for four yards and six points.

Score by quarters:

Tyler	6	13	0	7—6
Pasadena	7	7	14	0—28

Tyler scoring — touchdowns — Andrews, Ward 2, Thompson. Conversions — Davis 2.

Pasadena scoring: — touchdowns — Napoleon 2, Hawthorne 2; conversions — Textor 4.

DEL MAR VIKINGS BEAT RIVER TEAM

Pearl River Loses To Vikings In Memorial Bowl Game

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 8. —(AP)— A beefy crew of Del Mar Junior College Vikings lead by 180 pound Fullback Robert Sweet stormed to a 33 to 6 victory over Pearl River Junior College in the sixth annual Memorial Bowl football classic today.

The Vikings from Corpus Christi scored in every quarter, twice in the fourth, and in between touchdowns plowed through the tissue-thin Pearl River line to ruin Doug Daniels' attempts to keep the Poplarville Wildcats in the fight.

Sweet scored four of Del Mar's five touchdowns and Charley Dollar got the fifth.

Jimmy Mason finally acquired Pearl River's six points with less than a minute and a half left in the game. It was set up on a series of Daniels' passes—the longest a 16 yard pitch to Bill Goff on the 27—and Mason battered over from the one.

Sweet's last three touchdowns resulted from the most spectacular plays of the day.

On the second play of the third quarter the San Antonio speedster sliced off his own left tackle and outran the whole Pearl River defense in a 61 yard touchdown gallop.

He brought the crowd of approximately 13,000 to its feet again in the fourth when he dashed 65 yards for his third TD after grabbing one of Daniels' passes out of the air on Del Mar's 35.

Pearl River's lone score stung Del Mar Quarterback John Burgess into action in the final 60 seconds of the day. The Huntsville field general, unable to find a pass receiver from his own 43, just weaved his way 52 yards through both teams to the Mississippians' five before he ran out of gas. Scoring honors again went to Sweet, who did it standing up on the next play.

Score by quarters:

INDIANS LOSE

Natchitoches, La., Dec. 8. —(AP)—Northwestern State College broke a three-game losing streak overcoming Northeastern State 82-58 here tonight.

Northwestern's Demons were in command from the start and added to a 44-25 halftime margin.

Artie Ranew led the scoring for the Demons with 21 points. Followed by Wafle Lillie with 16 and Tynes Hilderband with 15.

James Shively was top man for Northeastern with 15 points and teammate Arlon Adams netted 101.

Skyraiders Crush Pensacola, 35 To 6

Pensacola, Fla., Dec. 8.—(AP)—San Diego's Skyraiders scored early in the first quarter then romped for four more touchdowns to crush the Pensacola naval air station 35-6 and capture the "National Naval Air Championship" today.

Paul Hernandez, San Diego safety man, broke open the scoring in the first period with an 80 - yard touchdown runback of a punt. Four other touchdowns — two each in the second and third periods — came on the end of powerful ground drives by San Diego as the Skyraiders ground attack was almost unstoppable.

Pensacola made its lone touchdown in the second quarter when Powers plunged over but was unable to convert. Lawrence Levine kicked all five of San Diego's conversions.

So stout was the San Diego defense through the game that Pensacola was never able to penetrate beyond the Skyraiders' 30-yard line except for the one scoring thrust.

A fist fight in the third quarter resulted in one Pensacola and three San Diego players being banished.

Score by quarters:

San Diego	7	14	14	0—35
Pensacola	0	6	0	6—6

Scoring summary: San Diego touchdowns: Hernandez, Markichevich, Jackson, Mancuso, Stephenson. Pensacola touchdowns: Powers. San Diego conversions: Levine.

Louisiana State Cagers Take Alabama, 68 To 61

Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Louisiana State University scored an upset basketball victory over the University of Alabama 68-61 here tonight.

It was the first Southeastern conference game for both teams and L. S. U.'s fourth straight victory of the season.

Alabama's Paul Sullivan was high scorer of the night with 24 points.

Sophomore Bob Pettit, six feet nine inches tall, led L. S. U. with 22 points besides doing a beautiful bit of defensive work.

The game was close all the way until the final eight minutes when L. S. U. edged ahead and then began to freeze the ball.

Both teams displayed a neat, fast break.

L. S. U. led 37-36 at halftime.

North Senior Bowl Team Adds Two More Players

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 8.—(AP)—The North team in the Jan. 5 senior bowl picked up Oklahoma's Tackle Jim Weatherall and Back Dick Alban of Northwestern today.

Weatherall, 230 - pounder who kicked 39 of 7 extra points this year, is an All-America repeater this year. Alban is a 180-pound halfback from La Porte, Ind.

Earlier the North's line gained Bob Griffin and Fred Williams, both Arkansas players.

'PUBLICITY GOOD,' KELLER DECLARES

Former Outfielder Says Sports News Good For Country

Frederick, Md., Dec. 8. —(AP)— Charley Keller, until recently a sports page headliner himself, declared today publicity for athletes is good for the country.

"The country is tending to get soft as far as physical activity is concerned," he said. "The more sports we can promote the more it will do the country good."

The former outfield star for the New York Yankees participated in a panel discussion with a sports writer and two college publicists on the question: "Can too much publicity harm a college sports hero?"

Heinie Miller, former University of Maryland boxing coach, backed up Keller in the discussion at a regional meeting of the American College Public Relations Association.

"Our whole nation is founded in competition," said Miller. "If sports were abolished, any totalitarian nation which might be our enemy would be tickled sick."

Merrell Whittlesey, Washington Star writer, asked if too much publicity might not ruin the sense of values of an individual.

"Ninety-five per cent of the time it will do him more good than harm," replied Keller, who was a star at Maryland before he got into organized baseball.

"Some will get big heads," Keller said, "but those are isolated cases. Most athletes are smart enough to know they have to work for their publicity and will have to keep on working for it in later life.

"The general effect on kids is good. The more kids read of the Dick Kazmaiers (Princeton All-America football star) and the Sammy Baughs (Washington Redskins passing star), the more they will try to emulate them.

Miller added:

"A true champion always behaves like a champion."

Whittlesey wondered if individual publicity could "backfire as far as team play is concerned."

Keller said there is an overabundance of publicity in New York, yet "the outstanding trait of the Yankees was that their team spirit was as good as any college team I ever played on."

Tom Bost, Wake Forest College publicity director, maintained sports publicity "is highly beneficial to the college and the person." He said he knew of several instances where it helped a player get a better job after graduation.

Tom Coleman, sports publicist for George Washington University, cited its Andy Davis as "the most highly publicized football individual in the Washington area — and it didn't hurt him."

Modern domestic turkeys in the United States are developed from breeds imported into the country by early colonists. These breeds were developed from American wild turkeys shipped to Europe by the Spaniards.

STOLEN WEALTH

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya —(AP)— A Malayan leader says Communism in Malay is "nothing more or less then a fabulously wealthy racket".

W. M. MacLeod, member of the Council of the Malayan Association, said he estimated conservatively that the Communists in the jungles were collecting something like $3,300,000 monthly from the sale of stolen rubber.

BOGGS PREDICTS NEW LA. UNITY

Gubernatorial Condidate Concludes In Southwest Louisiana

Opelousas, La., Dec. 8. —(Special) — Gubernatorial Candidate Hale Boggs predicted here today that his election as governor will bring about a new era of unity and teamwork in Louisiana. Speaking here today in one of a series of eight campaign rallies during the day winding up a whirlwind three day campaign tour of southwest Louisiana, Boggs told the crowd that this new era of unity and teamwork will result in more jobs, more payrolls and dollar and cents benefits for all of our people.

Boggs pointed out that one of the principal reasons why Louisiana has been lagging behind other states in so many ways is the fact that we have not been pulling together and working together. He asserted that qualified responsible leadership will bring about this unity and teamwork.

As evidence the gubernatorial candidate cited the support that has come to this peoples movement he added that responsible leaders and men and women from all sections of the state many of whom have never before been together politically are supporting the Hale Boggs ticket. Pledging his cooperation for a better understanding and closer cooperation between the state and local governments in Louisiana Boggs asserted that for too long there has been a separation amounting to discrimination between the state and local governments in Louisiana.

It is obvious he added that local government is the very root of democracy and it is to local governments that the people look for the basic governmental services, policing, fire protection, sanitation and so on. Continuing Boggs said nevertheless it is an unhappy fact that in Louisiana the state government has not cooperated as fully as could be expected with our municipal and parish governments. We have seen several flagrant examples of this during the past three years.

Boggs told the crowd the municipal and parish governments of Louisiana have my full and unqualified pledge that I and my administration will support home rule in principle and in practice. No municipality he added, need fear any violation of this principle for purposes of political reprisal or vindictive spite. We will recognize the rights of cities and parishes and will work cooperatively with them regardless of politics, size or location. This cooperation Boggs continued will be part of the new era of unity and teamwork that we want to bring to Louisiana.

It will be an important part of our program to end the pact of native obstruction or inaction that has prevailed at the top levels of the state administration. In its place Boggs concluded we will substitute positive constructive affirmative action in order that local and state officials can work together for the mutual improvements and benefits of our state. United States Sen. Russell Long speaking here with Boggs and members of the Boggs ticket predicted that if Judge Spaht is elected within six months, he and Earl Long will be the worse enemies in the state.

The only way to work with Uncle Earl is to do what he says. Earl says he wants to retire to Winnfield. Senator Long continued, but I tell you he has something else in mind. Its wiser not to take chances. We've had too much of political deals and not enough of pushing the state ahead. C. E. (Cap) Barham, candidate for lieutenant governor told the crowd here that the governor and his administration candidates have an expensive cheering section following them around the state.

These are state employees, many of whom are using and driving state owned automobiles. Continuing, Barham asserted that when constitutional civil service is restored to Louisiana, these bewildered and subservient employees will not longer have to bown down to the crack of a whip wielded by the governor. At another point in his talk Barham said it is almost unbelievable that the administration candidate for governor is only making one promise to the people of Louisiana and that is if the people would elect him he will continue the same program the same practice and the same policies that are now being carried on in your government in Baton Rouge.

Others who spoke were Chester Coco, candidate for attorney general, Mrs. Ellen Moore, candidate for register of state land office, Douglas Fowler, candidate for state auditor and Herman Guillory, district attorney of Evangeline parish. On Sunday the Boggs campaigners have seven campaign rallies scheduled as follows: Brusly Maurin, 10 a. m.; Pierre Part 11 a. m.; Napoleonville, 1:30 p. m.; Labadieville, 2:30 p. m.; Chacbay, 4 p. m.; Back Vacheire 6 p. m.; Front Vacherie, 7 p. m.

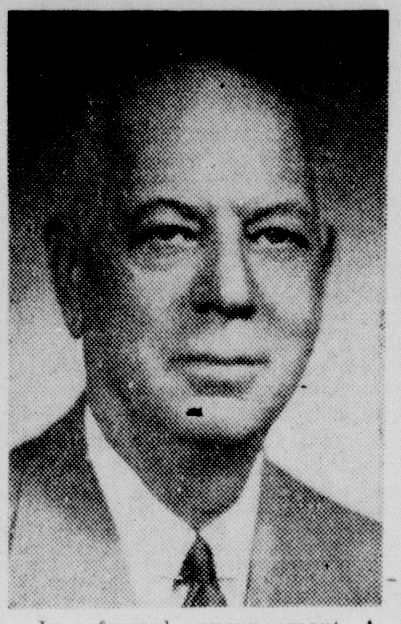
A Sets Of Twins Born In One Day

Philadelphia, Dec. 8. —(AP)— Four sets of twins in less than 24 hours have been born at the Episcopal Hospital.

Officials at the hospital said the birth were a record for a 24 hour period at the 100-year-old institution. The first pair of babies was born at 9:25 a. m. (EST) Friday, and the last set at 8:55 a. m. (EST) today.

There was one set of twin brothers, and three pairs of twin brother and sister combinations. The maternity ward nurses had their busiest day in months.

ASKS RE-ELECTION



In a formal announcement, A. E. Montgomery, Ouachita parish police jury president and seeking re-election as a member from ward 10, asks the support of voters on his past record. He lists the following facts:

1. He has been elected president of the police jury of Ouachita parish for the past six years without opposition.

2. He served as chairman of important finance and road committees.

3. He is a member of the Police Jury Association of the state of Louisiana.

4. Accomplishments: During the past few years, 83 miles of major drainage canals and several miles of lateral canals have been constructed. 80 miles of road has been blacktopped. All of this has been done without any additional taxes imposed on property owners.

If re-elected, Mr. Montgomery pledges himself as being opposed to calling any election to vote additional taxes on the citizens of Ouachita parish.

Lives Are Saved By Quick Action

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 8. —(AP)— A truck - trailer loaded with 16 tons of high explosives pulled up to the naval ammunition depot gate at St. Julien's Creek near here today.

The truck, driven by Frank Young Parker, 26, of Alexandria, Va., was third in line waiting to be checked in. The trailer of Parker's truck had not quite cleared the Virginian railway grade crossing.

Suddenly Parker heard the whistle of an approaching train. He immediately shoved his gears in reverse and got the trailer off the tracks.

But the 50-car train struck the cab broadside and knocked the cab loose from the trailer.

The cab landed about five feet from the trailer and caught fire. Parker was rushed to a hospital with second and third degree burns. Witnesses said Parker's prompt action probably saved many lives.

February Draft Call: 55,000

Washington, Dec. 8. —(AP)— A February draft call for 55,000 men —41,000 for the army and 14,000 for the marines — was issued today by the defense department.

The latest call for uniformed manpower is 4,650 less than that for January. It will bring the total drafted since selective service was reestablished in September, 1950, to 849,330, of wrom 782,000 have been for the army and 67,330 for the marines.

Neither the navy nor the air corps has called for draftees so far. They depend on volunteer enlistments.

The February call will be the second largest since March, 1951, when 80,000 were inducted. It is the largest draft for the marine corps since it began to dip into the selective service manpower pool last August.

NO PARADES, PLEASE

Isn't it surprising how easily people can forget the more gruesome parts of their lives, and turn to the more pleasant things of everyday living?

Like yesterday, for instance, I went uptown shopping (and to pay those perpetual bills) and found exactly five persons who placed any significance on the date, Dec. 7. It's really something.

In 10 short years almost everyone seems to have forgotten a certain crucial Sunday that was to play such an important part in the lives of each of them. How could they forget? I don't know, ask them and brace yourself for another shock. The usual answer is: "I just hadn't thought of it."

I'll bet my last pair of socks they would have remembered had we lost that conflict; they would have remembered it every single day they lived in slave labor for the enemy, which would not have been many.

"I think it is particularly sad that our average citizen has to be reminded that so many of our youth have so needlessly died that they might continue on their way to their choice of church, look at their choice of plays, movies and parades, to read the books they please, yes, it all seems so futile.

"Those boys wouldn't ask you for a parade in their honor, they didn't like the idea of a lot of marching, whether it was in a Saturday dress parade or a Bataan Death March. No, they wouldn't ask you to do anything like that, but don't you think they would appreciate knowing that they weren't just so many more victims of a lost cause? I think they would.

"Don't think that I'm another glorified flag-waver, or a psycho who got that from being there. I was one of the luckier ones who saw the less lucky ones coming to the rear. Thanks, I don't want a parade, either. J. W. S.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAY SHOWN

Neon Sign Service Co., 507 North 6th st. invites the public to come by and view the attractive neon Christmas display erected next door to their company. Over 350 ft. of neon was used to construct this display. Parents are urged to bring the children as they seem to enjoy seeing Santa and the running reindeer.

Canadian Army Reveals Casuality List: 1 Killed

Ottawa, Canada, Dec. 8. —(AP)— The Canadian army today issued its 81st casualty list of the Korean war, reporting one man killed in action, four men wounded, and one man injured.

The list brought to 579 the number of casualties suffered by Canadian troops in the Korean campaign. This includes 118 dead, 405 wounded, 51 injured and five missing.

Cpl. Orval E. Swan, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Swan, of West Monroe, is spending a ten day furlough in the home of his parents. Cpl. Swan is stationed at Mac Dill A. F. B., Tampa, Florida, where he is serving with the U. A. Air Force.

Mrs. Allbritton Is Music Judge

Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton, a member of the music faculty at Northeast State College, served as one of the judges in the piano concerto contest of the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra held in Shreveport recently.

Winner in the college division was Noel Tipton, Centenary college student from Many, La. In the high school group, Jimmy Stafford was chosen.

The two winners of the contest will appear as soloists in the Christmas concert of the orchestra today at 4 p. m. in the Municipal auditorium, Shreveport. John Shennault will conduct the performance.

Tepton will be heard in the first movement of Schumann's Piano Concerto in A Minor. Young Stafford will perform in the Mendelsska Concerto in G Minor, second and third movements.

Joe Monroe, student at Northeast State College, was last year's college division winner and appeared as soloist with the symphony. His selection was Liszr's Hungarian Arie for Piano and Orchestra.

There are sixteen entrants this year.

OH, NO!

Omaha, —(AP)— An Omaha woman called the automobile license bureau well in advance of issuance of 1952 plates to ask for the same number she had last year.

"It's the only one I remember", she said.

"Just what is your number, ma'am", the clerk asked.

"Well, that's funny", she replied. 'I can't remember'.

SEASON TIP

Kokomo, Ind., Dec. 8. —(AP)— The change in sports seasons gave police their tipoff to a shoe store burglary.

The burglar had stolen some new basketball shoes and $295 in cash. Police said today they tracked down a 12-year-old boy through a pair of old tennis shoes left behind in the store.

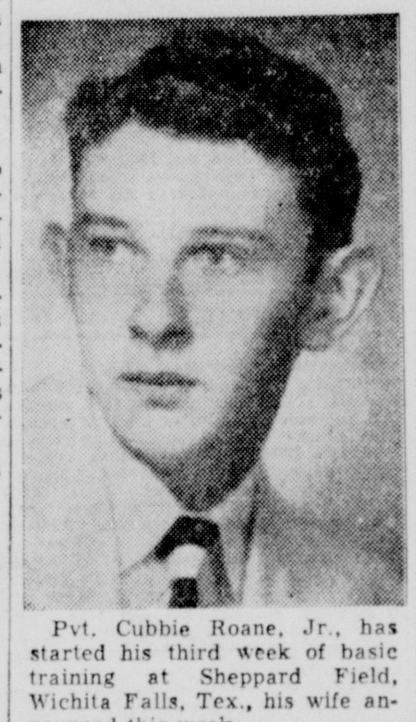
IN TRAINING



Pvt. Cubbie Roane, Jr., has started his third week of basic training at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Tex., his wife announced this week.

Pvt. Roane, of 602 Adcock, Monroe, before his enlistment in the Air Force, was an employee of United Gas Corp.

He is a graduate of North Fulton High, Atlanta, Georgia, and he attended Northeast Junior College of L. S. U.

Ten U. S. Airmen Are Found Dead

Cuges - Les - Pins, France, Dec. 8. —(AP)— Ground search parties found all ten crewmen and passengers dead today when they reached the charred wreckage of a U. S. air force C-47 which crashed Thursday night on Joug De L'Aigle, or Eagle Perch.

The big transport, flying from Tripoli, North Africa, had shattered itself against the rocky hillside 30 miles east of Marseille.

The wreckage was scattered over an area of 500 yards about two-thirds of the way up the side of the 3,500-high peak, the highest in the Saint Baume range. Rescuers had an hour's hard climb to reach it.

The plane was last heard from Thursday night when it reported its position over the Mediterranean 40 miles south of Marseille, and said it was letting down to an altitude of 3,000 feet preparatory to landing at Marignane airport at Marseille.

A strong south wind apparently had blown it off course without the pilot's realizing it.

DODSON

Miss Patsy Smith and Mrs. Hammett of Jonesboro visited Patsy's grandmother, Mrs. J. G. Smith and Stanley, Sunday.

Mrs. E. A. Brooks, Betty Jean Brooks and her friend Carol Thompson of Baton Rouge visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Terrell last week; they were accompanied home by Mrs. Terrell and Edna.

Mrs. Paul Uzenski of Pineville is working here this week in the interest of the Methodist Ladies' Aid Society.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Glen T. Pine and children who were guests of the Lees had a delightful visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lee of Monroe Tuesday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Pine and children went on to Natchitoches to visit with his mother and then returned to their home in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ferguson and Cindy of Shreveport spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Gaar.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross and sons of Winnfield were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Pullen.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hogan were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Pepper of Jonesboro.

Mrs. Edith Terrell entertained at her home here Sunday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Connie Faye who was 10 years of age. Connie greeted her guests at the living room door. Games were enjoyed on the lawn and the group took pictures of each other, after which the guests were taken in and all sang "Happy Birthday" and blew out the candles on the cake. The cake was beautifully decorated with pink rosebuds and green leaves. After the many lovely gifts had been opened, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Howard French, Mrs. Carthal Payne, and Miss Margaret Ann Terrell to 23 guests. Those not attending but sending gifts were Paul Vane Gaar, Stanley Smith and Miss Patsy Smith of Houston, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Meardy House and Sherry of Shreveport came over for the week end with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Terrell.

Dodson relatives and friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Lettie Elliott at New Hope Methodist Church Friday afternoon.

Mrs. A. L. Mixon returned home Thursday of last week after a visit in Lake Charles with her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Keckler and family.

Miss Floye Arnold Kimball Bride Of William Bert Tolar

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Ceremony At First Baptist Church Of Jonesboro

The First Baptist Church of Jonesboro, candle-lighted and decorated in simplicity was the setting for one of the loveliest and most impressive weddings, November 22, at half past five o'clock, uniting in marriage Miss Floye Arnold Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Orange Kimball of Hodge and the Rev. William Bert Tolar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dane Tolar of Jonesboro.

The Rev. John Wordy Buckner, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Crossett, Ark., heard the double ring wedding vows.

The baptistry and the choir loft were artistically decorated with arrangements of slender glowing tapers in branched candelabra entwined in a base of trailing Plumosos fern casting a soft glow over the pedestal baskets of Ambassador chrysanthemums shading in colors from yellow to deep orange, entwined with berry red leaves and centered with trailing bouquets of button chrysanthemums and asters. The chancel of the church accentuated with yellow chrysanthemums a myriad of slender white tapers in floor candelabra made a lovely setting for the wedding scene.

Clusters of gay autumn leaves with pompons tied with bronz satin bows marked the pews down the central aisle of the church.

While usher groomsmen, James Moore, Aubrey Gregory of Jonesboro; Joe Boles of Forth Worth, Tex., Allison Moore of Shreveport and Billy Wayne Holloway of Pollock, La. were seating guests, Mr. George Hughes, at the organ rendered several nuptial selections including: "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Evening Star" by Tannahouser and "Meditation" by Faulkers. He also accompanied Miss Helen Calloway who sang "I Love Thee," and "At Dawning" by Cadman. Candles were then lighted by Miss Doris Jean Gibson of Goldona and Miss Dorothy Jones of Pineville. They wore identical dresses of clover green faille with matching capelets.

To their waists were attached dainty flower bouquets of wheat and bronze pom-poms in a circle effect. Following the lighting of the candles the soloist sang, "The Love Of God." Last to take their places before the entrance of the bridal party were the mothers of the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Tolar and Mrs. Kimball. Mrs. Tolar was becomingly dressed in a black gabardine suit, complimented by a small black feather trim hat with a soft green under trim. Her accessories were black and she wore an orchid colored orchid as her corsage.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kimball was wearing a mauve crepe dress with a drape effect and a scalloped stand up collar softened by an under color of blush pink, matching her velvet hat with its scalloped rim and soft pink underlining. Her other accessories were black velvet and she chose an orchid corsage of soft pink hue.

To the strains of the bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, the bridal party approached the altar where they were awaited by the bridegroom and his best man, James Tolar of Sulphur, brother of the groom. Following the usher groomsmen, was the junior bridesmaid, Miss Pattie Gale Altazin, of Baton Rouge. Her gown had a fitted bodice of Persian purple faille with nylon net skirt of lilac and a matching stole which gathered to a bustle effect in the back. She wore a bandeau of nylon net attached to her mask veil of lilac touched with a sprig of colored wheat.

She wore short, white gloves and carried a bouquet, fashioned after a double-wedding ring of colored wheat, bronze and gold pom poms and croton leaves shading from berry red, bronze, yellow and green. The bridesmaids who followed were Miss Maureen Tilton of Elizabeth and Miss Mary Ann Funderburk of Jonesboro. Their gowns were of matador faille with matching capelets.

Next in the march were bridesmaids, Miss Joy Louise Woods of Rayville, and Miss Mary Jena Philips, of Jonesboro, dressed in copper kettle faille with matching capelets, their bouquets matching the junior bridesmaids. Then came the matron of honor, Mrs. Lavance Carson of Lake Charles, and the maid of honor, Miss Loidene Cuniff of Houston, Texas. These honor attendants wearing gold faille gowns with very full skirts, and fitted bodice. The set-in neckline draped into soft folds and each attendant wore white gloves and carried bouquets fashioned after a double-wedding ring. And each wore mask veils matching her gown in color with two sprigs of wheat colored to match her gown.

Preceding the flower girls was the ring bearer, James Earl Gibson, of Hodge, cousin of the bride. He wore a white linen suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow covered with rosepoint lace.

A cousin of the bride's Miss Sandra Gale Warwich of Minden, and a niece of the bridegroom, Miss Patricia Gregory of Jonesboro, served as flower girls. They were identically attired in nylon net of lilac and Persian purple faille as were the junior bridesmaids. They wore flowers in their hair entwined with nylon net. They carried minature Toinette baskets of yellow rose petals.

As the peal of the chimes sounded to the fullness of the wedding march, Miss Kimball entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. A brunette of classic type, she was radiant in her gown of white slipper satin. The fitted bodice featured a graceful sweetheart neckline on an illusion yoke of nylon net encrusted with crystal beading, irridescent paillettes, seed pearls and opal sequins. The long, tapered sleeves came to a lily point over her hands. Tiny covered buttons extending down the back of the gown terminated an enormously bouffant skirt which swirled into a cathedral train. Her fingertip circular veil was of French illusion, and fell from a coronet of satin pleats and clusters of orange blossoms which accentuated the illusive train. Around her neck on a fragile gold chain, she wore her bridegroom's gift a pendant, fashioned with floating opals.

Beneath her white Bible covered with blue lace on velvet tubing was her round bouquet of white daisies on one side and small, white baby orchids with yellow throats on the other. Preceding the wedding vows, Mrs. Bullard Jones of Pineville interpreted Elizabeth Barret Browning's "How Do I Love Thee," During the ceremony the organist played softly, "My God and I" and "Abide with Me". Following exchange of vows, as the bride and groom knelt, Miss Dorothy Jones of Pineville, sang, "The Lord's Prayer" arranged by Marlotte, as the benediction. The peal of the chimes rang out again as the wedding party left the church.

The groom is a graduate of the Jonesboro Hodge High school, graduate of Baylor University, of Waco Texas 1948-49, vice-president of Baptist Student Union of Baylor University 1949-50, president of Baptist Student Union; also served as president of Louisiana Club and was elected to Who's Who in American University and Colleges, and is also a member of Baylor Honor Council. Having worked a year at Baylor University on his master's degree, he is now attending the Southwestern Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, Tex. He pastors Wellborn Baptist Church at Wellborn, Tex.

The bride is a graduate of the Jonesboro Hodge High school and she attended Louisiana a College where she was president of the college theatre and director of Alpha Si Omega, also the Booster Club and a member of the B. S. U. council and was elected to Who's Who homecoming court during her freshman year and was Maid in May Pageant during her junior and senior year. She was awarded the Blue L for outstanding speech work.

Reception

Following the ceremony there was a large reception at which Mr. and Mrs. Kimball, parents of the bride were hosts at their home in Hodge. The receiving room was beautifully decorated with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums arranged with autumn leaves and Pampos grass. The mantle held a large fan-shaped arrangement with these autumn hues. A golden cage with love birds and decorated with flowers graced the piano where Mr. George Hughes played the reception music.

White and gold tones were the theme of the dining room. The bride's table, covered with an exquisite cloth of Belgium linen, was centered with a square wedding cake, built to proportions with graduated tiers and supported by slender columns nestled in graceful white swans and forming a temple of love between the third and fourth tier and on whose top tier was ensconced a minature lighted church with a minature bride and groom on the steps. The white cake was embossed on its second tier with white flowers having a yellow center and light green leaves. At the base of the cake were fresh flowers of the same design entwined with tiny satin bows.

Below the mirror covering almost all of the table was banked with broad border with shimmering prisms of the crystal candelabras and holding white tapers and Peg Nappies in which floated yellow chrysanthemums were reflected in the gleaming mirror, surrounded by yellow and white daisies and plumoses fern tied with dainty satin ribbon. The round table from which punch was served continued the color scheme with its white linen cloth and golden colored punch. Along with the flowers surrounding the punch there was a double wedding ring of button mums mounded into a heart of floating ice. The gift room was decorated in colors of pink and white. The tables on which the gifts were displayed were covered with pink cloths and around the edge of the tables were ribbons fashioned into formal bouquets centered with yellow flowers. Tiny wedding bells were tied to the satin streamers. Along the tables a treasure chest was decorated to display some of the gifts.

Guests were greeted at the door by Miss La Nell Driskill and Miss Jo Ann Durham of Hodge becomingly dressed in ballerina length models. Gracefully attired in striking formals and floating with yellow mints were Miss Bernice Carson and Miss Billie Joe Maxwell both of Hodge. Misses Della Gillory of Monroe and Mona Henry, Janice Irvin of Jonesboro, lovely in striking formals passed individual cakes and punch on silver trays to guests. At the guest register were Mrs. Waylond Gibson of Hodge and Miss Hazel Shively of Jonesboro. Mrs. Roy Howard of Gladwater, Tex., and Miss Christene Sutton of Pineville alternated at the cake with Mrs. J. E. Calloway of Hodge, and Mrs. H. E. Jordan of Fort Worth, Tex. Presiding alternately at the punch bowl, were Mrs. J. P. Finton, Mrs. William Newman, Mrs. Prentis Harveston of Hodge and Mrs. Jack Jaggers of Jonesboro. Serving coffee were Mrs. Artis Meyers of Hodge and Mrs. J. C. Johnson of Jonesboro. Assisting in the gift room were: Mrs. Aubrey Gregory of Jonesboro, Mrs. James Tolar of Sulphur, Mrs. Roy Odom of Baton Rouge and Mrs. Willie Mae Williamson of Jonesboro. Others assisting with the courtesies of the evening were; Mrs. I. A. Funderburk, Mrs. J. D. Koonce, Mrs. H. M. Gatlin all of Jonesboro.

Leaving on their wedding trip the new Mrs. Tolar was wearing a warm brown velveteen suit with a mink fur scarf, Her fur hat was alabastrine in color with a mellon ribbon and matched with alabastrine gloves. Her other accessories were brown. After the wedding trip the couple will be at home in Fort Worth, Tex.

Lenwil School Observes 'Father's Night' Recently

Parents and teachers of Lenwil school observed Father's night by having "Open House." Dads were especially invited to attend. Each teacher was in her room with a reception committee of children to welcome visitors. There was a display of the work that was being done by the pupils of each grade so that mothers and fathers could see how their child was progressing and have an opportunity to talk over his or her work with the teacher. When the bell rang, everyone went to the cafeteria for the program.

Mrs. Fred Parrott called the house to order followed by a word of prayer from Mrs. Hosea Russell. The teachers had prepared a very nice program, and everyone enjoyed hearing the children recite and sing. "A Boy To His Stomach" was given by Hilda Jean Brantley. The boys' choir sang several numbers accompanied by Miss Gertrude Gregory Lenwil, principal. "A Kentucky Philosophy" was given by Delores Jackson.

The minutes were then read by Mrs. E. A. Banks. Mrs. M. L. Owens, treasurer gave her report. Mrs. M. L. Wilbanks, membership chairman, thanked everyone who had helped with the membership drive. She stated a gain over last year's membership of eleven members and was confident that all goals would be reached.

Mrs. L. A. Whitlock reminded everyone that the study course would be at one-thirty December 20th.

The film "Democracy and What It Means" was shown. Mrs. Terrall's fourth grade won the room count.

Mrs. Parrott expressed appreciation for the splendid cooperation of Mrs. H. D. Crew, social chairman, in preparing the refreshments which were served by the room mothers.

Miss Bessie Irene Noble Weds Louis R. Westerburg

First Methodist Church Of Winnsboro Is Setting For Impressive Ceremony

In an impressive double-ring ceremony marked by dignity and beauty, Miss Bessie Irene Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Noble, of Winnsboro, was united in marriage to Louis R. Westerburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Westerburg, Sr. of Winnsboro. The wedding was solemnized November 17, at 6:00 p. m. at the First Methodist Church of Winnsboro by the pastor Rev. W. H. Bengston assisted by Rev. C. B. Hall, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Winnsboro in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives.

Forming a beautiful setting for the exchange of nuptial vows were slender white cathedral tapers burning from a myriad of Candelabra against a background of wax magnolia leaves. Magnolia leaves were artistically arranged along the altar rail with large pedestal baskets filled with white gladiolas and fern. A large white wedding ring made very delicately with lace trim hung at an advantageous point beyond the altar.

Preceding the ceremony, and throughout the entire program an air of reverence expressed in music, softly pervaded the atmosphere of the church as Miss Elizabeth Landis rendered selection after selection of appropriate numbers on the Hammond organ. Mr. James D. Mays served as soloist for the evening, singing the traditional "The Twenty Third Psalm" and "Because." As the bride and groom knelt at the altar during the ceremony, Mr. Mays sang "The Lord's Prayer." Immediately preceding the ceremony, a beautiful poem "I love Thee Because" was impressively delivered by Mr. Cale Martin. Organ accompanyment to this beautiful ode was provided by Miss Landis.

The candles were lighted by Miss Irma Jean Noble, sister of the bride. She made her appearance wearing an emerald green suit with dark accessories and a lovely yellow corsage of chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in navy blue with white accessories. Her only ornament was a diamond brooch, a gift from her mother. She held a white yellow-throated orchid on a white prayer book from which fell sprays of lily of the valley and white satin streamers. She wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue; and of course, in her shoe was an English sixpence.

Mrs. Wallace Percy of Afton Villa, sister-in-law of bride was matron of honor. Mrs. Percy was wearing a brown suit with brown accessories, a powder blue hat trimmed with small rhinestones, a pearl rhinestone necklace and earrings. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

Little Rose Adelea Noble Percy, niece and god child of the bride, was the flower girl. She was dressed in ice blue taffeta trimmed in white lace, and a hair band made into a wreath of ice blue and flesh tiny for-get-me-nots. She held a white basket trimmed with blue ribbon filled with flesh and blue mums.

Master Noble C. Bowden of Oak Grove, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. He carried the rings in two large rings made of satin supported gracefully on a small satin pillow.

Mr. Cale Martin of Winnsboro served the groom as best man.

Ushers were Rudolph McIntyre, W. B. Scriber and Bill Noble—all of Winnsboro.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mills of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Percy and family of Afton Villa near St. Francisville, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Acklin, Jr. of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bowden, Carol and Noble Bowden, Elizabeth Noble—all of Oak Grove Miss Yvonne Lusk and Mrs. Chester Martin of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ouachita Parish Society For Crippled Children Plan Party

Annual Christmas Event To Be Held At Booster Hall For 495 Children

Plans for the annual Christmas party for crippled and handicapped children, under the guidance of Mrs. Allen Ritter, chairman, are rapidly being completed.

Invitations have been mailed by the Ouachita Parish Society for Crippled children and adults to 495 children living in Ouachita parish.

Each year the annual Christmas party is held at the Missouri Pacific Booster Hall which is made festive for the occasion with gay decorations and a gigantic tree strung with multi-colored lights.

There awaiting the children will be a jolly Santa Claus with a pack full of toys. Tables are laden with goodies such as fruit, nuts and toys. Ice Cream and cake with cold drinks will be served.

Plans for the party this year call for the Rev. R. L. Ross to act as master of ceremonies. Miss Armandine Renaud has charge of the entertainment.

Among other things on the program, will be the colored choir of the Martin Temple Church. They will sing the old and much loved Christmas songs.

Mrs. Meyer Glazier is very ably assisting Mrs. Ritter as chairman. To her falls the important task of collecting and distributing to each child a toy and an article of clothing

Mrs. Milling Bernstein and Mrs. Paul Blackman have charge of candies. Other members of the refreshment commmittee are Mrs. Henry Hinkle, Mrs. Bert Heinberg, Mrs. David Aron and Mrs. Arthur Wedemeyer.

Captain Tom Dupree is responsible for transportation of packages and children.

Other members of the board who are assisting Mrs. Ritter are Mrs. W. J. Veazey, Miss Pearl LeFevre, Mr. Underwood Fourmy, Mrs. L. A. Masterson, Mrs. Ben Stern, Miss Ovelle Thomas, Mr, Alan Sugar, and Mr. Clay Albright.

All members of the board and all local merchants who have so generously contributed to bring happiness to so many children are cordially invited to attend the party, which will be held Thursday afternoon December 20th at 2 p. m.

Miss Kathleen McHenry Is Bride Of Edgar Carver Wilkins

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows In Impressive Home Ceremony

In an impressive home ceremony Miss Kathleen Anne McHenry exchanged nuptial vows with Edgar Carver Wilkins Saturday afternoon, November 24, at 2:30 o'clock. The wedding was held at the home of the bride's cousins, Misses Olive and Edith Gunby with Dr. A. M. Serex, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating in the presence of close friends and members of the two families.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. C. Copeland and Mr. B. G. McHenry, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. A. W. Wilkins, Sr.

The impressive vows were heard before the improvised altar of giant white chrysanthemums and magnolia foliage. Elsewhere were placed arrangements of smaller white mums and on the mantle burned white tapers in brass candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a wedding gown of ballerina length of white lace over satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a yoke of nylon net scalloped with seed pearls with bouffant skirt. The long, pointed sleeves of lace were buttoned with tiny buttons of self-material which were also used down the back of the bodice. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace edged with seed pearls and a row of pink orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was an heirloom sunburst pin worn on the bodice. She carried a bouquet of white roses with white satin streamers.

Miss Sarah McHenry, maid of honor, and only attendant, was wearing a ballerina length dress of lavendar marquisette over lavendar taffeta. She wore a bandeau of lavendar taffeta and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink and lavendar chrysanthemums tied with pink satin streamers.

Mr. A. W. Wilkins, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Copeland, mother of the bride was wearing a blue crepe afternoon dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink glamelias. The groom's mother, Mrs. Wilkins, wore a black taffeta with velvet trim. Her accessories were of black and she wore a corsage of white glamelias.

A reception was held following the wedding.

Guests were welcomed by Misses Olive and Edith Gunby and Mrs. Robert Johnson.

Placed at vantage points about the dining room were low bowls holding pink perfection camellias.

Mrs. George Gunby served the cake. She was assisted by Mrs. J. F. Curry, Mrs. Guyton Powers and Miss Armandi McHenry. Mrs. A. W. Wilkins, Jr., presided at the guest book.

For their wedding trip to the Ozark mountains, the bride was wearing a black suit with white blouse, hat and gloves. Her other accessories were black. She wore a corsage of white roses. Upon their return they will be at home in Monroe.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, Northeast Louisiana State College and Louisiana State University. She received her B. A. degree in June, 1950, and certificate of social welfare in June, 1951. She is a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Mr. Wilkins graduated from Neville High School, Northeast Louisiana State College and Louisiana State University.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Malcolm Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pierce, and children, of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carres, of Lafayette; Captain and Mrs. Robert Johnson and children of Tampa, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wilkins, Jr., of Lake Charles; Miss Mary Lee of Lake Charles; Miss Ann Crow, Razin, Ark.; Miss Madge McEacham of Delhi; Miss Joyce Tolen, of Baton Rouge.

Former Rayville Girl Attends Social Event In Wiesbaden, Germany

Wiesbaden, Germany — Mrs. Charlie C. Eby, the former Marjorie Newberry, of Rayville, La., attended recently a coffee hour for newcomers of the Officer Wives' Club of Wiesbaden.

The prime purpose of this club is to assist our government towards developing democracy and creating mutual understanding between Germans and Americans by helping the poor of the area through constructive welfare work. Once a month the officers's wives hold a coffee hour for the often forgotten elderly German ladies, who are living on tiny pensions without families or friends. It gives these women a warm place to meet socially and gives the Americans a chance to learn where assistance is needed most. The club also maintains a year round program for collection and distribution of clothing. All donations from the States and from personnel stationed here are eagerly sorted out and given to the never ending queue of children and adults. With the approaching Christmas season, everyone is cooperating with the Wiesbaden Community Council Welfare Committee, raising money to provide some sort of cheer for unfortunate Wiesbaden families and institutions. Members of the Officers Wives Club are busy dressing dolls, mending toys and darning clothing for this worthy project. Wiesbaden, the U. S. Air Forces Capital of Europe, is no exception - the women of every American community in Germany are actively engaged in similar welfare work.

Mrs. Eby came to Germany for the second time on 15 October, to join Captain Eby, who is assigned to Headquarters U. S. Air Forces in Europe. Her previous tour in Wiesbaden was from 1946 to 1949, and she and her husband traveled widely throughout Europe, exploring places like Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, France, Czechoslovakia, Italy, England and Scotland. Captain Eby's new tour of duty over here will be for probably three years.

Mrs. Eby attended the Rayville High School and the Underhill College. . .The Captain attended the University of the South, Swanee, Texas and the Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, La. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Eby reside at 105 Texas, Monroe, La.

Mrs. and Mrs. Harry S. Truman were married June 28, 1919.

The Review Club Meets With Mrs. DeWitt Henry

'The South In Biography' Is Given By Mrs. A. T. Givens At December Meeting

Mrs. DeWitt Henry welcomed members of the Review Club into her home December 3 for their semi-monthly meeting. Attractive seasonal flower arrangements were placed at vantage points.

Following the reading of the club collect, in unison, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., the club's president, conducted a business session during which she gave a message from the president of Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs. Members volunteered to assist the Salvation Army in their Christmas Kettle collection.

The program for the afternoon, the third in the series entitled "The South in Biography" was introduced by Mrs. A. T. Givens, chairman of the advisory board. Living as the south does according to a design in a large measure set in a Reconstruction and slavery past, the life and work of even any one southerner is best comprehended by the reader who has a fresh perspective on certain of the component parts of the basic design.

Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr.'s review of "A Union Officer in the Reconstruction", by John William De Forest was most interesting and informative. Literary critics have begun to recognize De Forest as one of the neglected figures of nineteenth century American letters. A Union officer, De Forest, stationed in South Carolina in the crucial period of October 1866 - January 1868, observed with interest the life and the people around him. His writings show an unusual gift for vivid, accurate and perceptive reporting upon that phase of American history which makes the account of his experiences during Reconstruction of historical importance.

Mrs. William Inabnet supplied nutrients to the afternoon's study with her interesting review of "The Making of a Southerner" by Katherine Du Pre Lumpkin. The author succeeds in filling in De Forest's background and brings it up to date. She discusses with honesty and courage a south dominated by the race question. In a very effective manner Miss Lumpkin poses clearly certain problems which confront all southerners, and an understanding of which is so vital to any study of the south or southerners.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Henry served a delicious dessert course with coffee to the following members: Mrs. F. C. Breese, Jr., Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., Mrs. Ben Cobb, Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. A. T. Givens, Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. D. M. Moore, Jr., Mrs. William Inabnet, Mrs. Sam Smith, Mrs. Corbin Turpin and Mrs. L. N. Waddell.

Miss Shelby Meek Honored At Prenuptial Parties

Bridal Luncheon And Lovely Tea In Bastrop Are Among The Courtesies Extended Bride-Elect

Complimentary to Miss Shelby Meek, bride-elect of Lt. Edward Lee Gladney, III, was the lovely bridal luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. Lee Hodges, Mrs. O. C. Roddey, and Mrs. J. L. Jones, Jr. at the home of the former.

The reception suite was decorated with arrangements of pink gladioli with the luncheon table centered with a mount of pink camellias flanked by crystal candelabra holding slender white tapers. White tulle was extended to the four corners of the table.

The bride-elect chose for this occasion a trousseau model of winter rose with which she wore navy accessories. Her corsage, a gift of the hostesses, was fashioned of pink camellias. A large silver bowl was also presented to the honoree by the hostesses at this time.

Bridal placecards marked places for the honoree, Mrs. Shelby Meek, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Edward Lee Gladney, Jr., of Bastrop, mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. George F. Rutzler, Jr., of Knoxville, Tenn., sister of Mrs. Meek, Mrs. J. C. Liner, Sr., Mrs. W. W. Washburn, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. Clyde Sanders, Mrs. B. D. Albritton, Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher, Jr., Mrs. W. G. Saunders, Miss Emrey Liles, Miss Pat Waldrop, Mrs. H. Glen Brown and the hostesses, Mrs. Hodges, Mrs. Roddey and Mrs. Jones.

Tea Held In Bastrop

Mrs. Edward Lee Gladney, Jr., mother of the bridegroom-elect, was hostess at a lovely tea held Thursday in Bastrop at her lovely ancestral home.

Greeting the guests at the door was Mrs. W. T. Smith, Mrs. George Beekman, and Mrs. James Madison. In the receiving line was the hostess and honoree, Mrs. Shelby Meek and Mrs. George F. Rutzler, Jr.

The honoree was wearing a gray lace gown over pink satin, her corsage was of pink split carnations. Mrs. Gladney wore a beaded royal blue crepe; Mrs. Meek was wearing a black crepe gown with yoke of black lace over flesh chiffon, and Mrs. Rutzler wore a black crepe with lace and net overskirt. Each wore a corsage of white mums.

Arrangements of pink gladioli and pink carnations were used at vantage points throughout the reception suite. The tea table was covered with a beautiful linen cutwork lace cloth, centered with an arrangement of bride's roses, white chrysanthemums and white gladioli in a large silver bowl surrounded by a frill of white tulle and white satin lover's knots. Four large silver candlesticks held white tapers.

A pair of large silver candelabra holding white tapers was placed on the sideboard in the dining room. White mums tied with white tulle and satin ribbon were used at the base of the candelabra. The central decor was a lovely arrangement of white carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Presiding at the silver tea and coffee services were Mrs. H. Webb Madison, Mrs. Dan Files, Mrs. George T. Madison, Mrs. George Goodwin, Mrs. Blanchie Goodwin Williams, Mrs. W. V. Garnier.

Assisting in the serving of dainty sandwiches, cheese straws, cakes and mints were Mrs. J. B. Bennett, Mrs. Will Douglass, Mrs. Bernard Rowland, Mrs. Julian M. Gladney, Miss Carolyn Jo Goodwin, Miss Ellinor Jeanne Pettiss, Miss Martha An Ludlum and Mrs. Julian M. Gladney.

Directing the guests from the drawing room to the dining room were Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. F. R. Robinson, Mrs. J. B. Rawlinson, Jr. and Mrs. W. C. Gibson. Receiving in the sun room were Mrs. Mack Barham and Mrs. E. F. Madison. In the living room were Mrs. T. H. Milliken, Mrs. C. F. Allison and Mrs. Peggy Regan.

Mangham P.-T. A. Has November Meeting

Miss Blanche Miller, parish supervisor of teachers, used as her subject, "Foundation for Better Living Through Education, when she addressed the Mangham P.-T. A. at the regular November meeting, Tuesday night. Breaking down her topic, Miss Miller devoted her trend of thought on how to be better parents to make better children. She said in part: "Some consider medicine, religion or law to be the most important profession, but parenthood is because it carries a greater responsibility. Parents are the sole educators of children until they are five or six years of age. Home training prevents crime. Even God and Plato stressed the importance of parenthood.

"In teaching character building parents must understand how children learn. Some of the important principles in learning are: Being interested; setting up worthwhile goals; and that children learn to do by doing through experiences and imitations.

"Next we must create good situations and living surroundings through high ideals. It is the behavior that parents exhibit that impress the children. To develope these ideals parents must realize it is done by daily living and not by repeating sentences; children must be given opportunity to practice these in daily living to live a good life daily.

"They must be taught life is work and drudgery and that leisure time is not idle time but made worthwhile through shared family fun.

"They also should be taught to appreciate the beautiful through books and music, as well as spiritual values. Religion should be made a daily part of living.

"Discipline, meaning self-control and the ability to do the right things, should be taught. Honesty is another trait that is taught by parents setting the example. It begins with being honest in the small things. Those are the things children notice.

"To teach courage parents must live fearlessly and their training be consistent."

She concluded her talk by stressing that parents and teachers should understand children emotionally and spiritually and recognize the value of home to the school and school to the home for they provide the basic needs of children.

Mrs. Johnnie Etier, president of the Mangham P.-T. A., presided during the business session. Mr. Clyde McKay, treasurer, gave a financial report. Mrs. C. N. Underwood, first grade teacher, stated that all first grade pupils' eyes had been screened by Dr. N. L. Moncrief of Monroe; and she suggested that the P.-T. A. contact Miss Carol Lane, in the state department, Baton Rouge, La., who works with exceptional children, to see what services are available. The group voted that our next monthly meeting be held on the third Monday night, December 17, instead of the fourth Tuesday, which would be Christmas Day.

At the conclusion of the meeting, room count was taken. Miss Kate Talbert, seventh grade, won a beautiful picture for having the most parents present.

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Massey McConnell, Mrs. Net Williams, and Mrs. Lottie Boughton.

Millsaps School 4-H Club Has Meeting Recently

Girl Scout News

By the time you readers see this we may be having real winter, but isn't our springy weather wonderful while it lasts? However, as the song says "whether spring or fall, we hear the high road call," and there are very few weeks in the year when there cannot be out of door activities. Naturally, most of them center around the new camp. It is too cold to use the building, but troops find a great deal of fun in spending Saturday in the woods, using the building as headquarters, and cooking, hiking, and playing all day.

Last Saturday Mrs. G. A. Sievers and Mrs. V. A. Hubka took members of Troop 40 for their first visit to the camp. They report the girls enthusiastic about everything, learning to build fires, cooking a stew for dinner and some-mores for dessert, hiking along the river—yes, even dishwashing when done the Scout way when the outside of the kettle has been rubbed with brown soap and the blackened surface emerges magically as bright as new. To quote one of the Scouts, "It is the most fun I have ever had."

A group of adults have been having fun getting the camp stained before the aforesaid winter sends down too many hard rains. The part that has been stained looks lovely, the brown stain really makes the building fit into a perfect setting. The grain of the wood shows through and all the knots show and it is going to be beautiful. Some of the ones who have taken part in wielding the brushes have been the Ted Straussers, the Robert Easterlings, the William Roys, the Norman Huckabees, the Grant Boardmans and the Arch Wileys. Come on out and join the fun any pretty Sunday afternoon.

Christmas service, gifts, caroling, all are getting into troop programs for December. One troop that has already included two service projects is Troop 29. For one of them the girls collected books and magazines which they took to the Charity Hospital. For the other, they took fruit to the St. Joseph's home and sang songs. Mrs. T. B. Gregory and Mrs. Fred Lindsay are leaders of this troop, which is made up of sixth grade girls at Barkdull - Faulk.

Monroe Literary Club Plans Christmas Party

Mrs. Floyd Ferrell Is Hostess At The December Club Meeting

The Monroe Literary Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Floyd Ferrell, with Mrs. W. D. Kleppinger, co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. W. T. Ellis, opened the meeting and led the group in reading the club collect. Roll call was answered at this meeting by each member telling an interesting fact concerning the British royal family. An interesting business session followed at which Christmas plans were discussed, and Mrs. Guy DuPriest was appointed chairman of national defense for the club. Mrs. John Watt was unanimously voted into membership.

Mrs. D. A. Altick, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Guy DuPriest member speaker of the day. Mrs. DuPriest's subject was "Conditions in England Today" which she covered thoroughly and splendidly, telling the pertinent facts of the ravaging image of the last war, and the effect upon the people. Mrs. DuPriest quoted columnists and contemporary writers, and the consensus of opinion is that anti-American sentiment is growing throughout Europe. Europeans have made good use of our financial aid, but they have looked in vain for something else — understanding and spiritual help.

Mrs. DuPriest said in part: "Economic recovery has been amazing in England but want and misery have not been entirely done away with. Europe is working again, and working hard. Roads have been rebuilt, and trains are running on schedule, but there is confusion in the minds of these people as they have no hope for the future. They are without faith. There is no machinery, and youths of sixteen and nineteen years of age are working with axes, shovels, hammers and saws. All work is done by hand. Food is now plentiful, and is not rationed. European youth can teach American youth about privation and hardship and industry, but American youth could teach European youth about faith in the future and courage. However it is the general opinion that we are fighting a losing battle against communism the world over."

The hostesses served delicious refreshments to the following members: Mrs. W. T. Ellis, Mrs. C. T. Pifer, Mrs. A. M. Kite, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Mrs. A. D. Altick, Mrs. J. W. Womack Mrs. J. E. Shannon, Mrs. Guy DuPriest, Mrs. C. E. Coe, Mrs. J. D. Kelly, Mrs. C. D. McAdams.

Mrs. J. R. Frantom Hostess At Meeting Of Claiborne Club

Mrs. J. R. Frantom was hostess at the November meeting of the Claiborne Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. W. J. Dunn, outgoing president, and members, gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag and "The United Nation's Hymn" was led by Mrs. C. E. Crawford.

After a brief business session, the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. H. O. Eley; vice-president, Mrs. A. I. Albright; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. P. C. Landers; assistant secretary-treasurer, Mrs. F. L. Strickland; reporter, Mrs. W. J. Dunn; council members, Mrs. H. O. Eley, Mrs. A. I. Albright, Mrs. C. E. Crawford and Mrs. C. D. Henderson, alternate.

Leaders are: home management, Mrs. P. C. Landers; house furnishing, Mrs. H. J. Jowers; garden-vegetable, Mrs. Henderson; garden-landscape, Mrs. Ouida Jones; Poultry, Mrs. W. J. Deenn; food preservation, Mrs. F. L. Strickland; food preparation, Mrs. L. M. Bayné; nutrition, Mrs. A. I. Albright; clothing, Mrs. C. E. Crawford; citizenship, Mrs. J. O. Fleming; safety, Mrs. W. O. Downing; consumer education, Mrs. E. C. Gaskin; recreation, Mrs. Julia Maddux; song, Mrs. L. E. Joiner; 4-H Leader, Mrs. L. E. Joiner.

Mrs. Euna Spielman, agent, gave an interesting demonstration on color and harmony in the home.

The "club collect" was given by the group and recreation lead by Mrs. C. E. Crawford. Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. J. R. Franton, Mrs. Julia Muddux, Mrs. W. J. Dunn, Mrs. C. E. Crawford, Mrs. H. O. Eley, Mrs. F. L. Strickland, Mrs. L. M. Bayne, Mrs. P. C. Laniders, Mrs. A. I. Albright, Mrs. H. J. Jowers, Mrs. L. E. Joiner, Mrs. J. O. Fleming, Mrs. W. O. Downing, Mrs. C. D. Henderson, Mrs. Euna Spielman and new members, Mrs. Clifton Frost, Mrs. Ouida Jones and Mrs. Harold Cannon.

Mrs. A. I. Albright will be hostess at the meeting to be held December 12.

The Watson School Cakewalk Is Success

A cakewalk was held Friday night by the Watson School when the doors of the cafeteria were opened at 6:30 p. m. Coffe, cake and hot chocolate were served. After the cakewalk everyone gathered in the cafeteria for further entertainment with Sheriff Bailey Grant as master-of - ceremonies. There were ten large homemade cakes sold to the highest bidders and two boxes of candy given away in the ugliest man and prettiest girl contest. The candy was awarded to Mr. Tom R. Jones and Miss Myrtis Lenard. Each candidate presented was given a chance to give his platform and ask support of the people. Those who spoke were Bailey Grant, B. H. Crawford, E. S. Bamburg, J. B. Lenard, Allen Lenard and Mrs. James Sparks.

The patrons of the school wish to thank the candidates and public for making this affair a success. The proceeds will be used to buy a piano for the school.

News From The Public Library

At this season of the year many of the patrons of the Ouachita Parish Public Library are so busy with preparations for Christmas that they have little time to read. However, a real book lover will always find some time to spend with a good book. Several new titles have recently been added to the collection of the Library. For the adicts of murder stories there is "Tender to Danger" by Eliot Reed, a story of international intrigue and danger. For the reader of historical novels there is "Lady of the Mohawks" by Margaret Widdemer. This is a stirring story of life in up state New York during the colonial period. The scene takes place in the period just before the French and Indian war. It is well-done and fascinatingly written.

Tara's Healing" by Janice Holt Giles is a beautiful story of life in the Kentucky hills. It is also story of the rehabilitation of Tara Cochrane, M. D. Who found healing for his own neurotic condition in working with the people of the Kentucky mountains. "The Blessing" by Nancy Mitford is an extraordinary combination of satire and high living. The scene shifts from the very conservative country life of England to the sophisticated existence of the French upper classes. Miss Mitford seems to have a wonderful time writing this book and readers who like this sort of thing will be charmed with her offering.

"David and Bathsheba" by Ibn-Zahav is a new version of the Biblical story which should be very popular especially since the recent appearance of the movie. "A Father in the Family" by Louis Paul is a warm and humorous family story. "This Pleasant Lea" by Anne Crone is an Irish story. "Gold for my Fair Lady" is another new book that should have a wide appeal.

In the non-fiction field there are books to appeal to almost every interest. "The Hobby Book of Stencilling and Brush Stroke Painting" by Raymond F. Yates will appeal to devotees of this art. "Garden Housekeeping" by Mary Lamson has a great deal of useful information on how to keep your garden in good condition. "The People in Your Life" by Isabel Leighton is a valuable book on how to get along with others.

"Corsage Craft" by Glad Reusch meets a long felt need. "How to Get More Out of Your Reading" by Norman Lewis is a book of great value to those who do not read well. "Ice Is Where You Find It" by Charles W. Thomas is an exciting story of life on an Ice breaker during the past war. "Denmark is a Lovely Land" by Hudson Strode is a beautiful book about the country of Denmark. "North with the Spring" by Edwin Way Teale is a book which will appeal to all nature lovers.

"All in the Family" by Rhoda Bacmeister is a wonderful book on the subject of child care. "The Citizen Decides" by Ralph Barton Perry contains much pertinent advice for those who are concerned about the policies and trends in our national life.

"Fifty Billion Dollars" by Jesse Jones is a most interesting book giving the complete history of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. It should be most attractive to men. "The Virgin and the Child' by Elizabeth Rothenstein is a beautiful book of religious paintings with a history and discussion of each one. "Grass Beyond the Mountans" by Richmond P. Hobson is a fine portrayal of life in the great American west. "Caravan" by Carleton Stevens Coon is a fine study of the countries of the middle East.

Your library has information on almost all subjects. If you are not one of the 19,858 registered borrowers of the Library, register as soon as possible. You will find a great deal of help and pleasure in your library.

YOUTHFUL HEROINE

Little Miss Nannette Schneider, standing in front of the queen, was crown bearer and Howard Moorman, Jr., carried the football. Miss Brown was crowned by co-captain Don Hull before the game started.

Musical Coterie To Present Program On Christmas Carols

Presentation On December 16th Will Be Held At Grace Episcopal Church

The program of Christmas carols which will be given by the Musical Coterie on December 16 at Grace Episcopal Church, to which the public is cordially invited, will be an offering of the very old carols of many countries which have been preserved and handed down through the centuries by tradition. The traditional carols, unlike those which have been deliberately composed, come from entire communities and combine the medieval church music with folk music. Because of the sacred subject matter, as well as their expression of the festivities of the season, they remain a source of perennial charm and delight.

By choosing December twenty-fifth as Christmas, the Christians made it into a holiday time that had significance in the days of paganism. Because of this pagan influence, the old or traditional Christmas carol is not entirely confined to the modern accepted idea, but is full of expression of material joys and good cheer, with many legendary embellishments, Carols are of every kind—oriental, medieval, rustical, as necessity called them forth, and they express much that is otherwise unrecorded of the early history of the European countries.

Because of the sincerity of the carols, particularly those classed as traditional, they have always had a special appeal to young and old alike, and the Coterie's presentation on December 16 should prove a joy and an inspiration to every member of the audience.

YWCA Activities

YRG'S

The YRG's held their regular supper meeting on Monday evening. After a delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Hundley who was assisted by Marcille Alger the group had their devotional and business. The group honored Vauna Dean Newsom who had a birthday on this day by presenting her a birthday cake and singing "Happy Birthday." Pat Hall gave devotionsl using the thought "Christmas giving."

Business & Professional Girls' Club

The B. & P. Girls' met on Wednesday evening. After a delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Hundley, Maude Brownlee and Allie Marie Coats the group gathered in the club rooms for the program and business. Kiki Gatzoulas, president, presided at the meeting. Dorothy Grant gave the devotional based on "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me." Miss Juanita Porter was the guest speaker. Miss Porter talked on "Humility and Exultation" using her lovely statuette as the demonstration forthese two virtues of character. A guest, Ellen Brown, was welcomed by the club. The group discussed the Christmas project-party on December 15th. Ninon Tanguis, service chairman, will be in charge of the party and she will be assisted by Betty Lou Alpha, Dorothy Grant, Eva Smith and all the members of the club as hostesses. The group will have their Christmas program and club party on December 19th and will go caroling as a group on December 21st.

The YWCA Board

The YWCA Board met on Thursday morning with Miss Nona Martin, president, presiding. The board was provileged to have Reverend Ernest Holloway come and give the devotional based on the thought "Let us not be weary in well doing." Miss Juanita Porter gave a report on the Park Beautification Project. Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, chairman of Membership Committee, discussed YWCA Membership and stressed the importance of each board member being an ambassador of good will for the YWCA. Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, a member of the Y-Teen Committee gave a report on the Y-Teen Open House at the YWCA. Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Lonnie Clark, Mrs. R. B. Hen-ry, chairman of the committee, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, and Mrs. Hundley served as hostesses for this open house. Miss Sharp gave a report on the Y-Teen Rally, Ceremonial, and club activities. A Public Affairs meeting will be planned for January. Mrs. T. H. Scott, chairman of the committee for the annual Christmas program at the YWCA called the "Hanging of the Greens," announced that this ceremonial will be held Tuesday night, December 18th, at 7:30 p. m. and that the public will be invited. The meeting was then adjourned.

Y-Teens

The Y-Teen Rally was held at the Missouri Pacific Booster Hall on Saturday. The meeting was opened with the devotional by Miss Juanita Porter. A panel discussion on "Teen Age Problems" was one of the outstanding features of the rally program. Jo Rhodes, Inter-Club council president, served as leader for the panel and she was assisted by: Margaret Hunter, Mary Lou Trawick, Emma Jean Hall, Lera Hennesey, Bobbie Parker, Walter Bennett, Bill Funderburk, Elvis Stout, Charles Fitzpatrick, Tyrone Powell, Harry Hebert, Paul Roye, and Mrs. J. B. Thornhill. Several of the clubs: the Jolly Y Janes', the Y'D Awake, and the Be Y's, presented very clever skits. Violet Venable and Dell Moore entertained with two readings; Betty Spurlock, Janis Dyar and Elvis Stout entertained with musical numbers. Walter Bennett sang and Charles Fitzpatrick gave a reading. After the program and business the group enjoyed having lunch together.

The Ceremonial was held at the First Methodist Church with Jo Rhodes as the leader. Emma Jean Hall was the organist. The speakers for the ceremonial were: Loette Stedman, Jean Doncer, Flora Kitchingham, and Lillian LeBlanc. The Y-Teen theme "Tune Your Deeds To Meet World Needs" was brought out by the speakers. Each Y-Teen lighted a candle as a symbol of accepting the ideals and pledge of membership in the Y-Teens.

The Blue Triangle Club of Y-Teens met at Lenwil School with Glenda Owens, president, presiding. The meeting was opened with the Y-Teen Song and then Betty Bennett gave the devotional: Matthew 6th chapter. A report of the rally and ceremonial was given. Several of the girls: Catherine Funderburk, Mildred Haley, Catherine Rawls, and Arlene Greer entertained the group with songs. Jimmie Sebrun read a story: "The Parable of the Builders." Plans for a Christmas party on December 19th were made by the group. The group sang Follow The Gleam and closed the meeting with the motto.

The Jolly Y Janes' Club met on Wednesday afternoon with Ann Hebert, president, presiding. The group opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. Plans for the Christmas party and a project were discussed.

Catholic Daughters Of America Celebrate Twenty-Third Birthday

Ladies To Have Luncheon Meeting Following Eleven O'Clock Mass

The Catholic Daughters of America are, today, proud of 23 years of charitable accomplishments in Monroe and vicinity.

In 1928 Court St. Matthews No. 1144 was organized under the leadership of Rev. Father John C. Marsh and now after this lapse of time we are proud of the fact that the once Rev. Father Marsh is still guiding and encouraging Court activities as Monsignior Marsh, pastor of St. Matthew's Church.

The ladies who have served as grand regents in the past years have worked untiringly each with a new staff of officers but all working for the same cause and all with but one thought — "Court Progress." Mrs. Marie Mulhern is now serving her second year as grand regent, and in celebration of the twenty third birthday December 8th. Mrs. Mulhern is requesting all Catholic Daughters to attend the 11 o'clock Mass Sunday Dec. 9th in a bady. From the church the ladies will go to the Rendezvous for luncheon which will be held at 1:30 and all Catholic Daughters are urged to attend not only from a viewpoint of sentiment, but we are privileged to have with us at this time Most Rev. Charles P. Greco, Bishop of Alexandria, who will preside at the luncheon meeting and District Deputy Miss Drusilla Dorion from Alexandria will be here to receive nine new candidates into the Court. This will take place immediately following the luncheon at an approximate hour of 2 p. m. at the gymnasium building on Grammont St. A general reception will follow the business procedure, as a tribute to our Most Rev. Bishop, as an encouragement and welcome to our new members, and, lastly, in cooperation with the grand regent, Mrs. Marie Mulhern and officers who have worked valiantly to make this twenty-third birthday a success. Do your part by attending this well planned birthday party.

NEW OIL REFINERIES

Bombay, India —(AP)— Trombay Island in Bombay harbor has tentatively been selected as the site for the first of a trio of new oil refineries projected by the Indian government and foreign concerns.

Although final plans have not yet been settled, the Indian government has discussions in progress with Britain's Burmah-Shell and the U. S. firms of Standard Vacuum and Caltex. Two refineries will probably be located near Bombay, while the third site may be Madras or Calcutta.

Merry Christmas to Yourself!

A higher education for your youngsters, a new home, financial security for you!

WHAT ABOUT YOU THIS CHRISTMAS? While you're enjoying all of the things that make Christmas so beautiful—colored lights and tinsel, gaily wrapped gifts 'round the tree, the thrill of making others happy, the spirit of giving—why not give yourself a Christmas present, too? One that will start you on the road to a secure financial future. One that will mean many a bright Christmas to come, for you! Today, start buying U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan!

U. S. Savings Bonds are better than cash! Any series E Bond held for 60 days can be cashed at any bank or authorized payment agency. And, should you lose a bond or accidentally destroy one, the Treasury Department will replace it free of charge.

Each bond increases in value every year after the first year. So if you can save just $7.50 a week, at the end of 5 years you will have bonds and interest worth $2,009.02—in 10 years, $4,329.02. And when all your bonds mature, they'll pay you back one-third more than you originally invested!

Right now—say Merry Christmas to your dreams by giving yourself the gift that keeps on giving. Look over the chart below, pick the plan that works best for you, and get started on the road to a secure financial future.

HOMING PIGEON GOES WRONG

Sydney, Australia —(AP)— A homing pigeon, released at Oodnadatta, Central Australia, for a 540-mile race to its loft at Adelaide, arrived in South Africa.

Instead of joining his 500 companions in a straight dash home, the bird went off in the wrong direction. Two days later it was 150 miles off the West Australian coast in the Great Australian Bight.

Then the bird sighted a speck on the horizon and flew towards the British freighter, Diomed, bound for South Africa. The pigeon from Adelaide plopped on the deck of the Diomed, exhausted after its 1000-mile flight. Diomed seamen took the pigeon on to South Africa.

When the Spaniards reached the Yucatan peninsula in 1517, they found that turkeys had been domesticated there by the Indians.

Miss Kathleen Brown McKay Honored At Prenuptial Event

Mrs. W. H. Armstrong Entertains December Bride-Elect At Lovely Luncheon

Miss Kathleen Brown McKay, lovely December bride-elect of Joe Larson Ragland, was honored at prenuptial luncheon given at the LaCasa Tea Room Saturday by Mrs. W. H. Armstrong.

For this occasion Miss McKay selected one of her trousseau models, a purple wool suit with beige accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations, a gift of the hostess. Mrs. Armstrong also presented the honoree with a dinner plate in her chosen china pattern.

Centering the beautifully appointed luncheon table, which was overlaid with an initialed hemstitched white linen cloth, was a low oblong crystal container fashioned with a wedding ring motif, and made of small crown chrysanthemums. Complementing the covers were dainty silver slipper motifs filled with small wedding ring mints. The hostess presented each member of the luncheon party with a white carnation corsage.

Enjoying this occasion with the honoree were Mrs. L. J. Mulhern, of Alto, Miss Mary Elizabeth Hicks, of Bryan, Tex., Mrs. H. V. Collins and Mrs. Armstrong.

Miss McKay has set December 30th as her wedding date.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Yes, love. When you love a person, you take for granted what you don't understand. As Matthew Arnold says in my favorite poem, "Our Buried Life" (abridged): "When a beloved hand is laid in ours, our eyes can in another's eyes read clear; our world deafened ear is by the tones of a loved voice caressed. A bolt is shot back somewhere in the breast; the eye sinks inward and the heart lies plain. And then we think we know the hills where our life rose and the sea where it goes."

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Yes, for all but the pitcher who tries to make the batter fan the air. Color expert and baseball fan Fred H. Rahr states the following reasons in favor of yellow balls: Umpires can make closer decisions; catchers can plan with greater confidence; runners can see better what the pitcher intends to do; batters can see the ball better and hit it oftener; fans can see the game better." I like lots of hits and runs, so I'm for the yellow ball.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Drivers, by all odds. This is proved by the fact that in nearly three accidents out of four, pedestrians walk directly in front of a car. Another proof is that a large proportion of these accidents are due to jay-walking. Jaywalkers should be fined the same as reckless drivers. Only you — not auto mechanics and inventors or drivers—can stop the slaughter of pedestrians.

Getting Along With People

By Milton Wright, Noted Psychologist.

This booklet fully explains —

Your 7 Basic Emotions and how they affect getting along with people. It also tells the difference between Introverts and Extroverts and how to identify each.

EVANGELIST

The Rev. M. L. Driskell will conduct a revival campaign at the Memorial Park Baptist Church, Chappel street, beginning Sunday, December 9 and lasting through 17.

Rev. Driskell is one of the greatest gospel preachers of Louisiana. His knowledge of the Bible, his wide experience in World Wars I and II as chaplin, extensive travel, deep convictions, excellent command of the English language, and experience as pastor-evangelist have made him a great dynamic speaker.

Reverend Driskell has recently conducted a school of missions with the First Baptist Church of Shreveport. The public is cordially invited to hear him each evening this week at 7:30 p.m.

Library To Operate Under New Method

Jonesville, Dec. 8.—(Special)—The Catahoula parish library, after January 1, will be under a type of management new to Louisiana and one that will be watched with interest by persons over the state who are concerned with libraries.

Under plans approved by the parish library board, Catahoula will be part of an experiment in regional libraries. The plan, outlined by Sallie Farrell of the state library, was approved for a one-year period.

Under it, Mrs. Rubie Hanks of Winnfield will be regional librarian, serving, for the present, Winn and Catahoula parishes. Mrs. Hanks, recognized as a superior librarian in the state, is well-known in Catahoula. She helped organize the one-year library demonstration in the parish and served as librarian for part of that year.

Under the regional set-up, the plan is expected to benefit both parishes in several ways, among them being the purchasing and cataloging of books at less cost than at present for the two libraries.

During the month of December, Mrs. C. C. Wilson, of the Jonesville branch, is acting librarian, temporarily replacing Mrs. Eva Byars who recently resigned.

P.-T. A. Christmas Party To Be Held

Ferriday, La., Dec. 8.—(Special)—Monday, December 17 at 7 o'clock p. m. the annual Parent-Teachers Christmas party will be held at the Ferriday High School gymnasium.

"Christmas At Home" is the theme this year. The Ferriday High School band will open the affair and scenes of interest centers around "Our Home."

Children of the elementary schools will furnish many interesting numbers and dancing pupils will give specialty numbers.

The P.-T. A. mothers and teachers singers will be featured. Santa Claus will be on hand to welcome everyone and there will be candy and other gifts for the children.

O. Grove Girl Says 'All Of Us Are Handicapped'

Ruston, Dec. 8.—(Special)—"All of us are handicapped."

That is the conclusion of Peggy Rudy of Oak Grove, a recent Louisiana Tech graduate, who is handicapped with cerebral palsy. She is the author of an article titled "The Handicapped Child in the Classroom," which was published in Louisiana Schools, the journal of the Louisiana Education Association.

"We need to remind ourselves," Miss Rudy wrote, "that all of us are handicapped. The Negro, the Jew, the members of all racial and religious minorities are handicapped. The poverty-stricken, the ugly, the physically weak, the mentally weak, the uneducated are handicapped.

"Those maladjusted to their environment, either physically or mentally — and their numbers are legion — are handicapped. The exceptionally rich, or brilliant, or beautiful are almost always handicapped, whether they realize it or not."

Miss Rudy began her article by pointing out that "until recently the teaching of the handicapped child has nearly always been the duty of the regular classroom teacher. Even now there are comparatively few special schools and these are for children with specific afflictions."

Bid For Operation Ferry Is Accepted

Jonesville, Dec. 8.—(Special)—The Catahoula parish police jury this week tentatively accepted a bid from Jack Crane of Monterey for operation of a ferry to cross Black river during construction of the Smithland cutoff.

Crane's bid was for $1,219.06 per month and covers equipment, fuel, labor and insurance. The only other bid received was from W. S. White of Jonesville, at $700 per month for equipment and fuel, plus the cost of labor and insurance.

The bids were discussed by jury members in executive session with "Tige" Smith of the state department of public works. Crane's bid was accepted subject to the approval of the Concordia parish police jury, the Tensas Basin Levee board, the state highway department and the state department of public works. Catahoula and Concordia police juries will each pay one-fourth the cost, and the levee board will pay half.

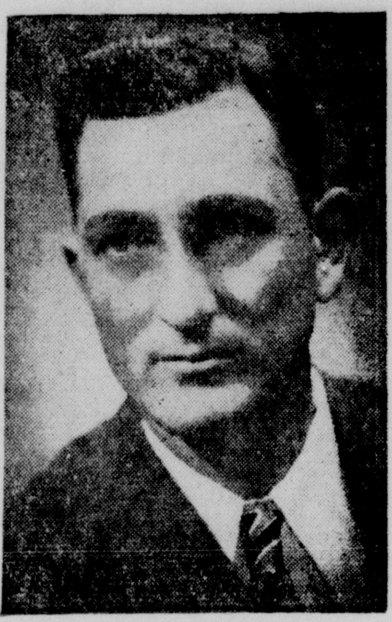
Orphans' Shopping Tour Is Arranged

A Christmas orphans' shopping tour has been arranged by the Monroe - West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce in order to allow orphaned children to do their own Christmas shopping. In order to carry out this unique project, funds are needed to allow each child enough money for gift buying. It is requested that any amount you are able to send be sent to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 1302, Monroe, La.

This wholesome program will be carried out by the Jaycees themselves who will take the orphans on the shopping tour. Merchants are requested to give special attention and consideration to these children on the day they are brought to the Twin Cities to shop.

The orphans' shopping tour committee is being headed by W. L. "Jack" Howard, and its definite date will be announced soon.

CANDIDATE



DUDLEY SEAMANS

DUDLEY SEAMANS IN SENATE RACE

Former Representative Candidate In West Carroll, Morehouse

Dudley Seamans, former state representative of West Carroll parish, has announced his candidacy for the state senate for the parishes of West Carroll and Morehouse, 29th senatorial districts and issues the following statement:

"I am a native of West Carroll parish, 43 years of age. My parents were Mr. and Mrs. Silas T. Seamans, both deceased. In 1934, I married Miss Velma Braswell and we have one son.

"I served in the regular sessions of Louisiana legislature during 1948 and 1950. During these terms I was co-author of the bill which provides $30,000 for each parish police jury to be used for roads and drainage. I supported the so-called "free" hot lunches for needy school children and if I am elected senator, I promise to do all in my power to see that they are free if they are again promised. I introduced a bill which was defeated, to elect the parish school superintendents by popular vote of the people. I intend to re-introduce this same bill and work harder than before because I feel that the school superintendents should be chosen by a majority of the people but also one with the qualifications set up by the board of education.

"Through a bill introduced by me, $150,000 was appropriated for the West Carroll parish school board to build a memorial trade school to World War II veterans. This school has been built as an addition to the new Oak Grove High School and is now in operation, teaching courses entirely free to anyone who cares to attend. An appropriation was made also to the West Carroll parish fair association for $3,000 to be used for reconstruction and repairs of the fair grounds.

"I filed and won a suit against the state of Louisiana in order that the voters of my parish choose the Democratic central committee. Since that time a committee has been appointed to serve until one can be elected in January by a vote of the electors.

"Many miles of gravel roads have been built by money I was able to obtain for this purpose for West Carroll. I promise the p[illegible]ishes [illegible] both Morehouse and W[illegible] Carroll that I will work just as hard for their interests as I have done for West Carroll in the past.

"I realize that in order to get these things done I must cooperate with the representatives whom you select. I believe in the old age pension, also aid for the needy, lower taxes where possible, a continuance of the good road program and better schools if possible.

"I shall do my very best to make you an efficient senator, basing my campaign on true Democratic principles; namely, of the people, for the people, and by the people. Your vote will be appreciated.

This year in America the Salvation Army will provide Christmas cheer for one million needy persons.

Some are veterans, some are aged, some little children, some in prisons. Your local Salvation Army is on the job to make sure that no worthy person is left out in the community. They will provide Christmas dinners, toys, fruit and candy to needy families. They will visit institutions of shut-ins with Christmas cheer and remembrances. You can join them in helping to bring a bit of Christmas joy to these in need.

THE ARMY PLEDGE

TO SEE THAT NO LITTLE CHILD IS FORGOTTEN BY SANTA CLAUS
TO MAKE SURE THAT EVERY FAMILY HAS SOMETHING EXTRA FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER
TO SEE THAT NO LITTLE CHILD SUFFERS FROM THE COLD THIS WINTER THROUGH LACK OF CLOTHING
TO MAKE SURE THAT ALL SCHOOL CHILDREN HAVE SHOES TO WEAR TO SCHOOL
TO ARRANGE FOR ALL INMATES OF LOCAL JAILS A CHRISTMAS REMEMBRANCE
TO DISTRIBUTE SUNSHINE BOXES OF GOODIES TO SHUT-INS AND SICK PEOPLE TO TAKE CARE OF THE WORTHY TRANSIENT WHO IS "DOWN BUT NOT OUT"
TO ANSWER THE CALL FOR HELP WHENEVER POSSIBLE, WHEREVER NEEDED, AT ANY HOUR OF THE DAY AND NIGHT
THIS IS A BIG JOB FOR THE SALVATION ARMY AND CAN ONLY BE ACCOMPLISHED BY GENEROUS CONTRIBUTIONS FROM THE PUBLIC FOR THIS WORTHY WORK AT CHRISTMAS TIME.

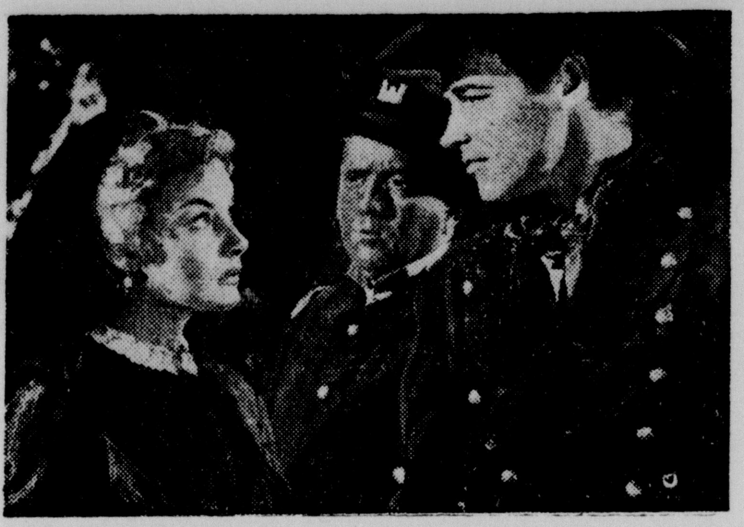
Drug addiction is grounds for divorce in seven U. S. states.



Barbara Payton is denounced as an enemy by her erstwhile friend, Guy Madison, in "Drums in the Deep South," which is a tense action drama overlaid with romance and presented in Supercine Color. The story centers around the unique action of an artillery group in late days of the Civil War. "Drums in the Deep South" opens a three-day engagement at the Paramount Tuesday.

Craig, Payton, Madison Are Starred In Taut Drama Of Civil War

"Drums in the Deep South", exciting and all - colar - melodrama of love and duty and derring-do on the battlefield, opens a three-day engagement at Paramount Tuesday.

With Georgia in the Civil War era as its setting, "Drums in the Deep South" stars James Craig Barbara Payton and Guy Madison in a romantic drama which throbs with action and suspense throughout.

Craig portrays a reckless, ne'er-do-well southerner in love with Miss Payton, although she is married to a wealthy plantation owner, while Madison is a northern officer and former West Point roommate of Craig's.

When the war between the states bursts forth Craig becomes a major with the Confederate forces. Toward the end of the conflict, he volunteers for a daring mission—to place a few guns on the precipitous mountain near the Chattanooga-Atlanta railroad and thereby prevent Sherman's forces from getting supplies by rail, since the track is within easy range of the mountain peak.

The strategy takes the Union forces by surprise, and their efforts to assail the mountain are defeated. Madison, assigned to wipe out the Confederate battery at all costs, makes his headquarters at Miss Payton's home and learns too late that she is secretly aiding Craig's little band.

How Madison finally devises a method of blowing up the whole mountain - top, forms the stirring climax of the picture, which was produced by Maurice King and Frank King, and filmed in Supercine color. Barton MacLane heads the supporting cast as a hard - boiled sergeant in Craig's command, and Craig Stevens, Tom Fadden, Robert Osterloh, Taylor Holmes, Robert Easton and Louis Jean Heydt have prominent roles.

The production, distributed by RKO Radio, was designed and directed by William Cameron Menzies, Philip Yordan and Sidney Harmon wrote the screenplay from the story by Hollister Noble. The exciting battle sequences and the remarkable color effects of the offering make it one of the season's unusual films.

Louis Hayward Stars In "Lady And Bandit'

Columbia Pictures' swashbuckling new drama, "The Lady and the Bandit" opens today at Paramount Theatre. Louis Hayward stars as the picturesque British highwayman, Dick Turpin, whose name lives with such romantic figures as Robin Hood, Captain Kidd and Jesse James. Patricia Medina is assigned the principal supporting role, with Suzanne Dalbert and Tom Tully cast in other important featured parts.

A historical figure analogous to America's most notorious outlaws in the old West, Turpin terrorized the highways of early 18th century England. The pistolled, booted and masked highwayman was mounted on Black Bess, a fabulous steed that could outrun any horse in England.

Turpin's exploits inspired many stories, poems and books. "The Lady and the Bandit," based upon Alfred Noyes' poem, "Dick Turpin's Ride," is said to be replete with the romantic excitement of the highwayman's life, of his daring holdups, his flights from pursuers and his hairbreadth escapes from the police. Important is the story of Turpin's love and marriage to a high-born English girl, played by Miss Medina, who gambles her love on the toss of a stolen coin. Eventually, after a number of daring robberies, the romantic rogue is betrayed by a jealous accomplice, but not before he has made an epic horseback ride of 200 miles in a single night, in order to shield his wife from being implicated as a confederate.

"The Lady and the Bandit" was filmed partly in England and partly in Hollywood. Exterior shots, including some of the famous pubs that stood in Turpin's time and still stand today were, of course, made in England. The photography is said to enhance the film's striking effect.

The screen play by Robert Libott and Frank Burt was directed by Ralph Murphy. Harry Joe Brown produced "The Lady and the Bandit" for Columbia Pictures.

NOW SHOWING AT TEM

Macdonald Carey, left, and Edgar Buchanan get the drop on western outlaw leader Hugh O'Brian in this highlight scene from the Technicolor "Cave Of Outlaws," a new Universal-International outdoor thriller which stars Carey with Alexis Smith. Edgar Buchanan and Victor Jory head the film's large supporting cast. "Cave Of Outlaws" was filmed on location at the famed Carlsbad Caverns of New Mexico. William Castle directed and Leonard Goldstein produced.

AMERICAN FILMS ASSAILED

Jakarta, Indonesia —(AP)— American-made "gangster films," war pictures and motion-picture cheesecake may go off Indonesian screens —if two prominent Indonesian parliament members have their way.

Dr. Soenario, chairman of parliament's foreign affairs section, wanted the government to ban films glorifying war and "a certain political ideology." He feared these films hampered the establishment of world peace in general and the pursuance of Indonesia's independent foreign policy in particular. In addition he pointed out that American gangster films endanger national morality.

STARTS THURSDAY AT JOY

Jackie Cooper (left) and Henry Fonda keep their six-guns leveled at railroad personnel during an exciting train holdup in "The Return of Frank James," Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor encore triumph which opens Thursday at the Joy Theatre. Lovely Gene Tierney is co-starred with Fonda in this story of Frank James' revenge for his brother's murder.

'Frank James' Western Thriller To Make Return

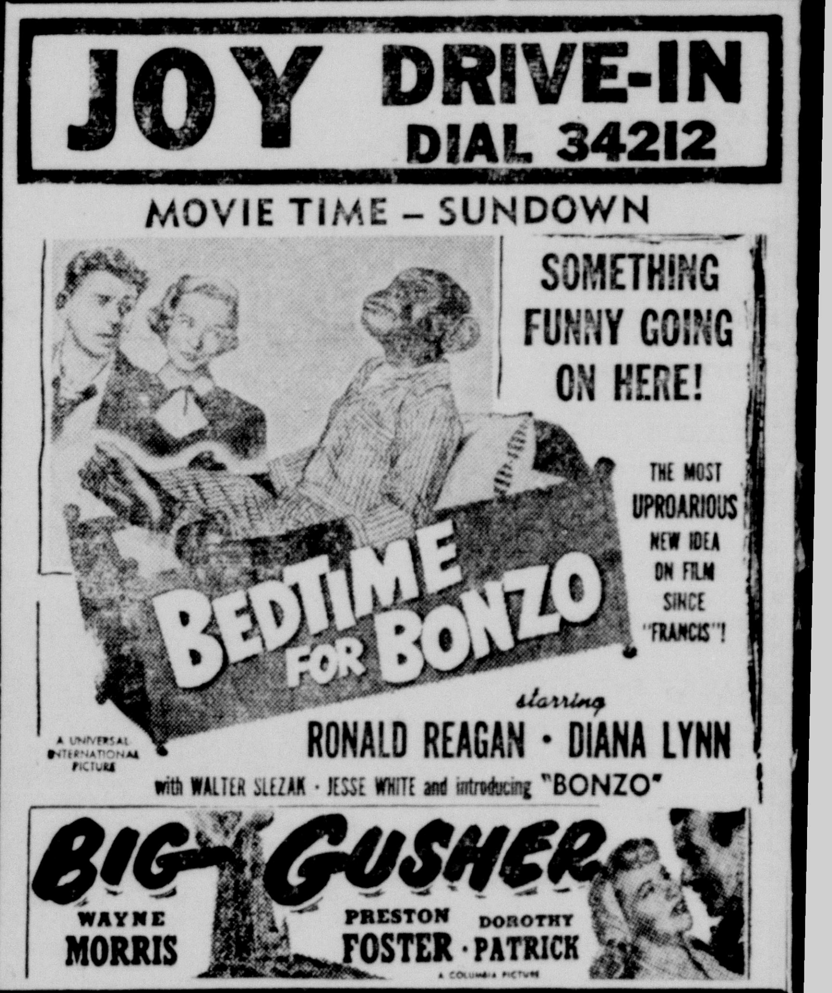
With Henry Fonda playing the role of the famous outlaw, Frank James, Twentieth Century - Fox's technicolor encore triumph "The Return of Frank James" will begin a special return engagement Thursday at the Joy Theatre.

A sequel to the exciting "Jesse James," the story deals with Frank James' revenge for his brother's murder and climaxes the daring exploits of the world's most famous outlaws.

Fonda, long a popular Hollywood star, has been confining his attention to stage work as of late now touring the country in the fabulous hit, "Mr. Roberts." Co - starred with him in "The Return of Frank James" is lovely Gene Tierney with Jackie Cooper and Henry Hull featured.

Aside from extensive filming at the studio, Director Fritz Lang took the unit to Sonora, Calif., and Owen's Valley in the High Sierras for location shots. For the scenes involving train hold - ups—a popular pastime of the James brothers —Twentieth Century - Fox hired an entire railroad and made over the equipment to match the rolling stock of wood-burning locomotive days.

Heading the large supporting cast are John Carradine, J. Edward Bromberg, Donald Meek, Eddie Collins and George Barbier. "The Return of Frank James" was produced by Darryl F. Zanuck with Kenneth Macgowan serving as associate producer. The original screen play was written by Sam Hellman.



JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Can You Play This Hand Correctly?

By Oswald Jacoby

The newspaper reports of national tournaments sometimes feature hands that are bid and played in a very peculiar manner. That is natural enough, since it is news when an expert does something fantastic with a perfectly ordinary bridge hand.

Perhaps I can strike a balance by showing a hand from last year's championship. The remarkable feature of this hand is that all the experts played it correctly. If the same hand were played by a hundred different average players probably not one would make his contract.

West opened the king of hearts and shifted to the queen of diamonds. Each expert declarer won the second trick with the ace or king of diamonds (it makes no difference which) and drew two rounds of trumps. Then declarer laid down the ace of clubs to find out whether the queen or jack would fall.

The average declarer would go wrong at the next trick. He would continue with the king of clubs, and then it would be impossible to avoid the loss of two club tricks against the best defense.

The expert leaves the clubs alone after taking the ace. He cashes his remaining top diamond and then lets the opponents take their sure diamond trick. It doesn't matter who wins this trick.

If West wins, he must return a red card. Dummy ruffs, and South discards a club. The rest is, of course, very easy.

If East wins, his only chance is to return a club. If he returns a low club, South can play low and let dummy's ten win the trick. There is no risk in this play, since if West could possibly play the queen or jack of clubs, the suit would then break 3-2 and South would have no trouble in making three club tricks.

If East wins the diamond trick and leads the queen or jack of clubs, South simply refuses the trick. There is no risk in this play either, since one club trick must surely be lost. When West shows out, South knows the club situation and can make the correct play or any club continuation by East.

Q—The bidding has been:

South, 1 Spade; West, Pass; North, 2 Diamonds; East, Pass.

South, ?

You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-4, Hearts A-8-5, Diamond 3, Clubs A-Q-6-2. What do you do?

A — Bid three clubs. This re-bid at the level of three shows a willingness to reach a game contract; and your hand is strong enough for such a guarantee. If your partner can bid three spades, you will go on to four spades.

If he bids three no - trump you are quite satisfied. If he raises the clubs, you will go on to five clubs If he bids only three diamonds, the least encouraging bid he can make, you may have to stab at three no-trump.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-4, Hearts 9-3, Diamonds A-Q-6-2, Clubs 8-5. What do you do?

Answer Monday

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Study Foe If You Want To Win

So many questions have been asked recently about two-hand Canasta, that today I will continue the discussion of this fascinating game. The best form of the game is that in which you draw two cards from the stock pile but discard only one card, and in which you need two canastas to meld out.

In some hands your opponent manages to win the first discard pile, and you then decide to play for out instead of competing further for the pile. In other hands, you may go for the fast out without ever trying seriously for the discard pile.

The sort of hand that encourages you to play for out usually contains two ready - made bases of four or more cards. For example, you may be dealt such a hand as: Joker, A-A-A-A, Q-Q-Q-Q, J-J, 10-8-6-2.

Since you will need two canastas to meld out, you are quite a distance from the end of your road. Nevertheless, it is a fairly good start. You will begin by throwing a ten, eight, or six — depending on what is still unmatched after you have drawn two cards from the stock.

In making your early discards, you must follow the principle of diluting the discard pile. If your opponent discards a ten, try to avoid discarding your own ten for a while.

You will discard it eventually, since you cannot afford to clutter up your hand with useless cards when you are playing for out. But you will try to discard it after your opponent has already picked up the first discard pile.

The reason is very simple. Whenever your opponent picks up the discard pile he gives up the chance of drawing two useful cards from the stock pile. In particular, he will never find wild cards in the discard pile (unless he throws them there himself).

Your object is to make him pick up several small discard piles rather than one or two large piles. Hence you try to give him a scattering of useful cards in any one discard pile, but you avoid giving him a concentration of two or three of the same kind.

When you are playing for out, do not make the mistake of melding early. Hold back as long as possible since you may draw additional natural cards and thus find more convenient ways to use your wild cards.

The important principle in this kind of game is to hold back long enough — but not too long. The whole art of playing a two-hand game is to gauge your opponent's style accurately.

La. Tech To Present Handel's 'Messiah'

Ruston, Dec. 8.—(Special)—Handel's "Messiah," a choral interpretation of the life of Christ, will be presented in Howard auditorium at Louisiana Tech on Wednesday, December 12, at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Louisiana Tech Concert Association, this year's performance of the "Messiah" will include the singing talents of Tech music students, faculty members of the music department and special out-of-town guest soloists. The Tech and Ruston High School choirs will also participate. Marshall Bretz, associate professor of music, is in charge of the production.

Among those who will represent Tech in the program are two seniors. They are Joe Bartlett, Ruston, baritone, and Phillip Hisey, Ruston, baritone. Faculty members participating are Thomas L. Mills, tenor, and Marshall Bretz.

Out-of-town soloists include Mrs. A. M. Serex, Monroe, soprano, and Mrs. Max Ward, Alexandria, contralto. The organist will be Miss Bea Collins of New Orleans.

L. T. C. A. members presenting their tickets will be permitted to bring guests. No box office tickets will be sold.

Cutting And Curing Of Pork Will Be Shown

Mr. Hill of the Louisiana State University agricultural extension staff will conduct a demonstration on the cutting and curing of pork and the cutting and packaging of beef for the deep freeze at 1 p. m. Wednesday at the Calhoun food preservation center at Calhoun High School.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the demonstration, as the proper technique of packaging and wrapping of meats will be stressed.

Also the public is invited to inspect the new facilities recently added to the center at Calhoun.

Three quarters of U. S. imports of cobalt come from the Belgian Congo.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

This Sunday many Sunday Schools will study the story of the Israelites' conquest of their former homeland, as they came out victoriously from the wilderness in their long journey from Egypt.

The story is in the Book of Joshua and contains a passage that probably many of us have never noticed in our concentration upon the nobler aspects of Joshua's courage, effective leadership and devotion to his task (Joshua 1:6, 7).

This passage is in Chapter 6, in the account of the capture of Jericho. Telling of the capture of that city by the Israelites, verse 21 says: "And they utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and sheep, and ass, with the edge of the sword."

That is a statement that cannot be passed over lightly, or without a great deal of thought. To visualize the scene must surely be to feel a deep revulsion against the bloody slaughter, the strange destruction of unoffending animals, and especially the killing of all, "both man and woman, young and old."

It must be seen against the background of war, carnage and massacre, down through the ages, as well as against the foreground of the terrible slaughter of our own times.

The whole panorama of cruelty and massacre is sad to contemplate, and all the sadder is the fact that in that ancient day, and so often in later times, such slaughter has been carried out under the professed authority of God and the sanction of religion.

Against the gory scene of an Israel destroying its enemies is the nobler conception of the later Hebrew saints and prophets of Israel through whom all the nations of the world were to be blest — a prophecy that in notable measure has come true. (See Isaiah 62, Psalm 67.)

Further, there is the New Testament teaching of love to one's enemies, a fulfillment, as Jesus said, saints and prophets who had prepared the way.

There is much in all this of cause for reflection. It is only in our own times that any vital protest has arisen against the doctrine and practice that might makes right, and of right by conquest.

In the long history of mankind conquest has established sovereignty, regardless of any question of right, or aggression. Within this century, two world wars have been based upon that false notion of right by conquest.

Now, at last, the United Nations organization has repudiated that doctrine and is seeking to recognize aggression for its inherent wrongfulness, and to deny sovereignty to the aggressor.

The issue of Israel's conquest of Canaan lies far in the past, but the issue of conquest and destruction of enemies is a vital issue, perhaps the most vital of all issues today.

Another Story Of— The Men Behind The Desks

Dan A. Miller, 40, is manager of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company's warehouse branch located at 915 Louisville avenue.

Born in Little Rock, Ark., Mr. Miller has lived in Monroe since September of 1950. He attended Little Rock Junior College and graduated from the University of Arkansas where he majored in business administration. He began his career with the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company in Little Rock and later worked 15 years in Shreveport with the company before coming to Monroe as manager of the glass company's branch.

Mr. Miller is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Traffic Club and Lotus Club.

He and his wife, the former Miss Kathleen Killough of Little Rock, Ark., reside at 606 Alexander. They have one daughter, Carlyn Ann.

Duck hunting is his favorite pastime.

The Pittsburg Plate Glass Company, the world's largest manufacturers of plate glass, opened a branch here November 23, 1950. The Monroe warehouse supplies all of northeast Louisiana with Pittsburg products which include, glass, paint, brushes, cements and hundreds of other items. More than 300 branches and factories are operated throughout the country by Pittsburg Glass Company.

Bob Thomas IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Dec. 8. —(AP)— What is Hollywood doing about its misbehaving celebrities?

You often hear people declare, "Oh, the studios like to have their stars get in scandals; they think any publicity is good publicity."

I have found no evidence to support this belief. The men who run the studios are responsible citizens. They know that business built on scandal is shanky indeed. None of them argues that Hollywood scandals have a good effect on the box office. But there are two schools of thought on the effect.

1. One segment of the industry is gravely worried about film scandals. The arguments: The U. S. is puritanical by tradition and censures offenders of public morals. More people go to church (81,000,000 members) than go to the movies (78,000,000 estimated weekly.)

Those who argue these points add that the four top money-making movies — "Gone With the Wind," "Best Years of Our Lives," "Bells of St. Mary's," "Going My Way" — are all moral tales. They also cite the top box office stars —John Wayne, Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Betty Grable, James Stewart, Abbott and Costello, Clifton Webb, Esther Williams, Spencer Tracy, Randolph Scott.

None of them has been involved in a big scandal: They are respected and responsible citizens.

2. Others argue that although a star is not helped by a scandal, he is not hurt, either. They claim that the American public is easy to forgive and forget the misdeeds of their favorites. They say that responsible people may be offended by a star's behavior, but the responsible public is not necessarily the movie public.

They point out that careers of Errol Flynn, Robert Mitchum, Robert Walker and Ava Gardner did not appear to suffer because of their headlined doings. Rita Hayworth's return to the screen remains a question mark, but observers agree if the picture is good, it should make money. Likewise, a top producer told me if Ingrid Bergman had a good picture, a forgetful public would flock to it.

Charlie Chaplin's last film did poorly, but largely because of its muddled message and the lack of the old Chaplin character. And whatever censure was applied came because of Chaplin's political views, not his trials on Mann act and paternity charges.

Even if stars have escaped unscathed from scandals, this doesn't mean that Hollywood is doing nothing about preventing future headlines. It lacks the formal machinery, since the producers' association can only control film content, not individual morals.

But a great deal of pressure is applied on potential wrong-doers by studios, agents and friends. Many juicy stories do not happen, or at least don't get in the papers, because of quick action by responsible persons.

Minor personalities who become trouble-makers soon find themselves dropped from their contracts and unable to find jobs at any of the studios. They are passed up as bad risks.

The studios also have begun indoctrinating their young players on how to stay out of trouble. Paramount has coached the hopefuls of its golden circle along these lines, and Dore Schary does the same with MGM newcomers.

Hollywood has discovered that its responsible stars may be duller, but they're a lot less trouble.

IN ARMED SERVICE

Serving aboard the destroyer U. S. S. Porterfield in Korean waters is Otho C. Brewer, boatswain's mate, second class, USN, husband of Mrs. Otho C. Brewer of 1005 North Trenton St., Ruston, La.

A veteran of nine major engagements in the Pacific during World War II, the Porterfield was recommissioned from the Pacific reserve fleet last summer.

Since arriving in the far east, the Porterfield has worked as a member of fast carrier task force 77, and as a unit of the United Nations blockading and escort force.

With IX Corps in Korea — Cpl. Richmond O. Richardson of Monroe, La., is now serving with the 142nd quartermaster battalion, a part of IX corps, on the Korean central front.

The unit is responsible for supplying IX corps forces with such vital items as rations, clothing, oil and gasoline. In a single month the unit has supplied troops with as many as 4½ million rations, 1,100 tons of clothing and 9½ million gallons of oil and gasoline.

Corporal Richardson, a member of the 505th quartermaster reclamation and maintenance company, is a graduate of Richwoods High School.

R. O. T. C. Sponsors Are Given Awards

Ruston, Dec. 8.—(Special)—Necklace and earring sets were presented to the 12 sponsors of the R. O. T. C. unit at Louisiana Tech by Cadet Col. Jim Kurtz at the third annual military ball held in the dining hall.

Honor guest for the dance, which was sponsored by the Arnold Air Society, was Brig. Gen. T. B. Herndon of Baton Rouge.

Music was provided by the Debonnaires and after the intermission, Owen Thomas of Jonesboro gave an exhibition of acrobatic dancing.

Approximately 375 persons attended the ball and guests were present from Northeast Louisiana State College, East Texas State Teachers College, Texas A. and M., Northwestern State College, Louisiana State University and Fair Park High School.

Sicily Island Rotary Club Is Commended

Sicily Island, Dec. 8.—(Special)—The Sicily Island Rotary Club was highly commended by Rudolph Richard of DeQuincy, district governor, when he made a visit to the club this week.

Richard said the Sicily Island Club is one of the most active in the state and has accomplished more than any small club in his district.

He said he is now working on the charter for the recently organized Rotary in Harrisonburg, and expects to have it completed soon. Harrisonburg's club is the third Rotary to be established in Catahoula, but one of them, the Jonesville club, has been disbanded.

DOROTHY DIX

Misses Courting Days

Wife Deplores Mate's Lack Of Attention

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 21 years old and have been married almost two and a half years. I cannot seem to get used to the fact that my husband is not going to treat me the way he did when he was courting me. Our marriage would be a perfect one if we did not argue over this matter. He tells me that every man changes after he marries, but I don't think it is fair to give a girl such a big build-up, then marry her and take everything for granted. He is a good husband otherwise, considerate, doesn't drink or gamble, works hard. My only complaint is that he doesn't show his love for me as much as I think he should. Am I wrong in thinking he is unfair because he no longer shows me the same love and affection as he did when we were courting, or should I take it as part of married life and get used to it? MRS. L.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: Wouldn't life be horrible if you had to live on a steady diet of cream puffs and marshmallows? Well, a marriage made up of nothing more substantial than love and kisses twenty-four hours a day would get pretty monotonous, too.

Youngsters dream of eating nothing but sweets; a wife who dreams of nothing but the joys of courtship is putting herself in the same class. Marriage entails responsibilities—a fact overlooked by too many youthful brides. It is give and take—you expect only to take.

WHAT DO YOU CONTRIBUTE?

You have a fine husband who works hard to support you and give you a pleasant home. What are you doing to help him? Do you keep a nice home, cook attractive, nourishing meals? Are you learning any household art that will aid you in adding to your home? Or do you spend the day dreaming about the courtship days of two years ago and thinking up new reproaches with which to berate your poor husband when he comes home?

You are supposed to be grown up when you marry, and a grown-up woman—even one as young at 21—can think of lots of things to do besides romancing. Naturally you want your husband to love you, and he undoubtedly does. But you can't expect him to show it every minute of the day with flattery and petting. He is providing good support for you, and all he gets in return is nagging. Is that fair exchange? Your childhood is over, Mrs. L. Begin now to be a real helpmate and wife.

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think it is right for a wife to write love letters for her sister to her boy friend? My wife has been doing this for a good while and although her sister can't write too well, I think if she loves her boy friend she should write her own letters. I am very jealous of my wife and I don't think she should write these letters for her sister. The boy friend is in the Marines. BILL

ANSWER: Of course your sister-in-law should be writing her own letters. I'm sure if her boy friend knew of the deception he would be as annoyed as you are. There really is no great harm in your wife's helping her sister out, however. The sister is simply resorting to any means to make a good impression on her Marine. Not an uncommon feminine failing, either, I might add. You are more upset over the matter than its importance warrants. I'm sure if both ladies knew how perturbed you are, Sister would take over her own correspondence.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a wonderful wife and 15-month-old baby. Although my wife takes her to a baby doctor, she does not follow his directions, especially in the matter of feeding. The baby gets whatever we have, and not, in my opinion, enough vegetables. I come from another country where babies are fed regularly and given lots of fruit and vegetables. I'm afraid she will grow up nervous if she isn't properly fed now. A. N.

ANSWER: Your wife is making a big mistake if she doesn't follow her doctor's directions on the feeding of her child. With baby vegetables so readily available, there's no excuse for a baby to lack any of them.

To satisfy yourself as to the doctor's directions, why not go with your wife the next time she takes the child to the doctor. You can then ask any questions you wish and after the visit will probably feel much better about the whole situation.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I were married for fifteen years and have four lovely children. Three years ago he fell in love with another woman. I had to take the children and move out as he wanted the house. I lived with relatives and friends so I could work and support the children. I am 36 and my husband 45. Now I have met a man 37 who wants to marry me. However, since my husband found out about this man he will not give me my freedom; still he does not want me back and is still living with the woman who drove me from my home. What can I do to get my freedom? LISA

ANSWER: In your state, adultery and nonsupport are both ground for divorce. Since your husband is guilty on both counts, there is no reason why you can't get a divorce yourself. He doesn't have to agree to it. I advise you to seek legal aid in this matter—from a lawyer if you can afford one, from the Legal Aid Association if you can't.

In leaflet D-5, "Jealousy," Dorothy Dix analyzes this destructive emotion. To obtain a copy, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper, P. O. Box 98, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

HEY, MAMIE! LORD PLUSHBOTTOM WANTS TO SEE YOU. HE'S GOT A COMPLAINT!
WELL, TELL HIM I'M JEST A COOK, NOT A DOCTOR, DEARIE.
THAT WAS POSITIVELY THE WORST MEAL I EVER ATE.
ARE YOU GOOFY, LORD PLUSHBOTTOM? I AIN'T EVEN STARTED SUPPER YET.
NO-BUT LADY PLUSHBOTTOM DID.
WAS IT NECESSARY FOR YOU TO HANG OVER THE FENCE GOSSIPING FROM FIVE-THIRTY TILL SEVEN?
IT WAS!
THE NEIGHBOR LADY NEVER HAD TIME TO COME OVER HERE.
SUCH CRUST! THEY'RE GONNA DOCK MY WAGES $2.50 A MEAL FOR EVERY ONE I DON'T COOK.
HMM-I'LL SEE THAT THEY DON'T, PET. I'LL GET YOU A ALARM CLOCK.
I TOLD HIS LORDSHIP, SINCE YOU GOTTA HEAR TALKING ALL THE TIME, THEIR RADIO'D KEEP YOU IN THE KITCHEN BETTER'N A ALARM CLOCK.
GEE!
LOVER COME BACK TO ME
YOU'RE UP BRIGHT AND EARLY THIS MORNING, MY DEAR.
YEH- I BEEN UP ALL NIGHT LISTENIN' TO THAT RADIO.

The PHANTOM
By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY
I WONDER WHERE DEVIL IS? HE SHOULD BE BACK FROM HIS RUN BY NOW.
LOOK! IN THAT CAGE, THE PHANTOM'S DEVIL!
BUT DEVIL'S CAPTURE BY THE HIGHLAND PRINCE DOESN'T GO UNNOTICED IN THE JUNGLE!
THE PRINCE'S HUNTING PARTY LEAVES THE JUNGLE WITH ITS RARE SPECIMEN, GOING INTO THE MOUNTAINS TO THE PRINCE'S WALLED CITY.
RENNIE, DARLING! THEY TOLD ME- HOW OUR BOY WAS ALMOST KILLED BY A BOAR- WHEN HE FELL FROM THE ELEPHANT
HE HAD A NARROW ESCAPE, DEAR, BUT HE'S NOT EVEN SCRATCHED.
BUT, DEAR, THAT WOLF SAVED OUR SON FROM THE BOAR! HE DESERVES FREEDOM.
NONSENSE. IT'S JUST A WILD ANIMAL THAT LIKES TO FIGHT.
AND WHAT A FIGHTER! I CAN'T WAIT TO PIT HIM AGAINST A HUSKY MOUNTAIN BEAR.
WILSON McCOY 12-9
PUZZLED BY THE UNFAMILIAR BEAR SCENT, WORRIED BY THE BARS, DEVIL WONDERS "WHERE IS THE PHANTOM? WHY DOESN'T HE COME AND LET ME OUT?" CONTD.
